Democrats Show Some Sense Now, Says Will Rogers

(Special To The News)

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 13.—Say, did you notice who the Democrats grabbed off for stage manager?

They are finally getting some sense and quit trying to appeal to the poor people with poor people.

They figured, let us grab off some rich men and make our party look like somebody had something. There is nothing that impresses the "common folk" like somebody that ain't common.

This fellow took General Motors when it was nothing but a few bent axles and some old carburetors and put it on Wall Street and got away with it.

Now if he can combine all the loose nuts of the Democrats he is liable to repeat.

Yours for money in politics,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Someone got an unusual airplane view of New Castle on Thursday. Just as twilight shades were fading into night a plane droned over the city and when it landed out at he airport on the Wilmington road it was almost dark.

Hollyhocks seem to have developed early this year. There is a profusion of blooms to be noted in many gardens, and some of the stalks are already reaching record proportions. About time for the annual claim for the highest stalk.

New Castle enthusiasts for the municipal golf course are putting the project over with a bang. At the meeting last night there were reports of approximately $20,000 pledged for the proposition under the two years guarantor agreement.

Already the new members of the New Castle Motor club have started to sign up. And each one, says Bernard N. Hanlon, secretary-manager of the club means just one more stone in that memorial to David Jameson. Five thousand memberships is the goal which has been set and if the people of New Castle and Lawrence county show their appreciation to their biggest benefactor this total will be well over-subscribed.

Anent the two traveling men who took the make believe boat ride in one of The Castleton rooms the other day; they checked out Thursday evening after reading all about their exploits in the News.

And speaking of parks last summer a young landscape architect visited Pa Newc. In seeing the city he remarked that there were more places in New Castle for parks than any other city he knew of. And he also declared that to make these parks would be very inexpensive as nature had done most of the work beforehand.

Reports from Union township that several deer have been sighted in that locality of late indicates that Lawrence county is again being visited by some of these animals that have strayed away from the mountain regions. Last summer and the previous year reports came from many localities in the county of deer being sighted. Two years ago a bear got as far as Neshannock Falls and the upper edge of the city.

In a local restaurant the other day, Pa Newc heard one of the waitresses sing out, "One Vegetation Dinner."

C. F. Nichols of 319 Preston avenue, while doing some excavating recently on Wilmington avenue at Garfield avenue, came upon two copperhead snakes, which he killed. One was twenty inches in length, while the other was about three feet in length.

Many persons are watching their step today—it's once more Friday, the thirteenth. The present year has more than the usual allotment of these supposedly superstitious days. Today is much like the rest for the past six weeks, however, only it is raining a little harder and more consistently.

Ford Is Likely To Aid Hoover In His Campaign

Observers See Auto Manufacturer Taking Big Part In Campaign

HOOVER TO LEAVE FOR WEST SATURDAY

Secretary's Successor In Cabinet Likely To Be Appointed Soon

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 13. — A dramatic political war between two of America's outstanding motor kings may furnish an interesting sidelight to the coming presidential campaign.

Republican leaders it was learned today, have decided to urge Henry Ford, the multimillionaire auto Croesus, to take an active part in the campaign on behalf of Herbert Hoover's drive for the White House. This action was decided upon as one means of offsetting the enlistment of John J. Raskob, financial chairman of the gigantic General Motors Corporation, in the cause of Governor Alfred E. Smith, and his selection as the new Democratic national chairman.

Ford Endorses Hoover

Ford already has endorsed Hoover in a statement issued prior to the Kansas City Convention. At that time, the motor czar declared Hoover was the best equipped man for the White House, among all the Republican candidates. The Hoover leaders plan to get some further expres-

Peggy Hopkins Joyce To Take Sixth Husband

(International News Service)

PARIS, July 13—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, international beauty and noted for her many marriages is about to take a sixth husband. She admits it. Her new husband is to be the Earl of Northesk, whose wife, Jessica Brown, former Americain chorus girl, is suing him for divorce in Scotland.

Miss Joyce and the Earl are both at Deauville.

A dispatch from that place today quoted Miss Joyce as saying:

"David's (Lord Northesk's) proposal was the most romantic I ever had. We were dining alone. The lights were softly shaded. David sent a request to the orchestra to play 'When I Marry You.' They played. David leaned across to me and whispered, 'When Peggy?' I said 'yes,' we are very happy.

Peggy has set a new style in bathing costumes on the Deauville Beach resembling nursery rompers with a tight fitting green silk blouse.

TO FURNISH ROOM IN NEW HOSPITAL

Old-Timers Day Association To Devote Surplus Funds To This Purpose

Make Plans For Annual Outing At Cascade Park On August 15

Members of the Old Timers Association at a meeting held last night in the office of W. T. Butz, secretary and treasurer, voted unanimously that surplus funds now on hand or that may accumulate, be used in furnishing a room in the new Jameson Memorial Hospital. It is to be known as the Old Timers Association Room and be so designated by a proper plate on the door.

At the meeting, members of the executive committee were named and these in turn elected officers to serve the association for the ensuing year.

Members of the executive committee named are Harvey E. McGoun, Ralph M. Campbell, William T. Butz, J. Dick Long, Robert H. Whaley, Scott Paisley, Howard M. Morrison and Joseph Hannon. The officers named, all of whom were re-elected are: President Harvey E. McGoun; vice president, Ralph M. Campbell and secretary-treasurer, William T. Butz.

Report of the secretary-treasurer, showed a balance of more than $400 in the treasury. His report was accepted and placed on file.

Heavy Damage In Storm Wake

BOY IS DROWNED DURING DELUGE

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 13.—One person drowned, property damage estimated to exceed $100,000 and an economic loss of nearly a half million dollars was reported as Brooke county today took a toll of its flood stricken section, following Thursday's heavy cloudburst.

An unidentified negro boy was reported drowned in Buffalo creek when that stream was turned into a raging torrent by the cloud burst which swept the county yesterday. The boy's body has not been recovered.

The huge Beech Bottom power plant of the American Gas and Electric campany suffered heavily from the flooding of the plant.

Track Damaged

Foundations beneath the Pennsylvania railroad tracks were washed away for more than 400 yards completely demoralizing traffic. The Pittsburgh and Cleveland road on the Ohio side of the river was washed out, blocking traffic on that side.

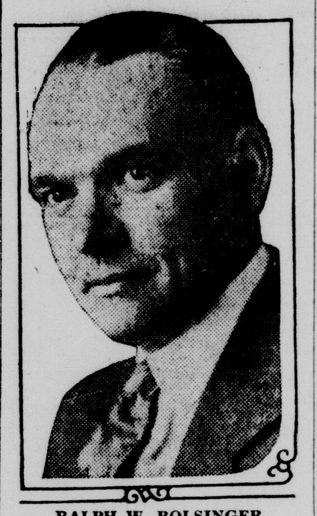
Motor Club To Meet Tonight

Bolsinger Announces Formal Start Of Membership Campaign In City

CAMPAIGN CLOSES FRIDAY, JULY 20



RALPH W. BOLSINGER.

To complete the organization of the present members of the New Castle Motor club and officially open the drive to boost the membership to 5,000 a meeting of the personnel of the club will take place at 8 o'clock this evening in the Crystal ball room of The Castleton, is the announcement made this morning by Ralph W. Bolsinger the general chairman of the campaign.

"Now time is the important thing" declares Mr. Bolsinger. "We must have the members and they must be signed up almost immediately. The drive you know closes Friday evening July 20, at a meeting which will be held in the city hall.

Drive Depends on Loyalty.

"The success of the drive will depend in a large measure, on the faithfulness of each individual motorist to the memory of David Jameson the founder of the New Castle club. Mr. Jameson was a great man, both locally and nationally. His name was synonomous with the development of motoring throughout the United States. He was one of the founders of the American Automobile

Black Friday For This Hen

(International News Service)

LACASTNER, Ohio, Friday, July 13.—Today is "Black Friday," for the little red hen that scratches in the barnyard of Charles George, farmer at Pleasantville, Fairfield county.

She became the foster mother of 13 snapping black turtles, after the 32 tedious days of "setting" of 18 eggs Georges placed under her protecting wings, nearly five weeks ago, after he found the embyro axphibia on a river bank.

Dean Will Case Is Continued Until Monday

Present Indications Are That Case Will Take Better Part Of Next Week

MORE TESTIMONY ON SIDE OF EXCEPTANTS

Two More Experts Say Handwriting Of Will Not Same As That Of "Standards"

At the conclusion of testimony in the contest over the will of the late Nellie M. Dean Thursday evening Judge Chambers announced that a recess would be taken until 9 o'clock Monday morning. Indications are that the case will consume the better part of next week. Testimony on the side of the contestants is not yet all in and the other side will have a large number of witnesses, including some hand writing experts.

Indications that some surprises are due in the will case of Nellie M. Dean, now being heard before Judge James A. Chambers were shown Thursday afternoon, July 12, upon cross-examination of some of the petitioners' witnesses.

One witness, Jean Madden, admitted that he had told Thomas Goodman, another witness and also a beneficiary under the terms of the will now under fire, that he "would be taken care of" if he would testify for the petitioners. This testimony was not fully developed upon cross-examination.

Letter Identified

Another witness for the petitioners, Lynn Dodson of New York, was told not to leave the city after he had identified a letter he had written some time ago. The witness had intended going back to New York City, but upon admitting the signature to the letter was his, he was told by Attorney Walter Braham to be here when the defense presents its case, probably early next week.

Bitter argument between counsel for both sides marked the session of Thursday afternoon. Attorney Robert K. Aiken, one of the counsel for Miss Jane Ligo, who was also the attorney for Mrs. Dean in her lifetime, was put back on the witness stand, as upon cross-examination by

City Solicitor Says Poor Farm Can Be Utilized

Declares Former City Farm Can Be Used For Projected Muny Golf Course

Councilman Davies today indicated that the city council is in a favorable mood toward the establishment of a municipal golf course at the plot of ground formerly known as the farm for indigents, along the Ellwood City highway.

He stated today that Solicitor White had informed him that the title to the ground, given by act of legislature, to the city is perfectly alright and the burden of proof that it is not would have to rest with persons opposed to the proposed course.

Mayor Gillespie Wants Strong Jail

Prisoners Have Escaped And Will Probly Flee Again He Declares

"Our jail is in a bad condition. Any desperate criminal could get out any time at all. They have escaped and will probably escape again."

That was the statement of Mayor William Gillespie to council in meeting at city hall today and which prefaced his request to council to "do something about the jail."

The present city calababoose was built about 15 years ago and since that time has on innumerable occasions proved by escapes that it cannot hold a smart or strong criminal.

Various ways of keeping the prisoners from escaping were discussed, one being that it should be surrounded with a heavy mesh wire through which a prisoner could not flit.

Two men arrested by Patrolmen Moore and Flinner escaped recently, hence the mayor's request to "do something about the city jail."

Seven Prisoners Are Electrocuted

Wholesale Executions Take Place In Kentucky Jail This Morning

FOUR WHITE MEN AND THREE NEGROES

(International News Service)

EDDYVILLE, Ky., July 13.—Seven men, four whites and three negroes, all convicted of murder, went to their death in the electric chair at the state penitentiary today.

The grim parade to the execution chamber began shortly after midnight. The white men were the first to go. They were followed by three negroes, the last being pronounced dead at 2:25 a. m.

The men, in order of their execution, were: Milford Lawson, 35, Corbin, Ky.; Orlando Seymour, 23, Louisville; Charles P. Mitra, 24, St. Louis, Minn.; Hascue Dockery, 21, Harland, Ky.; William Moore, 48, Louisville; James Howard, 26, Louisville; Clarence McQueen, 22, of Harrison county, Ky.

The doomed men, for the most part, went bravely to their death. They spent their last hours visiting with friends and sobbing relatives. Practically all of them accepted religious consolation.

The grim ordeal, setting a new record for the number of men executed in one day, was carried out in military fashion and without disorder. Save for the wailing of heartbroken mothers and sisters as they were led away from the prison, and later the sizzling crack of the electric chair, the

SHERIFF RETURNS FROM CONNEAUT

Knows Nothing Of Liquor Raid At Convention He Tells New's Man

The wettest thing Sheriff Buck Reynolds got out of the Pennsylvania Sheriff's convention, held at Conneaut Lake and Port Dover, Ontario, was a swim in Lake Erie. As to the liquor which Sheriff Tom Sterett so blatantly admitted was in the Conneaut hotel, Sheriff Reynolds knows nothing about it.

He wasn't there. When the raid took place and District Attorney Culbertson and County Detective Laley swooped down on the convention, confiscating ale and arresting a bell boy, Sheriff Reynolds was out taking a walk.

"Don't Know Them."

"I do not know the officers mentioned," said Sheriff Reynolds. "I had gone out for a little walk down on the lake side and when I returned I saw three men coming out of the hotel, with a perisoner. The man was, I suppose, the bell boy who is alleged to have furnished the liquor. As to what transpired in the room of the hotel where the raid was staged, I know nothing about it at all."

Along with the other sheriffs of the state, Sheriff Reynolds made the trip to Port Dover, Canada and says that the trip was a pleasant one. The people of Port Dover treated the sheriffs hospitably and the officers enjoyed themselves.

Sheriff Reynolds was elected to a post on the legislative committee of the organization.

Nearly $20,000 For Golf Course

Upwards Of 500 Already Guarantors For Muny Golf Project

COUNCIL TO GET PROJECT SHORTLY

Total of $19,440 has already been pledged to the proposed municipal golf course. Four hundred and eighty six people are already backing the idea.

Such was the report made at a meeting which took place Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. and which was attended by a number of enthusiasts for the course.

And now, before they present a petition to the city council, the workers are making a last minute clean up drive, in which their aim is to get 500 backers, and increase the pledged money to around $20,000.

Hundred More

James K. Love, chairman of the meeting, in addressing the gathering, expressed the belief that there are a hundred of more citizens of New Castle who have not yet been approached, and who are willing to go along with the idea.

Before the matter is presented to city council, it was agreed at the meeting, representatives of the municipal golf course idea will appear before the Rotary, Lions, Quota and Kiwanis clubs, as well as the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, to get the official endorsement of the project.

At first, it was thought that this would delay action, but later in the evening, Mr. Love pointed out that the Ice Breaker Picks Up Five Other Survivors Of Ill-Fated Italia's Crew

(International News Service)

Despite the magnitude of the Nobile tragedy in the Arctic, only one man was officially known to be dead today. He is Vincenzo Pomella, motor mechanic, who was crushed when the Italia met with disaster in a gale on May 25.

Latest wireless advices from the Russian ice cutter Krassin, according to a cablegram from Moscow, make the fate of Prof. Finn Malmgren uncertain. These radiograms quoted the two survivors, A. Mariano and F. Zappi, as saying that Malmgren had been left behind at Brock Island with a broken wrist and frozen leg.

Pick Up Five Others

In addition to rescuing Mariano and Zappi, the Krassin has picked up the refugees under Lieut. A. Viglilero from their "red tent" encampment on the ice. There were five in the group, including Natale Cecioni, who is badly wounded.

The Krassin reported sighting another group of refugees that it hopes to rescue immediately.

The 16 men carried away with the Italia's envelope on May 25, and the Order Thompson To Pay $215,477 Or Go To Prison

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 13.—Josiah V. Thompson, one-time millionaire coal operator, today was adjudged in contempt of court by Judge J. S. Dawson of Fayette county orphans' court and ordered to pay $215,477 to the John A. Nicholls estate by September 1 or go to jail to remain until he makes restitution.

Thompson and his brother, William, formerly were trustees of the Nichols estate. Nichols was the father of the Princess of Thurn and Taxis, beneficiaries, in whose behalf their mother brought action charging the Thompson brothers with misuse of the funds of the estate.

Judge Dawson held that Thompson would have to pay substantially more than the $200 he is reported to have paid in restitution so far or go to jail until he does.

William Thompson must pay $7,262.65 to the estate, while Josiah V. Thompson must pay the $215,477.

Judge Dawson held Josiah Thompson in contempt today for the latter's failure to make substantial payment or the amount to L. K. Porter of Pittsburgh, now trustee of the Nicholls estate.

No wonder its wet when it ought to be dry, and its April in looks when the score says July, no wonder the streets have a wet slimy sheen, its Friday my friends and its also thirteen. Its the day when the voodoos are out in a flock and the witches have all of their charms out of hock, when the hoodoos are working with plenty to do, oh sure its wet and its seventy-two. But it isn't much wonder with what the date shows, and wouldn't say much if it turns in and snows, for this is the day when the witches are out and the ladders and mirrors are sticking about. So watch what you do, and just where you are seen, its Friday my friends and its also thirteen.

MINOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS HERE

Reports Are Made Of Mishaps; No One Is Seriously Injured

A number of automobile accidents were reported to the police in the past twenty-four hours, none of which, however, was of a serious character.

Lysic M. Farrah of 1122½ Scioto street, reported that he was driving south on South Mill street and making a left hand turn onto Lutton street, when the car of Steve Daniels, 1602 Morris street, going north on Mill street, hit and damaged his machine. Daniels in his statement claimed that Farrah failed to signal his intention of making the turn.

Erminio B. Cassacchia, 529 Taylor street, reported that he was driving north on Shenango street at Grant street, when the car of E. O. Womer, R. D. No. 2, going east on Grant and making a right hand turn onto Sheanango street, hit and damaged his machine. Mr. Womer corroborated the statement of Mr. Cassacchia.

Joseph McCreary of 212 Locust street, driving the truck of the Kirk, Hutton Hardware company, east on the Gardner avenue viaduct and making a turn onto Moravia street, stopped before making the turn, then proceeded, not seeing any machines coming in either direction, when the car of John T. L. Williams going north on Moravia street, hit and damaged the truck. Mr. Williams claims that there was an O. C. Orr Baking company truck in front of the Kirk, Hutton Hardware company machine, which did not stop and just barely missed his machine because it did not observe the stop sign regulation and that the latter truck did not make the stop and struck his machine.

MOTOR CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

association, with which the New Castle Motor club is affiliated.

"For David Jameson the motorists of Lawrence county should join the club if for no other reason. In a large measure, he was responsible for the present system of roads which criss-cross the county. It was through the efforts of David Jameson that Lawrence county is third in Pennsylvania in the matter of good roads.

"Tonight the teams will be organized and captains appointed for each one. For each shop in the city there will be a separate team and aside from this there will be numbers of unattached workers.

"And Mr. Jameson has done much for New Castle directly. Up on Wilmington avenue they are building a memorial it is up to the motorists of the county to show that they do not forget; it is up to the motorists of the county to show that they are willing to enter into an organization which will be a living memorial to a man who is dead but whose deeds live after him.

"It will be a long time before the name of David Jameson is erased from the minds of the people of New Castle and Lawrence county. And if the motor club reaches 5,000 members it will be one of the finest memorials that New Castle could erect for the man, for the motor club was his hobby; it was his pet.

"Then taking it from the selfish angle the motorist who joins the New Castle club gets from it far more than his $10 out of it. At one and the same time he is joining 1,057 motor clubs throughout the United States and Canada. He is getting a free touring service, an emergency road service an thousand dollar insurance insurance policy and free legal advice. The motorist needs these services which are furnished by the club. There is one way to get them, and that is to join."

petition can be presented to council at their Monday or Tuesday session, and the endorsement of the service clubs and the Chamber of Commerce can be gotten at a later time.

In Hands of Committee

However, all action was left in the hands of a steering committee, appointed by W. J. Offutt, and consisting of M. D. Wells, Robert J. Tully, James K. Love, H. B. Richards and James M. Smith, Sr., who will do their best to get together and present the matter to council in the best possible way at the most opportune time.

A suggestion that tennis courts be incorporated with the golf course idea was made by H. R. Gravenstreeter and was received favorably by those present at the meeting.

The size of the proposed course is a debatable question, and at the suggestion of W. J. Offutt, the matter will be taken up with the city council.

All of the workers for the municipal golf course are expected to be at the meeting of council at which the petition will be presented. Through the press they will be notified of the date, time, and place of the meeting.

In adjourning the meeting, James K. Love, the chairman, spoke as follows: "I wish to offer my thanks and the thanks of Mr. Offutt to the workers for the municipal golf course. I have never seen anything go over so fast and so well. It shows a big demand for the course."

Guarantors Reported

Following is a list of workers and the number of guarantors each one signed up:

Gordon Klein	27
C. H. Van Fleet	8
Ellis Diefenderfer	14
E. J. Kinter	39
L. G. Rudesill	32
E. C. Wilson	14
Paul Butz	20
H. R. Gravenstreeter	71
James M. Smith, Sr.	66
H. B. Richards	49
R. E. Long	60
Robert J. Tully	68
J. B. Offutt	6
L. M. Shields	12
Total	486

Today new lists are being made up at the Chamber of Commerce. They will be available to anyone who wishes to become a guarantor. It will be remembered that each guarantor pledges to the municipal golf course $20 a year for two years. After that, the backers of the project believe, the course will be entirely self supporting. In many instances, it is pointed out, municipal golf courses also pay for tennis courts and other forms of recreation which may be provided.

Attorney C. H. Akens, representing the petitioners.

Mr. Aiken was put on the stand when the defense attorneys objected to a line of examination being conducted when Mrs. Ida Dodson was testifying, the purpose of her testimony apparently being to contradict that of Attorney Aiken concerning some statements he is alleged to have made on January 19. Mr. Aiken took the stand and he was asked if he had said that Mrs. Dean had made no will and had later read what he had said "purported to be the will of Nellie M. Dean". He denied this and Attorney Akens insinuated that his statements were not in line with previous statements. At this Attorney Walter Braham took up the cudgels for his colleague and was able to keep out of evidence certain statements of Mrs. Dodson which might have appeared contradictory. She took the stand and admitted that she had been estranged from her sister, the late Mrs. Dean, for the past 28 years. She said that Mr. Aiken had said that there was no will for the real estate and that the heirs would have to come to some understanding as to how it would be divided.

Other Experts

Two more handwriting experts were placed on the stand Thursday afternoon by the petitioners, the two being M. A. Nernberg of Pittsburgh and H. G. Burtne of Pittsburgh. Both of them testified that in their opinion the handwriting in the will probated as that of Mrs. Dean's was not the same as that of the various "standards" which had been set up in the case.

Thomas Goodman was recalled and testified as to certain dates when Mrs. Dean called at the gasoline station.

Miss Katherine Klee was called and testified that she had been a private secretary for the late J. J. Dean and had also assisted his widow, Nellie M. Dean, in clearing up certain details of the estate following the death of Mr. Dean.

Upon cross-examination by Attorney Robert K. Aiken Miss Klee and the attorney engaged in a rather warm debate over some misunderstanding that had arisen in the settling of the estate. Miss Klee testified that Mrs. Dean had always been meticulous in her attire, in her housekeeping and in her writing, and that in her opinion the signature to the will now under fire was not that of Mrs. Dean.

The petitioners will probably take today and tomorrow to finish their case, after which the defense will present its side, and this will probably take the better part of next week.

New Castle, Pa., July 13, 1928.
Editor of The News:

In your report of the Dean will case as of July 12th you gave the following as part of my cross-examination:

"Mr. Aiken also managed to bring into the testimony the fact that Mr. Moorhead had expected the stock of the company to be given to the employees, that he had experienced a certain amount of disappointment and might have expressed the same, and finally that he had had some part in the movement to discredit the signature on the will, which was probated and which is the cause of the present case."

This is in error and misleading. I did not say I had expected the stock of the company to be given to the employees. This would be a foolish statement, as a majority of the stock is now owned by the employees. What I did say was that Mrs. Dean had told me she was going to do what Mr. Dean had said he was going to do and did not do, and that some arrangement would be made to take care of the people at the store.

On the stand I made the statement that "I deplored having to appear in the case, but that after learning that it would be impossible to avoid an appearance as a witness, I had made such investigation as would fortify me in presenting what I believed to be the absolute truth." I had no part in creating or fomenting any movement to contest the will and appeared as a witness only after having been served with a proper subpoena.

(Signed), B. F. MOORHEAD.

Nick Silk Wins Race At Warren

Armless Driver Handles Reins And Homer McKinley Wins

Nick Silk, owned by Vance and McGeorge and driven by Shaw took the 2:20 trot in 2:13 1-4 in the Coal, Oil and Iron circuit at Warren, Ohio, yesterday. There were four races, a fast field in every event and a large crowd.

The 2:30 pace was won by Homer McKinney. G. Turner, an armless driver, drove the horse as a feature of the meet.

The 2:15 pace went to Doctor Scott in 2:10 1-4. Doctor Scott was driven by Heilman.

Forest Watts took the 2:24 trot in 2:15 1-2 with G. Biehl handling the ribbons.

There were some grand circuit horses in the fields.

Today many of the horses were trucked through New Castle from Warren to Butler for the race meet next Friday and Saturday.

condemned went to their death in oppressive silence. Three of the men killed for love, two for gain and two for revenge.

Although substantial hopes that any of the doomed men would be reprieved or granted a stay were dissipated when the governor refused to intervene, several pathetic battles were staged yesterday and last night by lawyers and friends of two of the men.

The last thin hope for Orlando Seymour vanished shortly before midnight when County Judge A. K. Boughter refused to entertain a petition alleging that Seymour was insane, the judge ruling that he had no jurisdiction.

Another desperate last-minute fight was made in behalf of Charles Mitra, 23-year-old Italian, who, attorneys claimed, would be needed as a witness if the court of appeals reversed the death sentence of Carl Hord, convicted of the same crime.

Lawson, the first to go, had maintained his innocence throughout but early resigned himself to his fate. He said he had forgiven everyone and sent a note of thanks to the governor for kindness shown his mother.

Sever Storm at Washington

Washington, Pa., July 13.—Washington is today recovering from one of the most severe electrical storms it has experienced this year.

Heavy rain sweeping this region accompanied by flashes of lightning did considerable damage. The residence of Rocco Proia was set on fire near the roof. The Washington fire department extinguished the flames before the house was badly damaged.

Other houses in the district were also fired by the electricity.

Lightning struck a high tension line of the West Penn Power company causing electricity to be carried into many homes. Several wires in the vicinity were broken resulting in an electrical display.

Wires of the telegraph, telephone and electrical companies were reported to be badly damaged.

Teachers Overrun Schools Of City

Philadelphia Has No Vacancies For 975 Teachers, Says School Head

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—There are entirely too many teachers available for positions in Philadelphia schools, Superintendent Edwin G. Broome has announced. He advises prospective teachers to attempt to find some other vocation that appeals to them instead of the teaching profession.

There are at present no positions open for 975 teachers on the city's elementary school list, Broome said. There will be no vacancies for these teachers this year as the list of substitute instructors will be more than taken care of for probably more than a year.

REVEALS ENGAGEMENT AT EVENING PARTY

Miss Minette Edelstein entertained in her home on Wallace avenue Thursday evening to announce her engagement to Mendel N. Fisher of Boston, Mass.

The guests were members of New Castle section Council of Jewish Juniors, and short talks were given during the evening by Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, president of the senior council; Mrs. E. Roman, junior-senior advisor, and Miss Pearl Ewens.

Later bridge was enjoyed with eight tables being in play. Prizes for high scores were won by Miss Jeanette Rabinovitz, Miss Freda Rosenblum and Miss Violet Marlin.

Out of town guests were Mrs. L. Cohn of New York, Mrs. J. Jacobs of Canton, O., and Miss Pearl Ewens of Los Angeles, Cal.

Refreshments were served later in the dining room and attached to the shoulder corsages which were used as favors was found the announcement "Minette and Mendel, August."

Aides in serving were Mrs. Jack Lebby, Mrs. S. Freeman, Mrs. S. Edelstein and Mrs. P. Broida.

Miss Edelstein is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Edelstein. She is a graduate of the local high school, Slippery Rock State Teachers college and Geneva college and for the past two years has been an instructor at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. Miss Edelstein is president of the Council of Jewish Juniors.

Mr. Fisher is a journalist, is a graduate of Harvard university and attended the University of California and Boston university law school.

Returns From Detroit.

Miss Gertrude M. Fulkerson of Smithfield street has returned from Detroit, Mich., where she has been the guest of Mrs. William D. Mears, a former resident of this city. While in Detroit, Miss Fulkerson made an air flight over Detroit and Windsor, Canada, in a Ford Stout tri-motored all metal monoplane, the latest type of commercial aircraft from Ford airport. She also attended the air Olympics July 4, seeing the take-off of the entries in the international balloon race.

T. T. Club

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart and son Bobby were special guests when Mrs. E. C. Burdge, North Cedar street, was hostess to the T. T. Club members in her home, Thursday evening. Mrs. Harry Michaels and Mrs. Olive Lutton were the prize winners.

Mrs. Stewart assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

August 2, the members will have a picnic dinner at the Park at 6:30 o'clock.

FIRST U. P. CHURCH PICNIC AT LAKEWOOD

Members of the Sabbath School and congregation of the First United Presbyterian church of this city rounded out another successful picnic at Lakewood beach on Thursday afternoon and evening, with approximately one hundred persons in attendance.

During the afternoon hours the various amusements of the beach were enjoyed, including bathing, boating and different games. At 6:30 p. m. a delicious dinner was served to the members, with Mrs. Harvey Robinson in charge. Assisting her were Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. William Smith. In the evening most of the younger folks enjoyed a second swim, while the men participated in horseshoes and other forms of recreation.

George P. Smith was general chairman of the outing, and for assistants in the games he had Mrs. Scott McCaslin, Mrs. John Dicks and Miss Harriet Ewing.

ENTERTAIN EMPLOYES AT BANQUET, THURSDAY

F. J. Connor of the Penn State Auto Service Company, and wife entertained the employes at a banquet Thursday evening at the Whispering Pines Tea Room. An elaborate menu was served at 8 o'clock, and covers were arranged for 14, at tables decorated with cut flowers.

Pink roses and blue delphinium were used in decoration and color tones of pink and white were carried out in the dainty refreshments. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Florence Davis.

Special guests were Mrs. Wayne Koppes of Cleveland, O., and Miss Ruth Zerner.

Friendship Club

Fifteen members of the Friendship Club had a picnic dinner at Cascade Park, Thursday evening. Following the dinner the evening was spent with Park amusements.

The regular meeting will be July 18.

WEINSCHENK-COBAU WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

One of the prettiest of summer weddings was solemnized in the Savannah church, Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Sara Weinschenk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk of Savannah Gardens, became the bride of William D. Cobau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb D. McGoun, Lincoln avenue. Rev. Claude Downs officiated with the ring ceremony, in the presence of 200 guests.

Palms, roses and delphinium were used in decoration together with tall tapers.

Miss Margaret Tubbs, of Bryon, O., played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white satin made with tight bodice and bouffant skirt, and her veil of white tulle was made with cap of lace caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal shower of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Margaret Weinschenk, sister of the bride as maid of honor, wore a gown of pale pink chiffon made with uneven hemline, and carried yellow roses and delphinium.

The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Weinschenk, another sister of the bride, wore orchid chiffon with tight bodice and tulle skirt, and Mrs. Ralph Cooper wore a yellow gown of similar style. They carried arm bouquets of yellow roses, orchid canterbury bells and sweet peas.

Wilbur Whitney, of Conneaut, O., served as best man, and the ushers were Louis C. Mather, Dr. Paul Wilson, Joseph Weinschenk, brother of the bride, and Lauren Thayer.

A reception at the brides home for 60 guests supplemented the ceremony. Profusions of garden flowers were used attractively in decoration.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Thomas Clark and Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Ellwood City: Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Whitney of Conneaut, O.; Mrs. Katherine Reed, Miss Helen Reed, Miss Sarah Bowman and Ernest Roselle of Sharon, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Van Voorhis and Byron Stevenson of Beaver, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bohren and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Blackmore of Pittsburgh; William S. Machin of Weeling, W. Va.; Miss Margaret Tubbs of Bryan, O., and Miss Claire Allen of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Mr. Bobau is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Law School in the class of 1928.

Furniture Club Selects Member In This City

Today the purchase of $5,000 worth of furniture by the W. F. Dufford & Co. of this city, marked the opening in New Castle of a new epoch in the furnishing industry. From now on homes of New Castle will have at their service through the W. F. Dufford & Co. store, the purchasing power of a nation-wide combine of 2,000 furniture dealers, of which the W. F. Dufford & Co. store is a member.

This is the largest furniture order placed at one time, in the history of the home furnishing business in this city. It includes the purchase of living-room, dining-room, bedroom, and kitchen furniture, mirrors and occasional chairs.

From the standpoint of the citizens of New Castle it means that unusual values in beautiful furniture will be available through this co-operative combine of the buying power of 2,000 dealers throughout the country plus the huge production power of the largest furniture manufacturer in the world, the Showers Brothers Company of Bloomington, Indiana. Eleven complete furniture factories with all of the most modern machinery and equipment and skilled craftsmen, have been coordinated in the production of this beautiful furniture to fill the requirements of the nation-wide chain of 2,000 dealers.

A new era in style, design, finishes, construction and values marks this as a step of progress on the part of W. F. Dufford & Co. —a stroke of keen business acumen which is indeed typical of the progressive operation and growth of the W. F. Dufford & Co. This firm has been one of the outstanding concerns in this city for the past 45 years. And the good-will that it has been so fortunate to build up by the outstanding policy of integrity in all dealings with the public, will be further enhanced with this new value service that can be offered through the increased purchasing power.

U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM ENROUTE

WITH 250 American athletes and a retinue of coaches, trainers, officials and chaperons, the President Roosevelt, left New York and is now enroute for the Olympic carnival in Holland.

Revived in 1896, after a lapse of 1500 years, the modern series is now embarking on its ninth programme, the mid-Olympiad programme of 1906 offsetting the loss in 1916, when the games were omitted on account of the war.

The United States has won the field and track contests on every occasion with a fair chance of repeating this year. Some dissention has been manifest on the administrative side over the elimination of this or that prospect or over the inclusion of somebody else despite formal protest. The management, therefore, fails to rival in efficiency the sense of balance and team work which the athletes more happily display.

Probably the rift is not serious; it is part of the "politics" in which Americans regularly indulge with respect to practically everything that engages their attention. The "stove league" annually devotes its winter sessions to dissecting the baseball championship. Football is a game that colleges play for two months in the fall and discuss the rest of the year, often with recriminations and demand for resignations and rule changes. The Olympics offer a better chance to the critics, because they occur only once in four years. The long interval permits debaters to delay adjournment.

As far back as November, 1926, the secession of certain organizations from the American Olympic Association was forecast when the Amateur Athletic Union triumphed in the dispute over jurisdiction. The withdrawal occurred the following February. In November, 1927, Baltimore and Boston were at odds over the proper place for holding the Olympic trials for the marathon.

But these squabbles belong largely to diplomacy. They seldom affect the success of the athletes. One is reminded of the professional politicians in Washington whose chief aim seems to be to wreck harmony. They keep at it four years. But when the real contestants get into action, victory rests with the performers, not with the crabbers.

FARM LIFE IS DIFFERENT

THE farmer knows that life in the country has not always been the idyllic existence country-hungry city folks have pictured it. Only the "new farmer" can not remember the struggle against nature and the days of sun-up to sun-down toil once the lot of the men and women on the farm. The modern farm is as unlike its antecedents as the modern factory is unlike its prototype and as the modern city home is unlike the home of two decades ago.

On the farm today are found the automobile, tractor, telephone, electric lights and power, milking machines, harvesting and planting machinery performing several operations simultaneously, the radio, the household comforts and conveniences of the city home and even leisure and recreation. The prodigal son wouldn't know the old farm if he returned today after an absence of two decades.

True it is that some farmers still employe primitive methods of agriculture and refuse or are unable to emancipate themselves from their slavery to the soil by adopting labor-saving devices.

The time is not long past when "newfangled notions" were exceedingly distrusted on the farm. The "old way" was good enough for the fathers and what was good enough for the fathers was good enough for the sons when they succeeded to the management of the farm. It was not vanity nor obstinacy which caused good farmers to scoff at scientific methods in those days. The best of farmers sincerely believed they could get out of the soil only what the soil yielded of its own volition.

The change on the farm has been nothing short of revolutionary and the revolutionists have been the men and women who for generations had stubbornly resisted change and impeded progress.

DEATHS FROM THE HEAT

A WAVE of extremely hot weather is always credited, or charged, with many deaths. It is responsible for some, no doubt, but people give it a great deal of assistance in killing them.

Physical resistance is at a lower ebb when the mercury stands at 95 than when it stands at 75. The thoughtful person who does not wish to be killed by the heat takes account of that fact and prepares to defend himself.

Everybody by this time ought to know the simple rules for taking care of himself in hot weather. Most people do know them but many neglect to practice them and some of these die untimely and unnecessary deaths. The rules may be summed up as follows: Be temperate in all things and take it easy. Eat sparingly, drink sparingly of everything except water, wear light clothing, avoid needless exposure to the sun, don't get excited about politics, don't overwork (we like that one especially).

Use a little common sense and you are almost certain to pull through, even if you feel at times that you don't care much whether you do or not.

A hustler has no time for bad luck.

The best nation in the world is explanation.

When the mercury soars a lot of us get sore.

Even the weather reports at times are nothing but hot air.

Early success sw[illegible] the head. Later on it affects only the midriff circumference

TUFT HUNTING
By P. J. Kiernan

When knighthood flourished and cast-iron vests were the prevailing mode, the "somebodies" of the day wore tufts in their helmets to distinguish them from the "nobodies". And in those times, as at present, there were always legions of sycophants who were eager to be seen in the company of celebrities and who would, upon arriving at a social function, seek out and cluster around the tufts, often to the great dismay of the wearers.

The tufts have disappeared and the full dress suits made of cold-rolled steel have been replaced by evening male attire that is just a little less irksome, but the age old custom of tuft-hunting is just as popular now as ever.

Anyone who occupies a place in the public eye is fair game to the tuft-hunters. Of course, some of the hunters are a trifle more fastidious than others. For instance, the lowest type fails to differentiate between the famous and the notorious. Of that class there are those who will travel far and suffer great discomfort to get a glimpse at a murderer, a concubine or anyone at all whose career has had wide publicity. Then there is the type who will risk life and limb in a mob in order to shake the hand of a pugilist. Another type will stand all day in the rain but for nothing less than royalty. And so on up the scale until we reach the most interesting tuft-hunter of all—the one whose guiding maxim is "it isn't what you know, but who you know". He hunts with a purpose. The handshake or autograph means little or nothing to him. He must fawn his way into the good graces of the "tuft" in order to capitalize the connection later. He will endure insult, slur and snub in order to be permitted the more or less intimate society of a celebrity.

To be followed about and perpetually annoyed by a mob of these petty people is one of the prices of fame. Many a man who has done something worth while has wished the deed undone so that he might be rid of the frantic hordes who harass him wherever he goes. If the tuft-hunters could but know the profound contempt which they inspire on the part of their helpless victim, their numbers would speedily dwindle and it would no longer be necessary for any well-known individual to carry a bodyguard with him to avoid being mauled to death by those who love him too much for his own good.

The reason some people have so much trouble is because they have flivver incomes and truck manners.

Prohibition has added to the woes of the dry cleaners of this country. It seems that the tanic acid used in soft drinks will not remove easily when slobbered on a silk dress or vest and this is the cause of the extra work of the cleaners. And by the way, there is far more dry cleaning now than ever because so many drinks are licked up. In the old days those who wore the beer splashed vests did not have 'em dry cleaned.

For a small potato patch we have there are a scandalous amount of ravenous bugs. Potato patches are so few in the city that no doubt all the bugs in town congregate at our patch.

THE BLUES
By Franklyn Blanning.

You've got the blues?
Choose your blues—
There are blues and blues!

There is the blue of summer skies;
There is the blue of shining eyes;
There is the blue of summer seas—
You can't be sad with any of these.

There is the blue of the violet,
And of the fragrant mignonette.
You really should not choose just yet.

There a radiant blue-bird sings
As he soars with out-stretched wings!
Yes, that is the blue of happiness true,
And you'll do well to choose it, too!

Choose your blues—
There are blues and blues!
Happiness blues!

It is said that more than 500 men and women, well known and wealthy, disappear each year in Paris and are never heard of again. Well if it's the right ones why worry about it?

Ten-day divorces are causing an uproar in Paris. Well, that same condition would cause a lot of talk right here in America also. Funny thing about these quick divorce courts in Paris, they are mostly patronized by Americans, male and female.

A young man was shot by his wife while he was lying in his bed in his home in Gettysburg, Pa. It seems to us that the most cowardly way for a lady to shoot her husband would be while he was in bed. The lady says she was driven by jealousy. Omigosh!

Probably the poorest treatment for a drowning person is a glass of water thrown in his face.

Because of the dissatisfaction of both political candidates for President, a move is on foot to make an organization composed of farmers, prohibitionists and labor parties. It is thought a strong third party could be organized of those three groups. It would be wonderful if a party could be organized with these three—it would be a miracle.

My idea of an upright man is one who is being hanged.

Enter Mr. Raskob.
Real Air Service.
A Gentle Police Dog.
A Wicked Partner.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

The Democrats are wise in choosing John J. Raskob for national chairman, fortunate in his acceptance.

Mr. Raskob, chief of General Motors' finance department, understands organization and, important in a national campaign, he understands money.

Mr. Raskob's selection will be misunderstood by some. They will ask whether big business, usually on the Republican side, is with the Democrats this time.

No such question is involved. Mr. Raskob, a Democrat, and an intimate personal friend of Gov. Smith, the Democratic candidate, accepts the national chairmanship as Gov. Smith's friend. That's all.

Thanks to the postoffice, this country is developing a genuine flying service.

At this moment American air service is established from the Isthmus of Panama to Montreal, as it has long been from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Postmaster General New has let contracts for carrying mail by air from New York City via Albany to Montreal and from Key West, Fla., to the Panama Canal Zone.

Our air service southbound is 1,640 miles long.

Later the southern route will be extended to Guatemala, Salvador and farther south.

Postmaster General New, President Coolidge and particularly our air development are to be congratulated.

A police dog "very gentle with children" suddenly changed its mind and savagely bit two little girls skipping rope. The dog will be examined for rabies.

Every police dog is about 50 per cent as dangerous as a wolf. If owners, instead of being allowed the law "immunity for the first bite," were put in jail for six months as soon as a dog bit anybody, there would be few police dogs wandering around.

In Senator Reed, of Missouri, Gov. Smith will have the well-known "wicked partner."

The Governor will be mild and gentle, cousin of "Alphone and Gaston," in his political campaign. The wicked partner Reed will lash out and smash out, and do it thoroughly.

Perhaps Herbert Hoover will find himself wth a few wicked partners before the campaign is over, some even more wicked than he would like them.

Trout raise their fins to bless President Coolidge, whose doctor investigated sickness of the trout near the Coolidge lodge.

The little trout were too weak to eat, the big ones had swollen necks. Col. Coupal, able physician, put three drops of iodine in the little fishes' tank, five drops in the big trout tank. Immediately the little fishes dashed at their food, and big trout necks stopped swelling.

The trout had goitre, an indication of insufficient iodine.

One day in New York state, putting iodine in its drinking water supply, diminished its many cases of goitre by 80 per cent. This annoys those that don't like medicine, but it diminishes goitre.

In a few days Herbert Hoover who never ran for office before, will be talking with President Calvin Coolidge, who has run for office 20 times—without being beaten.

Mr. Hover ought to get excellent advice from Mr. Coolidge on "how to win."

Chicago's Federal Reserve raised the discount rate to discourage fellows that gamble on margin. Call money went to 7 per cent. The little fellows decided that the big men meant business and Wall Street had an unpleasant day, what with a national campaign and so on.

But this is another day. You can never tell what will happen. To discourage a 1928 stock speculator seems to be like trying to keep a squirrel on the ground.

GOLFERS IN HEAVEN

Now when a golfer dies and waits
Outside St. Peter's pearly gates;
Before his spirit they admit,
The saints should question him a bit.
For Heaven will be a place of sin
If certain golfing types get in.

They need not ask what scores he made
When on this good old earth he played.
For dubs sometimes have finer souls
Than sharks who birdie five-par holes.
Though skill wins cups, too oft we find
Skill has no time for being kind.

"A golfer, eh? Did you replace
The turf and smooth the bunker's face?
Did you pass faster players through
Or make them stand and wait for you?
How with the caddie you employed,
Think you your company he enjoyed?

"Were you a friend to golf, or foe?
Care to the course did you bestow?
Love for the game did you display,
Or did you go your selfish way
And spoil for all who came behind
The pleasure they'd a right to find?

"Were you a bickerer on the tee?
Loved you so much the victory
That rules and friendship mattered not?
If so go down where it is hot.
These pearly gates you can't pass through.
The angels would not stand for you."

THE SLOW MINDED

If you feel that you have a "slow" mind, don't worry about it. Pretty good company exists in that class.

Pierre Curie, the famous discoverer of radium, which is one of the great achievements of the generation in which he lived, used to say to his wife and co-worker, Marie, that he always felt that he possessed a "slow" mind.

Charles P. Steinmetz, the electrician, who was called a "wizard" because of his genius in mathematical work, said he hated the multiplication table when he was a boy in school because it took him such an extraordinary length of time to master it.

It is a familiar tale that Edison's teacher wondered if he were really bright, and that Grant's mother almost concurred in the acceptance of the popular nickname of her son of "Useless Grant".

Thackeray, the English novelist, once said that he often felt that he "had no head above the ears."

"And Moses said unto the Lord . . . 'I am slow of speech and of a slow tongue.' "

Yet all of these men achieved superlative things.

There are other qualities in character more valuable than nimbleness of wit and the faculty of making immediate decisions.

The mental hares hop about conscious of their sprinting superiority.

Over a short course they have things their own way. But the course of Life is a long one.

An immediate viewpoint gives all advantage to the nimble mind, a long time bird's-eye view reveals the power for perseverance which lies in minds which are thought to be "slow".

"Thou sayest," wrote Marcus Aurelius in his "Meditations", "Men cannot admire the sharpness of thy wits . . . Be it so. Show these qualities then, which are altogether in thy power—sincerity, gravity, benevolence, frankness, endurance in labor."

The main thing is to acquire the habit of thinking things through.

Do not be satisfied with what some one else has said. See a thing clearly in your own mind.

A man who accustoms himself to relying upon his own mental processes has accomplished a great deal.

He has the kind of independence that men need, independence of intellect. He is not so apt to give way in great crises as the man who forms quick conclusions, but forms them upon the ipse dixit of other people. Don't be alarmed therefore if you feel that you are slow. The main thing is to be thorough and honest.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE CORN BELT FARMER.

Containing less than 8 per cent of the land area of the United States, the American Corn Belt produces two-thirds of America's leading field crop, over 50 per cent of the oats, and 25 per cent of the wheat and hay. It contains two-thirds of the swine, and one-fourth of the beef cattle. In all likelihood, it is the richest and best farmed area of the temperate zone.

If the current position of the farmers of this fruitful region leaves much to be desired—finds them facing questions of fundamental import—a brief survey of the situation there should provide a helpful approach to any broad critical study of the general agricultural problem.

Like other districts the Corn Belt had its post-war boom and later collapse. Estimated at $18,000,000,000 in 1910, the value of the farm lands and buildings was reported at $34,000,000,000 in 1920— and in 1925 had fallen to $23,000,000,000 with a sharp increase meanwhile in the percentage of mortgage debt, and numerous bankruptcies and failures.

True, all American business was going through a similar experience. But moct manufacturing and commercial lines have enjoyed unprecedented and almost unituerrupted prosperity since 1924, while in the Corn Belt the decline in land values continued into 1927. The improvement there this spring is not great and may well be chiefly the result of a courageous facing of the future.

To the extent that these farmers produce for the protected domestic market, their position, other things being equal, is as good as that of those engaged in other industries. But with regard to lard, unfortunately, and other pork products, and wheat, the prices received are made on the international market at a level far below the internal price level of this country.

Whether they are selling abroad or at home, the costs of the Corn Belt farmers are the same, and these costs are far higher than they were before the World War. Freight rates and taxes are examples. The soil is growing older; and the imminence of the corn borer has the aspect of catastrophe.

It is true that the agriculture of the Corn Belt was built originally on an export basis and that its farmers were in a fairly satisfactory position at the outbreak of the World War. But they had been exploiting the best

KINDLINESS

Says Bertrand Russell, one of the most thoughtful of living men: "And so we come to the old dilemma: only kindliness can save the world, and even if we knew how to produce kindliness we should not do so unless we were already kindly. Science has not given men more self control, more kindliness, or more power of discounting their passions in deciding upon a course of action."

The fact remains that despite the astonishing findings of scholarship and science, despite our amazing industrial progress, despite the complexities of what is probably the most remarkable civilization that ever occupied the earth, we are not made better men and women by all this. We can not produce gentleness and affection my [illegible]inery.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

HOLE IN ONE

Paul Bloodsworth made a hole in one at Edgemont, New Jersey and dropped dead from the excitement caused by the feat. He was only twenty-eight years old, a university graduate, and left a widow and an infant daughter.

Now, I haven't the faintest idea what a hole in one is. It is some sort of a miracle, I judge, that is sometimes performed by golfers. Since I am ignorant of golf, I cannot properly judge how wonderful a feat it is.

But I feel quite sure that it is nothing to drop dead about. In other words, it is nothing to become unduly excited about, for great excitement sometimes causes death. I think that a saner and calmer sense of values would prolong many lives that now are sacrificed to undue excitement.

What is there about a hole in one that should cause any sane person of mature years to become excited? Granted that it is a miraculous play, still it is only part of a game. No millions of lives depend upon a hole in one. The well-being of nobody's grandmother is at stake when a hole in one is being constructed or accomplished or evolved, or whatever it is that one does with a hole in one.

We are all too apt to become excited or emotionally disturbed about trifles. Now, if an Indian chief in feathers and war-paint were dragging your wife and baby by the hair, and making as if to scalp them with his hatchet, there would be some excuse for excitement. In those circumstances one might be forgiven for crying out in a loud voice, swearing, weeping, or pursuing the chief so fast that one might fall down dead.

Even then, however, a fairly calm attitude of mind and a deliberate slowing down of thought processes and a blanketing of the emotional forces would be in order. Your actions would be more likely to be effective if you could compel yourself to act deliberately and without influence of fear or passion. Perhaps the wisest plan to pursue would be to enter the house and come out again with a rifle, aim the weapon carefully, taking plenty of time, and pull the trigger gently. That would be effective. Chasing after the savage and shouting curses at him probably would only increase your difficulties.

Do not, I beg of you, become as excited about the coming elections as Mr. Bloodsworth became about a hole in one. They are not so important as all that. Worry and fear and excitement kill. And so few things in this world are worth very much worry, excitement or fear!

virgin land in the best corn climate of the world, and this gave them an advantage so great that they could bear high costs and still exploit at a profit. Furthermore, heavy immigration held wages down and rapidly extended evidences that the Corn Belt was beginning to lose its advantage. Wheat exports were falling off, and the United States ceased to be an exporter of beef. Exports of lard were scarcely being maintained while those of other pork products were also showing a sharply declining trend. War demand, however, and post-war inflation of prices brought this drift toward a domestic basis to a sudden stop.

After ytars of high output, the adjustment was resumed. The Corn Belt is facing, in addition to its old difficulties, the various factors making for higher costs, and others tending to limit the domestic demand for its products.

The automobile and tractor alone, according to the Secretary of Agriculture, have cut off a demand for animal feed crops that it formerly took more than 15,000,000 acres to supply. Restrictions of immigration and the substitution of mechanical power for human muscle in industry have slowed down the increase in the consumption of both bread and wheat in the United States. The availability of a wide range of fruits and vegetables, both fresh and canned, and the spread of dietary science, have had influence in the same direction.

As for the international market, there seems litle ground for faith that the Corn Belt exports can be maintained with profit at current levels, and no basis whatever for hoping they can be profitably expanded to their recent large volume. What is produced in this area under conditions intrinsically expensive. Argentina and South Africa, among others, are expanding their crops of corn at a fairly rapid rate.

The important competition, however, is from peasant agriculture in Europe and from vegetable oils. European output of pork products has recovered to its pre-war status. Exports of the leading vegetable oils from the countries of production are now about one-third higher than at the outbreak of the World War.

An important part of the total output of vegetable oils comes from the Tropics and is produced by cheap peasant and coolie labor. It is generally felt that tropical agriculture is only at its beginning.

In the face of these various types of competition the Corn Belt offers for export an output of lard and other pork products in excess of such exports immediately preceding 1914. The natural result has been a price on hogs relatively much lower than the price of Corn Belt products selling on a domestic basis, and lower than the level of wholesale prices generally.

Any extensive shift away from the swine industry to the production for home consumption of beef or dairy and poultry products, would only glut the American market and bring price declines. Such a development is to be avoided. It would result in no progress toward any real solution of the Corn Belt's problems.

Improved methods of marketing, resulting in a better net return to the farmer, if followed by an increase in output, would bring only temporary improvement and similarly with any successful effort to lower costs of production.

It should be so obvious as to require no demonstration that an agriculture carried on on old lands, with its costs determined on a high internal price level, can not compete without protection with that of virgin lands in other countries—and that if the agriculture of the Corn Belt is to survive, the tariffs on its products must be maintained at effective rates.

There is one great element in the whole matter—the fact that the Middleman gets too much a return for his efforts. The Corn Belt Farmers would do well to supplant the present class of Middleman with a marketing organization of their own and stick to it. The ultimate consumer pays plenty for the Corn Belt Farmers products.

The Farmers should see to it themselves that they get what is coming to them out of the price paid by the consumer.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

modern history proves anything it proves there is no transformation, no the domestic market for meats and wheat. And freight rates, especially in the trans-Mississippi territory, had been calculated not so much to cover the actual cost of moving a tone of Corn Belt Products to market as to induce development of new lands.

But even before the War there were great revocation in the material order, unless it was prepared in the moral order, in the order of ideas."

This is what makes books and preaching and writing worth while — if all is done thoughtfully. Somebody has to do a lot of THINKING about a better world before anybody ever gets to work to create it.

CONTACT

We have been passing through school commencements. How many young men and women will find this summer that the college curriculum has not fitted them to approach life and its problems with judgment? How many will find that the temporary possession of some few facts or of many facts has not prepared them to face up to important work? Those who find themselves the best fitted are those who have caught something by contact — contact with great personalities sometimes found in the ranks of teachers. To have contact with young lives is a dangerous opportunity. Character — or failure—lie along the way.

WHAT'S THE USE

Cracker barrel wags think they know more about science and invention than all the inventors. What's the use? queried the scoffer back in 1874 when the first typewriter was put on the market. "This machine is only a toy. It is more interesting than jack-straws but far too expensive to be popular."

"What's the use of this?" asked the first young doctor who accidentally discovered the effect of ether. Years later wise men brought ether to the attention of the medical world.

Great results often lie along the way of attention to what are apparently little things.

THIS DAY WE SAILED

Columbus fought a hard fight in his struggle to reach America. He and his men faced the mysteries and the terrors of the unknown seas. His sailors believed the ocean to be inhabited by unspeakable dragons. In abject fear they refused to go on. In stubborn and murderous resistance they mutinied. After the worst encounter that Columbus had with his rebellious crew, after the seemingly hopeless struggle of the day, we find him writing, at night, in his diary. And here is what he wrote:

"This day we sailed west."

Chicago is to have a 75-story building, there probably being a keen demand for office quarters more than a pistol shot above the street level.—Toronto, Canada, Daily Star.

To Occupy Pulpit Sunday Morning

Dr. W. H. Ford To Speak At First M. E. Church Sunday Service

DR. W. H. FORD

Dr. W. H. Ford of Philadelphia, district superintendent of the Philadelphia area and one of the outstanding preachers of Methodism will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning, July 15, at 11 o'clock in the First Methodist church of this city.

Dr. Ford was the minister chosen to dedicate the great Ocean City tabernacle. He was ministerial delegate to the general conference of the church. Besides being a most able speaker and preacher he holds the position as a member of the board of foreign missions.

The pulpit committee in charge of securing supplies during the absence of the pastor, Dr. H. C. Weaver, has been very fortunate in being able to secure such a worthy speaker for the pulpit. An unusually large congregation is expected to hear Dr. Ford at the Sunday service.

In addition, at this service Walter DeLillo of Peabody Institute, Baltimore, will play an offertory, Andante Cantabile by Tschaikowsky. He is a pupil of Gittelson and soloist with the Peabody Symphony Orchestra.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A BALL OF FEATHERS

As soon as she could catch her breath, for Mrs. Bobolink had started off on her story of telling in a great hurry, she continued:

"When we had reached one of the very highest branches we alighted to look about us, but before I had a chance to see a thing I heard Bob give a queer frightened sort of chirp. I flirted about as quick as the dart of a humming bird's tail, and what do you think I saw?"

"Ooh! We can't guess. Tell us quickly!" cried Peter as Sonny-Bunny waved his tiny rabbit's paws excitedly.

"There right beside husband was something that looked like a great ball of loose feathers. A bird surely—what else would have such a fluffy coat—but where in the world was the queer creature's head? Could it have lost it? What dreadful thing had happened and who had done it? Bob and I stared at the poor thing wondering if it was safe for us to stay in that tree top. Something terrible might befall us! But as we watched the thing stirred. Slowly from under its wings where it had tucked it appeared a coal black head and a huge beak that must have been at the very least eight Bobolinks long and it was a bright reddish yellow—just the color of the sun on a hot afternoon.

"That wasn't all! With a little snap, just as if it had been on springs, a long tail popped into place from where the fellow had kept it hidden, and doubled over his back. What an eye the creature had, partly green and partly yellow. When he rolled it at us I could feel all the pinfeathers on my body rising. But the old fellow seemed peaceable enough. After one look not a bit of attention did he pay to us, but set himself to combing out his gay plumage with his long beak.

"A BIRD, SURELY, BUT WHERE IN THE WORLD WAS ITS HEAD"

"At last Bob, deciding that the fellow meant no harm, made up his mind to speak.

"'Good morning, kind sir,' chirped my husband, 'would you mind showing us the way?'

"'Cch! Cch! Cch!' The strange bird chuckled hoarsely. 'That's a good one. How can I show you the way when I don't know where you are going?' The fellow winked his eye at me and went on combing his feathers, as uninterested in our business as you could well imagine. But I don't know that we could blame him. After all, we had come upon him very suddenly and Bob hadn't introduced himself before he popped his question."

We were first to sell direct from the factory, without a middleman's profit—first to establish $22.50 as the standard price for any suit, topcoat or tuxedo suit.

Established 1879

THE world's largest direct-from-factory sales and production—the finest known factory facilities—unlimited cash buying capacity—the loyal efficiency of employes who own a $6,000,000.00 interest in this business—this combination of advantages produces in Richman's Clothes the greatest money's worth you can buy anywhere.

ALL $22.50 OUR FACTORY to YOU

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

Here you will see the newest style ideas in finest all wool fabrics, fresh from the looms of mills long noted for quality—sizes and proportions to correctly fit any figure.

OUR factories in Cleveland and Lorain, Ohio, are again operating at full capacity, after having been closed for ten days to give all our employes the usual summer vacation with pay. They have returned to their work with renewed vigor, ready to produce in Richman's Clothes finer quality and greater value than ever before.

$22.50 is not a special price on a limited number of suits advertised to bring you into a Richman store—it is the standard price of any Richman suit, topcoat or tuxedo suit you choose.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Incidentally, Thornton Wilder wrote his sensational best seller, "The Bridge" of San Luis Rey," which has a Peruvian locale, without ever having been in Peru. While he was writing it he asked a traveler if the Andes mountains were visible from Lima, capital of Peru. When informed that they were not, he was much disappointed. Nevertheless, in his his novel he has the Andes visible from Lima!

Charlie Chapin, probably the greatest city editor any New York newspaper ever had, murdered his wife and was sent to Sing Sing prison for life. Influential friends of his recently sought to obtain a pardon for him. Chapin opposed their efforts. He is editor of the prison paper and prison gardener.

"Please don't bother," he told those who wanted him freed. "I am old now, and I would miss my gardens. Please let me stay here."

New York is all contrasts and contradictions. At East River and Fifty-second streets, in a block where tenement dwellings may be obtained for $30 a month, the world's tallest apartment building is being erected. The apartments will rent for from $200 to $1,000 a month. Sutton place, in the shadow of Queensboro bridge, and within sight of the city prison on Welfare island, is rapidly being captured from slum dwellers by Social Registerites.

It is a social error to ask a New York girl if she works. To be proper one must ask, "Do you go to business?"

MAN PLYS ACROSS LAKE ERIE ON RAFT

CLEVELAND, July 13.—Dripping from perspiration, a deep sea sailor, plying through Lake Erie on a raft of logs and pieces of telephone poles with only two frail paddles for power, was picked up by a coast guard cutter four miles off Vermilion, O.

The sailor, who said he was Edmind Putz of Riga, Lithuania, told the guardsmen that he had gone "broke" in Detroit several days ago and had decided to try for the seacoast on his improvised raft via the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence river.

However, coast guard officials at Lorain, where Putz was taken, were skeptical of his story. They said they believed he was paddling his way to the United States from Canada and expected to land his raft at some unfrequented spot on the Ohio shore. He is being held pending further investigation.

Whoever is right, Putz or the coast guard officers, the sailor must have propelled his craft 30 miles or better. The distance between Detroit and the position where he was found is about 30 miles, while the lane across the lake from Canada is between 35 and 40 miles.

A pail of drinking water was the only provision for sustenance aboard the raft. There was no food, the guardsmen said.

Uses Dynamite To Celebrate; Claim Refused

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 13.—An employe who uses his employer's dynamite to celebrate the advent of Christmas is not entitled to compensation if injured, the workmen's compensation board held today in affirming the action of a district referee.

The decision was given in the case of Steve Kozma, Coal Centre, Washington county. Kozma was employed by the department of highways and allowed to keep the dynamite he uses in his work at his home. On Christmas eve, 1926, he was severely injured while attempting to discharge a stick of dynamite to celebrate.

Smith Campaign Leaders Go Home

Conclude Conference In New York; To Launch Strenuous Campaign

REALIZE THEY FACE TASK OF MAGNITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 13.—Assured of a high-powered campaign, organized and financed along the lines of a great modern business venture and led by a candidate of Gov. Al Smith's hard-hitting powers, Democratic leaders who have spent the week in New York scattered to their homes today to dig in for the battle.

Most of them are confident and all of them are hopeful that the new order of things in the party will be productive of something in November besides the defeat and disappointment that has been the Democratic lot since 1920.

A few from the south are skeptical over the radical changes which, in the short space of a single week, have completely transformed the party. There is some head-shaking over the appointment of John J. Raskob, head of the gigantic General Motors Corporation, as chairman of the national committee, and over the bold and vigorous manner in which the new Smith-Raskob regime has taken hold of the prohibition question.

Advancas of the Southerners, however, revealed no trace of any disposition to rebel. On the contrary, there appeared to be a general disposition to let Gov. Smith have complete sway in everything, organization, finance, policies, issues and what not.

The Smith leaders are under no illusions about the magnitude of the task confronting them, which is to garner 266 votes in the electoral college. A great popular vote means nothing unless it is accompanied by the electoral votes necessary to election.

All the calculations of the Smith strategists are based primarily upon the solid south, the irreducible Democratic minimum of ten states that have never gone Republican in a national election, Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Virginia, Louisiana, Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina.

The electoral vote of these states total 114.

To these, the Smith calculators add the five border states of Missouri, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma, all of which are normally Democratic, but which were carried by the Republican either in 1920 or 1924. The five border states have 61 electoral votes, so that if normal Democratic territory remains Democratic the Smith managers can count 175 votes in the college.

Their task then is to get 91 votes from the balance of the country. These, they figure, must mainly be secured from the upper Atlantic Seaboard states, with possibly some help from the normally Republican middle west.

The so-called "wet group" of eastern states, comprising New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Delaware, have exactly 91 electoral votes, which would make the required 266.

These stages are considered vital to the Smith cause, hence the frequently heard statement about Smith headquarters that "the east is the battleground."

Illness Costs Every Family $134.86 Yearly

PARIS, July 13.—Dr. Homer Folks of New York, advocated an effectice program of disease prevention in his report before the International Conference of Social Work today. He estimated that illness for each year cost every family $134.68 and that the cost per capita was $31.08.

Dr. Folks stated further that the cost of yearly illness to all the people of he United States is $15,000,000,000. Of this amount 93 per cent is borne by the patients and families as the country is spending only about $76,000,000 a year for the prevention of disease.

The Public Health council of New York state and the State Charities Aid association of New York are both organizations of which Dr. Folks is a member and officer.

"AW, GO JUMP IN THE OCEAN!"

That's probably how Miss Elsie Ekengren, pretty Washington, D. C., society girl, dared Morton Hoyt, also of Washington. He did. The S. S. Rochambeau had to retrace its course along the Newfoundland banks to rescue the man who wouldn't take a dare. Miss Ekengren thought it was very brave of Hoyt to jump. Aimee Believes Girls Are Going Little Too Far

Says Co-eds Are Stepping Out Of Bounds In Public Discussion Of Birth-Control

DES MOINES, Ia., July 13.—Aimee McPherson of Los Angeles, again assumed the role of national commander today when she said that she thought the co-eds of the University of Iowa were stepping out of their bounds when they discussed the question of birth control in a public forum.

Mrs. McPherson says that she is a decided believer in the girls knowing more than formerly about such problems of life but that she thought they were going a "little bit too far."

"To many mothers fail to instruct their daughters properly and turn them out into the world," she said. This sort of girl who ventures forth into the cities must learn by experience or what she can pick up here and there."

The co-eds have also discussed in open forum such things as petting, smoking, drinking and companiate marriage and birth control.

Mrs. McPherson's criticism seems to be leveled at whether there would be any actual benefit from the meeting and not the question itself for she said. "If she can obtain any worthwhile information at such discussions as those she is just so much better off."

W. C. T. U. Praises Recent Raid On Sheriff's Meeting

(International News Service)

CLARION, Pa., July 13.—Although District Attorney S. A. Culbertson of Crawford county has been the object of wrathful criticism because he butted in on what he terms a "wild drinking party" at the convention of the State Association of Sheriffs at Conneaut Lake, he has the warm support of the W. C. T. U. of five Pennsylvania counties meeting here.

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union from the counties of Beaver, Mercer, Lawrence, Clarion and Butler counties commended the Crawford county district attorney and praised his attempt to put a stop to an alleged drinking party at the sheriffs' convention.

Culbertson and a deputy raided a "session" of the convention at Conneaut Lake, arrested a bell hop who was said to be the sheriffs' official bartender, and took away samples of the refreshments served as evidence.

SHOOTS 177 YARD HOLE IN ONE AT BROOKVILLE CLUB

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., July 13—Michael Miller of Brookville will walk under ladders, allow black cats to cross his path and defy all the jinxes known to man on Friday—the-thirteeth. He's convinced he's just too lucky for any jinx and here's why.

Mike shot a 177 yard hole in one on the course here yesterday in tournament play with the Ridgway golf team. It was the first hole in one on record here.

Heavy Damage To Hagerstown Crops By Severe Storm

(International News Service)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 13. — Wind, rain and hail caused heavy damage to crops and buildings throughout Washington county, according to reports reaching here today.

The reports said that wheat, corn and potato crops in many sections of the county were practically ruined by the storm. Large hailstones broke more than 1,000 windows in greenhouses while at Frederick the Masonic Temple was unroofed and many windows broken by hailstones said to have been as large as walnuts.

Wire communications were disrupted and street railway service was suspended for several hours.

Capt. F. W. Hawks Leads Plane Tour

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 13.—Approximately 1,000 points ahead of Capt. Frank W. Hawks, his nearest competitor, John P. Wood, flying a Waco biplane, today retained first place in the Edsel Ford reliability tour.

With the arrival of the planes here from San Diego, the entrants have reached the half way mark in their 6,000-mile air tour.

Robert Cantwell, piloting a Lockhead Vega monoplane, won the San Diego-Los Angeles lap, negotiating the 113 miles in 53 minutes, 54 seconds.

Former Resident Of Seventh Ward Hangs Self In Barn

James R. Southerland, 74, Found Dead In Barn At Nephew's Farm

James R. Southerland, aged 74 years, former resident of New Castle committed suicide Thursday evening about 7 o'clock by hanging himself with a rope in the barn of his nephew, Edward Tribby at Cornersburg near Poland, O.

After Mr. Southerland had been missed by members of the family a search was made and the lifeless body was found two hours later hanging to a rope which he had made the noose out of.

It is believed that Mr. Southerland became despondent on account of ill-health which caused him to end his life.

For many years he had resided in the Seventh ward where he worked at the carpenter trade. Of late years he had lived in a number of places and only recently had returned from a trip to California.

He was a member of the Mahoning Methodist church and the Men's Bible class of the Sunday schol.

Mr. Southerland is survived by one brother Charles of Youngstown and a number of nieces and nephews. His wife preceded him in death several years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday July 14, at 2:30 D. S. A. from the Mahoning Methodist church in charge of the pastor Rev. D. D. Sleppy. Burial will be made in Valley View cemetery.

High Tariff Hurts Germany's Industry

Expert Says Germany Cannot Pay Her War Indemnities Because Of Tariff

(International News Service)

CHICAGO July 13—Germany cannot pay her war indemnities in the face of the United States' high tariff Prof. Gustav Cassel of Stockholm, Sweden, told a gathering here.

'Because of the necessity of maintaining the international balance of trade" Prof. Cassel said, "The United States must necessarily be confronted with Germany as the ultimate payer of debts owing from France and other war debt countries with German exports as the basis."

Prosecutor Becomes Apostle

Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

With the exception of the resurrection of Christ and the Pentecostal outpouring of the Holy Spirit there is no more important event in the history of the Christian church than that of the conversion of Saul of Tarsus.

The word conversion as used in the New Testament means "turning", and Paul's conversion was a complete turning, a radical change from the church's persecutor to its chief propagator and apostle.

Paul was on his way from Jerusalem to Damascus, clothed with authority from the chief priests "to persecute this way unto death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women." But the death warrants he carried on that trip were never served, for the reason that the risen Christ in glory arrested the persecutor in the way near Damascus, appearing to him in the midst of dazzling brilliance, "above the brightness of the sun", and out of this heavenly light came a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the goad." To Paul's astonished question, "Who art thou, Lord?" there came the amazing answer, "I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest."

In his great classic on the resurrection in First Corinthians, 15, Paul lists this as the 11th appearance of the risen Christ, and puts it on a par with his earlier appearances to the other apostles. From this day forth Paul was a new creature in Christ. Evidently he had had some misgivings about the possibility of his being mistaken in persecuting Christians, but had fought against these misgivings as an ox kicks against the goad of its driver. But the dying words and prayers of Stephen and many others were bearing fruit, and Paul was ripe for conversion when Christ met him.

Paul's Commission.

Paul's conversion was followed immediately by his commission. No sooner did he recognize Christ as his Lord than he asked for his commission in the Lord's service: "What shall I do, Lord?" How truly characteristic this inquiry is of the ceaseless activity and fiery zeal of Paul. Like his newfound Lord, he must be about his Father's business. He is ready to pour as much zeal into the cause of Christ as he had used against it. As the newest recruit of the cross he asks for his marching orders. We have this commission as Paul related it nearly 30 years afterwards in his defense before King Agrippa: "To appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things wherein thou has seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the gentiles, unto whom I send thee." Thus Paul was commissioned to be the apostle to the gentiles, and to this commission he gave himself for the next 30 years with a zeal as great as that which characterized him as a persecutor.

Paul Comforted.

"Man proposes but God disposes." How true this was of Paul's entry into Damascus. He started out from Jerusalem "breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord;" he describes his entrance into Damascus in this fashion: "when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus." In this state Paul meditated for three days, striving to get his bearings in his new spiritual life, when God sent him the comforting ministry of a devout disciple named Ananias, to lay his hand in benediction upon this one-time devouring wolf of the fold, and to say, "Brother Saul, receive thy sight. Arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Thus Paul, who ever afterwards regarded himself as the chief of sinners because he had persecuted the church of God, found that comfort and remission of sins in Jesus Christ, of which years afterwards he wrote in our golden text, "Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief."

(The international uniform lesson for July 15 is Acts 9:1-19; 22:6-16; 1 Cor. 15:8, the subject being "The Conversion of Saul", and the golden text, I Tim. 1:15.)

Farmhouse Reveals Statue Of Shelly

Discovery Of Bust Done By Leigh Hunt Causes Excitement Among Litteraurs

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 13—In a small Sussex farmhouse what is believed to be a remarkable literary discovery has been made—no less than the only existing temporary bust of the poet Shelley.

Experts have been engaged for many years patiently tracking down this treasure and establishing its authenticity. The conclusive clue may prove to be a letter referring to it from Rosetti to Browning.

The bust executed by Leigh Hunt during Shelley's last years was intended for he poet's grave but it was rejected as being too realistic. Hunt left it to Carlyle and Carlyle left it to Browning and after a lapse of more than 30 years during which its real identity was completely forgotten it was sold for a trifle in 1913 at a Browning sale. At that time it was labelled "Browning's uncle."

Fan-Shaped Vision

By S. S. MYERS

It is claimed now that the aviator should be able to see out of the corners of his eyes. That is, in looking ahead, he should be able to see not only the thing that is directly in his line of vision, but at the same time discern that which lies for some distance on either side. It seems that this would also be an excellent accomplishment for automobile drivers. Side roads and crossroads are always a menace to the thoughtless, careless driver, and the autoist who can see on either side while gazing at the road ahead is not likely to smash into a car approaching from a side road on the right which, according to the State law, has the right of way.

This fan-shaped vision is an art that can be cultivated and it is often of great importance. The means for doing it are readily at hand. For instance, if you are in a room where there are vertical lines on the wall paper, fix your eyes upon the line directly in front of you then, without shifting your gaze, see how many lines on either side you can discern and count. The farther away you are from the chosen line the wider your vision should be. Then, begin with the middle line and, without moving your head, shift the eyes first to one side then to the other, fixing the gaze upon each line as it comes into distinct view. This done repeat the first exercise.

After practicing this for a time you will be surprised to find how much your vision has widened and how many lines you can see without looking at them. Perfectly clear vision will be obtained only on the central line, but the number of lines that can be discerned on either side will be increased.

After this practice out in the open, fixing your eyes upon some object and see how many objects you can discern on either side without shifting the gaze. Then repeat the performance as outlined for indoor practice. This may seem a very simple thing, yet, if you drive a car, it may be the means of saving your life or some other person's life in the future.

Horn Of Cow Causes Five Plane Deaths

Punctures Fuel Tank Of German Ship On Emergency Landing Field

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 13.—Five persons were killed in an airplane crash at Radervorwald, in the Rhineland recently, because in making an emergency landing the plane grazed the horn of a cow.

The horn punctured the fuel tank, the hot motor ignited the outflowing benzin, and the pilot and four passengers were burned to death.

Cities Respond To Airport Urge

Well Over 5,000 Fields Are Owned By Cities And Municipalities

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 13.—Towns and cities all over the United States are responding to the urge of the Department of Commerce for more airports, intermediate fields and auxiliary fields have been added to the 1,600 available at the close of last year, figures obtained by the American Air Transport association have revealed. In addition to these classified fields there are more than 4,000 other fields owned by states, municipalities, commissions and various organizations on which landings may be made.

The great majority of these fields are municipally owned or operated and operation efforts have been made by cities on air mail routes to improve their fields while cities anxious to be included in the expanding lines of air mail routes are, in many cases, acquiring and developing landing fields.

Nice Girls Are Best Athletes, Sprinter Says

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 13.—"People often think that a sporting girl is rough and ungracious. Don't you believe it. Is there any argument why a girl should not be able to run like a deer and still be a dear?"

So states Miss Violet Piercey, one of the most famous woman runners of Britain, who has just spent a day's holiday in a little jaunt fr— Mitcham to Stamford Bridge—a distance of 26 miles which she accomplished in under four hours.

"Most of the nice girls I know are athletes" says Miss Piercey. "They like dancing and parties. So do I. But we don't live for them.

"Neither do we spend our time powdering our noses in musty boudoirs. We like as much fresh air as we can get. That is the great difference.

"Many men—and women too—think that girl athletes are of no use to the home and that they fail to make good mothers. Sheer bunkum!

"As for running, no girl need be afraid of taking it up, even if it is marathon running. Running does not demand a jarring of the muscles. If you develop a correct style it is not difficult to travel long distances without experiencing sheer fatigue."

When she is not running, Miss Piercey is private secretary to a famous London doctor.

Reunion Planned For Old Raftsmen

Miles King Will Be Guest At Col. Shoemaker's Reunion In August

(International News Service)

McELHATTAN, Pa., July 13.—Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker will be the host at a reunion of raftsmen and rivermen of the Susquehanna Valley here August 8. Colonel Shoemaker, who is a member of the State Forestry Commission, also has sent invitations to the 26 forest rangers of the district. Dr. Joseph S. Illick, state forester, will be the principal speaker at the reunion.

Under the leadership of Morris Jordan, Colonel Shoemaker plans a revival of the old songs with which the raftsmen lightened the burdens of their hazardous occupation.

Miles King, 81, possibly one of the most famous of the raftsmen, will be included among the guests. King became famous after breaking a log jam in the Sinnemahoning Creek in 1873. He was compelled to ride four miles below where the jam had been before he could regain the shore. Leonard Lachet who is credited with running the last raft to go down the Susquehanna also will be present.

The west branch of the Susquehanna because of the heavy woods which lined it and all its tributaries was one of the most famous in the country during the lumbering days. Although almost half a century has passed since the industry was in its prime, many of the men who followed it are still living in this section.

Real Relief Came When He Started With New Konjola

"It Is Wonderful", He Says; Completely Restored His Health In Every Way.

Disorders of the important functionary organs of the body are common among thousands of people—some of them being chronic and others slight. For the purpose of ending such ailments, this new medicine has been prepared.

It is no longer an experiment but a treatment of recognized worth. The untold number of signed statements from former sufferers proves this. Cases are cited every day by local people telling how Konjola restored normal activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels or relieved stubborn instances of neuritis and rheumatism. One of the latest reports came from Mr. Lewis John, 512 Elizabeth street, New Castle, who gave the following statement to the Konjola Man who is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street.

"I strongly indorse Konjola", said Mr. John, "Become it is a wonderful medicine and has brought new health over my entire system and gave me amazing relief from kidney trouble and a general rundown condition.

"I was suffering every day with kidney trouble. My whole system was awfully rundown and all during the day my back ached so much that it was almost impossible for me to bend over. Due to the disordered condition of my kidneys I always felt tired and worn-out. I was subject to dizzy spells and very often after I had eaten anything at all, I would have to go and rest for sometime on account of them. My appetite was poor and it seemed that no matter what I ate, the food did me no good at all. I had an attack of influenza and this left me in a worse condition than before. I never enjoyed a full nights sleep and the next morning I would get up I felt worse then when going to bed. Finally I developed a stubborn case of neuritis in my shoulders that was almost unbearable.

"I noticed in the papers that Konjola was recommended by many local people for such disorders as mine and I finally made up my mind to give this medicine a trial. The first two bottles gave me more relief than all the medicine I have ever taken. My kidneys function properly again and my bowels were regulated by this wonderful compound. As I continued with the treatment my stomach got better until finally I was able to eat anything I wanted without the least bad result afterward. Now a hard eight hours work does not bother me at all. My neuritis has been entirely relieved and your medicine has been a Godsend to me.

"If everyone that suffers as I once did would only try this medicine there would be a lot less sick people in the world and for this reason I am strongly indorsing Konjola."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Jinx Following Dinger Daugherty

So Far He Has Been Unable To Get His Plane Out Of Western Penna.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—M. R. (Dinger) Daugherty of New Martinsville, W. Va., legless and one-armed aviator, is convinced today that a real old fashioned Friday-the-13th jinx is camping on the tail of his plane these days. Not only that, but the jinx arrived several days ahead of time and refuses to go away.

Dinger has hopes of trying a trans-Atlantic or non-stop Mexican flight one of these days, if he can manage to keep his plane in the air long enough to get it out of western Pennsylvania.

Dinger and Bob Carroll, Latrobe airport manager, were forced down again in Elizabeth township yesterday afternoon while enroute here to deliver a plane Carroll has sold to a Pittsburgh man.

Dinger has brought his own plane back to earth in this region several times since he hopped off from Moundsville, W. Va., last Saturday for New York. On one of his forced landings he tore a wing from "The West Virginian", his plane.

You never can tell. Many a man's trousers bag at the knees who never says his prayers.

Kellogg Warns Of Milk Bottle Law

HARRISBURG, July 13.—Several prosecutions of proprietors of hotels, restaurants and dining rooms have been prosecuted this summer for not serving milk to patrons in the capped bottles as delivered from the dairies.

This has prompted Dr. James W. Kellogg, directors and chief chemist of the State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, to issue the following statement:

"Owing to the danger of the contamination of milk during the summer month, special agents of the bureau are giving their attention to the enforcement of the milk container law, which requires all milk sold for drinking purposes to be dispensed in the original bottles supplied by the dairies to the hotels, restaurants and dining rooms.

"This means that original bottles filled and capped by the milk producers shall be served without removal of caps and not the use of bottles filled by food-dispensing places from bulk and served either with or without caps.

"The health of the public can only be protected and contamination of milk prevented by a strict adherance to the requirements.

"It has been necessary recently to bring several actions against persons dispensing milk which was not served in the original container received from the dairies but which was served in bottles which were filled from bulk in the kitchens of the hotels or restaurants.

"The public using milk for drinking purposes should refuse to accept any milk served to them unless it is in capped bottles, showing clearly it has been supplied by the dairies."

Electric Worker Is Knocked Unconscious

BUTLER, Pa., July 13.—While helping to repair a 600-horsepower electric motor at the plant of the Standard Plate Glass company last midnight, Frank Graham of 510 Carbon street received a shock that rendered him unconscious for a time. Graham and a helper were enegaged at work on a switchboard when the helper heard a bulb drop. Turning, he saw Graham on the floor.

Fire Chief Irving S. Zorb answered an alarm turned in at the Southside fire station and rushed to the plant with a pulmotor, but did not use it when he found the shock victim was breathing. Graham was shocked in a similar manner about a year ago, but the effects were not so severe. After receiving treatment in the Butler hospital, he was able to be taken to his home today.

Americanism: Getting bored because there's nothing to do at home but play bridge; going to an expensive resort and playing bridge.

These Are Photographs of Typical Groups of Smart People At Fashionable Beaches

Because it is "Human To Error" that's why Clearance Sales are necessary. Fisher Brothers are human, yes, but the prefection of a stock-control method has eliminated these mistakes in the major. Today Fisher Bros. are sold out . . . . we haven't any undesirable merchandise, any unfashionable styles, any old stocks to force out. So naturally we definitely decided to abandon July Clearance Sales. Instead we quicken our pace—we are buying new things for you, new furnishings, cool underwear, fashionable vacation and camp attire. As this announcement is written a force of mills are making for you "Exact Copies" of smart things favored at fashionable resorts. And because manufacturers are anxious to keep their mills running they are producing these new things at little or no profit. So you see—you are receiving new things at clearance price levels.

Ladies' Auxiliary Benefit Nets $1482.87 For Hospital Work Committee Reports

Members of the committee in charge of the Ladies' Auxiliary benefit for the purpose of supplying linens needed at the new Jameson Memorial hospital, held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral recently, report that the net return for the work was $1,482.87.

The report of receipts and expenses is submitted as follows:

Receipts

Tickets for dance	$1,301.00
Tickets for theater	69.00
Candy booth	119.97
Candy and cigarettes	15.00
Soft drink booth	31.93
Sandwiches, cake and coffee	110.47
Total receipts	$1,647.37
Charge for Cathedral	164.50
Net receipts	$1,482.87

The committee also wishes to announce that pop, sandwiches, cake, coffee, card tables, cards, prizes for the card games, etc., were all donated. Likewise the printing was donated by Miller, Pyle and Graham Company. The Queen Esther Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the Wimodausis, the Girls' Club and the Spoon Club members also donated their services in making the event a success.

Some husbands have no desire to be petted. They are dead.

Trinity Choir Going To Conneaut

Plans will be perfected at the rehearsal of the choir of Trinity church in the guild room this evening at 8 o'clock for the trip to Conneaut Lake park on Sunday. This is the fourth annual service at the music hall of the choirs of Episcopal churches in western Pennsylvania. The preacher will be the Bishop of Pittsburgh. The time is 11 a. m. eastern standard time. Julian Williams, formerly of this city, is in charge of the music. Services will be held in Trinity church at the usual hours next Sunday, without music, for those who cannot go to Conneaut. Any members willing to take members of the choir in their cars will do a favor if they will report the number they can take to the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, 4554-J. As there is to be a rehearsal of all the choirs before the service, it is the plan that cars leave Trinity church at 8:30 a. m., daylight savings time.

Family pride is the quality that makes stealing a mere unfortunate error when one of your own kin does it.

AN HONEST WOMAN IN FRAUD CASE

For 20 years Mrs. Lou C. Pennington, 52, of Louisville, Ky., carried on an honest business as purchasing agent for thousands of persons throughout her state. Then something snapped, and after gleaning nearly $200,000 in alleged fraudlent operations she disappeared. Located in a sanitarium for the mentally ill near Louisville she has been arraigned in court to answer a score of warrants charging the utterance of worthless checks. Her attorneys are to offer an insanity plea when Mrs. Pennington is tried for the fraud. She is shown above as she was brought into court at Louisville.

Gardsmen Ready For Parade Event

Regimental Parade Part Of Program At Camp Gordon During Day

(International News Service)

CAMP GORDON, TOBYHANNA, Pa., July 13.—With their boots shined to the nth degree, their equipment washed, cleaned and scoured and their guns oiled and polished, members of the 176th artillery of the National Guard of Pennsylvania in encampment here, today prepared for a regimental parade, formal guard mount and retreat ceremonies which will precede the band concert this evening.

The big and little guns started booming away again today as the battalions got away to another day of firing practice on the ranges.

Yesterday the big howitzers were dragged out on the Lone Pine range where the first and second battalions practiced.

The third battalion concluded a day of practice on the small arms range with a battalion parade on the polo field.

First Lieut. George D. Blair and Sergt. Julian Markowitz of Battery E drew commendations for their work on the pistol range yesterday. Both qualified for an expert's medal. Other men who qualified for marksmanship medals and for extra pay because of their qualification were Sergts. Paul Wallace, Raymond Schneider, Gordon Segal and Private John Mitterer all of whom won sharpshooter medals. All are in Battery E.

Marksmanship medals were won by Corp. Leslie Bright, Charles Jacklicks, Edward Tobias, Wilbur Dilly, Alvin Wallace, of Battery E, Sergts. John Robertson Battery F, and Forbes Gilchrest and John Mitterer, 3rd battalion.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Wonder who designs the patterns for neckties? Who is it gets all those colors jelled together and the lines and circles and diagonals assembled?

Must be a fascinating business, designing neckwear for the fashionably dressed young squirt. Saw a tie salesman in a local store today and he had his samples all laid out. Not made up into ties, but laid out like a sample array of old fashioned quilts.

Blazing reds, lurid greens, blues that had grey and purple and lavender in them, great splashings of color and finely drawn stripes, some that looked like awning samples and some that looked like a cubist's nightmare.

Gone are the days when a simple block tie, or a plain grey was considered something tasty in neckwear. To be anywhere near the style these days a necktie must have a touch of the orient in it, a flecking of half a dozen tints and shades and colors and a design that reminds one of a pre-Prohibition hangover.

Art Mee stepped into the highest spot in the city argument today. Art has his residence out on Sheep Hill and while it is just outside the city limits, yet he belongs to New Castle. From his front porch he can see for miles and the one sign that stands out is the Castleton. "Its the best advertisement the city has" opines Art, and from his residence it stands out like a lighthouse.

Picnic dinners are taking a fast one on the chin this summer. Under ordinary circumstances a picnic dinner has certain little defections that are overlooked. A spider or two in one's coffee is nothing to run a temperature over, and if the mayonnaise gets mixed up with the ice cream, nobody cares. But not even a hardened veteran of picnic dinners can enjoy pickled beets and potato salad if the rain is rivuleting down his spinal column, and his hat brim resembles a leaky rain spout.

Rather interesting to watch a couple of men preparing for a motor trip and a couple of women. The men usually throw a couple of shirts and some ties into a bag, see that the car is properly gassed and oiled, lay in a heavy supply of tobacco, and in half an hour they're set to go.

But the ladies! Send the car around to the garage the night before, spend several hours choosing those sheer flimsy garments whatever they are called, debate for a while upon whether they should take their tulle or their georgette with them. Then when they are ready, spend half an hour picking out a box or two of candy, some chewing gum, and whisper it softly, perhaps a package of cigarettes.

Saw a car on the streets this morning with a sign "K. Q. V." on the back and I've been wondering ever since if it was a car from radio station KQV or whether it was an advertisement for some new brand of tobacco, of whether the owner's name might have been something like Kenneth Quincy Vandervecken.

Bought a lot of coal last night or anyway the school board did. Some thing like 5300 tons of the black diamonds to keep the school youngsters warm next winter. That's conseder-able coal and will average 1000 pounds ped pupil in the nine months of school. If you have time you can figure and how many British Thermal Units for each boy and girl, and how much ash each youngster should haul out if they were hauling their own.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 13

Jack, Henry, Thomas and Peter Grittie were awarded five year badges at a meeting of troop 13 Thursday evening, because of their service in the troop. At the same time, Paul Fabian, Oscar Leonhardt, Francis Davis, George Fox, Claire and Howard Kelso, Kenneth Clark and Jim Hannon were given one year badges. Taft, Payne Fabian Jack Davis, Pete Karther, Frank Clark and Jim Lanigan got tenderfoot badges.

Patrol flags were also given an an inter-scout contest was started.

TROOP 5

Sixteen boys and five visitors were present at the weekly meeting of the troop. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Davis assisted by Orland Hartman and the patrol leaders.

During the absence of the regular bugler Fred Warner, George Macom, a member of troop 15 blew colors and taps.

Mr. Davis asked all the boys to bring to the next meeting ten species of leaves from trees.

The meeting was taken up in having knot-tying contests of different types.

Mr. Davis would like a full attendance at the next meeting as this will be the last meeting before the boys go to camp.

Rev. Hodge has given this lecture in a number of cities of western Pennsylvania and is considered one of great merit. A large congregation is expected to hear him on Monday evening.

Rain Interferes With Schedule At Mt. Gretna

(International News Service)

CAMP HENDERSON, Mount Gretna, Pa., July 13.—Rain today again interfered with the training program of National Guardsmen encamped here, forcing the postponement of the exercise in anti-aircraft defense scheduled for Major Benjamin Jones' 52nd mounted machine gun squadron from Tyrone, Boalsburg, Lewistown and Bellefonte.

Anti-aircraft defense has been stressed so far during the training period which will be concluded July 21. Unit by unit the members of the 52nd brigade are being instructed by military experts in the latest maneuvers developed at army posts for the protection of large bodies of men against the attacks of bombing planes.

Headquarters detachments today were on the third day of their command post exercise. Their problem is the preparation of the ground for troop movements from Rheems to Colebrook.

All units will participate tomorrow in a field inspection and brigade review before General Shannon and his staff. Governor John S. Fisher is scheduled to visit the encampment on July 17.

TAXPAYERS SAVE FIVE PER CENT DISCOUNT

County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley reports tax collections have been coming in quite rapidly during the past few days. Those who pay their county taxes during month of July are entitled to a discount of five per cent. After August 1 county taxes must be paid at face.

Tuberculosis Held Bar To Marriage

Dr. Isadore Kaufman Of County Medical Body Sounds Warning To Patients

Germs Lurk In Kisses, He Says; Urges Frequent Health Examinations

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 13.—A warning against the marriage of all persons having a trace of tuberculosis until such time as physicians declare them cured was made recently by Dr. Isadore Kaufman, in a bulletin on tuberculosis issued from the officers of the Philadelphia County Medical society at Twenty-first and Spruce streets.

Women are especially urged to heed this warning and take all precaution possible in preventing the spread of the disease.

Kissing is also declared taboo by Dr. Kaufman, who points out that osculation is a very prolific source of contagion to others, especially to small children, who do not have the resistence of adults.

Dr. Kaufman stressed the importance of regular health examinations and called to attention the fact that poverty no longer need prevent anyone from securing the proper care, as all those unable to pay for a private physician now can get adequate care in any of the many tuberculosis dispensaries throughout the commonwealth.

"There is no need for anyone to suffer from the lack of opportunity of having proper medical examination at the present time," the bulletin says. "The importance of systematic health examinations should be realized when we consider that through these examinations many cases of tuberculosis are revealed at the stage when cure is relatively simple and may often be brought about without the individual deaving home or giving up his occupation."

Attention is also directed toward encouragement of tuberculosis patients to observe precautions for the protection of the public. Dr. Kaufman particularly pleads for a square deal for the person who tries to prevent the spread of this disease by covering the mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing. Encouraging these persons, he says, is one of the best ways of promoting public health.

Encourages Safety Measures.

"Please do not avoid or shun those patients who are taking precautions for your safety," he says. "Remember that the chief source of danger in tuberculosis is from the sputum, whether it be coughed or sneezed. When you see the well-trained patient covering his nose and mouth upon coughing or sneezing or using a sputum cup, just bear in mind that he is trying to protect you and do not make remarks which will discourage him. It is preventative measures which have been largely responsible for a more than 50 per cent cut in the tuberculosis death rate during the last 20 years."

Some of the precautions recommended for use in the household containing a patient with tuberculosis germs in the sputum are the boiling of all personal and bed linens used by the patient, the use of dishes other than those used by members of the household and the washing of these dishes apart from all other dishes and cooking utensils.

Sanatorium care is recommended for individuals with tuberculosis living in homes where there are either small children or where there is great congestion in the home. In this connection Dr. Kaufman stresses the fact that the treatment of this disease should be a matter of obligation on the part of persons afflicted with it and also the general public. He contends that the duty of the patient lies in protecting the public by proper hygienic safeguards or going away to a sanatorium, when advisable, and that the duty of the community lies in providing proper places, not only for those who are going to get well, but also for the dying cases, and in giving encouragement to those who show determination and resolution in preventing the spread of the disease.

THINKS RESULTS TEN HERBS GIVES ARE REMARKABLE

Relieved New Castle Lady's Neuritis And Nervousness; Other Medicines Failed

Another instance where the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs, gave satisfactory relief from long suffering, after other medicines failed, is revealed in a report recently received by the Ten Herbs Man, who is at

MRS. MATTIE LIGHTNER

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this popular compound to crowds of people. The reason for the tremendous success of Ten Herbs is because it is unlike other medicines—it does not act on one organ alone, but benefits and invigorates stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and has a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on the whole system.

"I believe Ten Herbs is the most wonderful medicine that is being sold today," was the statement of Mrs. Mattie Lightner, 421 West Lincoln Avenue, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man. "I was never able to get anything that would help me until I started using Ten Herbs," Mrs. Lightner continued. "I suffered with nervousness and neuritis for years. My liver was always inactive, and I was so badly constipated that I had to keep taking laxatives. My appetite was poor and I did not sleep well.

"Since taking Ten Herbs, nervousness has been greatly relieved and neuritis has disappeared. My appetite is better and digestion has been improved so much that food is giving me new strength. My liver is active again, and my bowels regular. I sleep soundly and feel rested when morning comes. Considering that I had been in a badly run-down condition for so long a time, I think it remarkable what good results Ten Herbs has given me. I gladly recommend your medicine to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it to get the best results.

YOUNG NEGRO IS DROWNED

Dives Off Bridge Into Shenango River And Loses His Life

RECOVER BODY SHORT TIME LATER

Eugene Currie, aged 20, a negro residing at 1126 Moravia street, was drowned about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Shenango river near the Franklin bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, as he was apparently overcome with cramps. The drowning was witnessed by at least two persons, friends of Currie.

The body was recovered about 5 o'clock by employes of the New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel company. Coroner J. P. Caldwell issued a certificate of accidental drowning.

Police authorities received a call about 3:10 o'clock Thursday afternoon that a colored man had gone into the water and had not been seen since. Officers Lynch, Augostine and Longstreth rushed to the scene and found that Currie, a young man 20 years of age, in company with friends, went to the Franklin bridge, to swim in the river.

Shortly after their arrival there, Currie who was clad in a swimming suit, dove from the bridge into the waters of the Shenango river, which normally, at this point are quite deep and which were deeper than usual owing to the frequent recent rains.

According to the eye witnesses of the drowning, Currie came up from the dive, apparently in good shape and started to swim toward the shore, when all of a sudden he disappeared under the water, presumeably because of the cramps and was not seen again until his dead body was removed from the river.

About 4:50 p. m., Frank McArthur and Joseph Rigby, employes of the New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel company, using grappling hooks, located and pulled the body out of the river near the riffles below the bridge.

Eugene Currie, victim of the drowning, was born 20 years ago in Laurinburg, North Carolina, the son of Daniel and Josephine Currie. He had resided here for some little time. He is survived by his parents, who are in North Carolina, his wife, Mrs. Christine McGinnis Currie and one daughter, Johnnie May Currie, also one brother, Roy Currie, of this city, and two sisters, Annie and Mamie Currie of North Carolina.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon from the residence of his brother, Roy Currie, 317½ Mahoning avenue. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Wash Spa's Streets With Costly Water

Little German City Is Only Place In World Where Mineral Water Is Used

(International News Service)

BAD ALTHEIDE, July 13.—The medicinal springs of this hundred-year-old resort for sufferers from heart ailments product about two million liters of water daily, but only a quarter of this is used for baths and the rest goes to waste.

The street cleaning department, which has to pay for all city water used, has now decided to use this superfluous water of the springs.

Altheide thus probably achieves the distinction of being the only place in the world where the streets are washed with mineral water.

American Bids Send Prices Up On Shakespeare

By J. KINGSBURY SMITH
(International News Service)

LONDON, July 13.—With an American bidder in the unusual role of "runner-up," a copy of the First Folio Shakespeare, published in 1623 at five dollars, has been sold at Sotheby's auction rooms to an English firm for $42,500.

Due to the enormous sums the leading American collectors, led by Dr. Rosenbach, have recently been bidding for treasured English antiquities, it became generally acknowledged among English collectors that once an American bidder set himself on securing a particular article it was almost impossible to outbid him.

Thus when it was announced that Gabriel Wells, the American bookseller, was "out to get" this copy of the First Folio Sheakespeare, there were the usual lamentations that another bit of "Old English" was undoubtedly going to find its way to the New World.

Great was the surprise when Wells, after opening the bidding with an offer of $3,000 and keeping rapid pace with the bidding up to forty thousand dollars, let it go to the English firm for $42,500.

This copy is recognized as the second finest in existence, and the price was only $500 short of the auction maximum given by Rosenbach in 1922 for the Baroness Burdett-Coutts' impression, commonly known as the "Daniel" copy; which is considered the finest.

Col. Deeds Will Have Six Passenger Plane

Violinist Becomes Young Again After Being An Almshouse Inmate

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, July 13.—Rejuvenation treatment was seldom as successful as in the case of 70-year-old Wilhelm Buzetti, former musician, for many years an inmate of the Budapest almshouse.

Buzetti, whose trembling hands were unable to hold the violin before the rejuvenation operation, and whose only interest in life were meals and sleep, became a passionate musician once more, he played on his violin from early morning to late in the evening, quarreled with his "senile environment," which protested against his merry noisiness, and made love to all pretty women he met.

One day Buzetti disappeared from the almshouse. As he failed to show up for several days, the police were informed. The investigation brought a surprising result. Old-young Buzetti lived with a young girl in a small Budapest hotel, he gave music lessons and resolved never to become old again. He plans even to emigrate and to start a new life.

Mrs. Tribble suffered a fractured right leg below the knee and her husband received severe lacerations and bruises.

American Girl's Hindu Wedding May Help India

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 13.—Believing the recent marriage of the ex-maharajah to Miss Nancy Miller of Seattle has given the state an evil reputation, the government of Indore has decided to open a campaign to establish the country as an enlightened state, according to a Bombay dispatch to the Daily Mail.

Indore's premier, in announcing the campaign, points out that the marriage was greatly opposed in Indore. The premier has acted as head of the state since maharajah's abdication in favor of his son in 1926. The maharajah took this step, it will be recalled, following the Mumtaz Begum scandal.

Under the campaign, an ambition city improvement trust will be formed to modernize the capital. It will establish schools and attempt to develop industries and agriculture.

It is intended to present a radically altered kingdom to the ex-maharajah's son, Prince Yeshwant Rao Holkar, when he returns to Indore from England, where he is finishing his education.

Bandits Leave One Of Number Dead In Road

(International News Service)

EUREKA, Cal., July 13.—Smashing their way through a ring of officers in a pitched gun battle bandits who had held up the town of Willow Creek escaped into the hills in Northeast Humboldt county today leaving a deputy sheriff and one of their band dead in the road behind them.

The bandits four in number, swept down on Willow Creek, firing from both sides of their small automobile. They dashed into the Brizard general store, threatened clerks and escaped with a small safe said to contain approximately $6,000. Racing to the north they encountered a posse from Burnt Ranch at Slayer bridge, three miles north of Willow Creek. Deputies and bandits opened fire. Deputy Sheriff Charles Carpenter, 40, was shot through the head.

Afghanistan Women Win Rights Following King's European Trip

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 13.—The first result of the European trip of King Amanullah of Afghanistan is becoming apparent in his country.

Henceforth, no Afghanistan man may marry a woman without her consent.

Also, any man who wants to marry more than one woman must get not only the consent of the bride but also a special license from the court.

Heretofore, Afghaistans simply bought their brides—as many as they could afford—and took them home whether the brides wanted to go or not.

News of the drastic reform just reached German papers who opine that this reform is not so much the work of King Amanullah as of Queen Souriya.

Ramsay McDonald To Spend Summer At Woods Lake

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 13—J. Ramsay-MacDonald, first Labor premier of Great Britain and present leader of the Labor Party here, will spend his summer vacation this year in Canada.

Accompanied by his daughters, including the attractive and brilliant Ishbel, he will sail July 28, and will be away for approximately two months.

The trip will be the third MacDonald has paid to the British Dominion, and will be largely for rest and recuperation from recent strenuous Parliamentary sessions.

He will make his headquarters at the Lake of the Woods, near Winnipeg, but on his way there he will fulfill a number of speaking engagements in several cities and will visit Lord Willingdon, the governor-general.

Texas Professor To Study 'Lower Class' Citizens Of Mexico

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 13. — Riley Aiken, assistant professor of modern languages at Texas Christian university here, will spend his vacation this year, as he did in 1927, studying the habits of the "lower class citizens" of Old Mexico.

Last year, Aiken, with Prof. W. J. Hammond, hiked into the interior of Mexico as far as Monterey, making a study of the Mexican.

Aiken has made an extensive study of the border Mexican. He has lived among them much of his life and has devoted a great deal of his time to learning their philosophy, studying their psychology and collecting their folk lore. He hopes to popularize the border country and the Mexican as Octavus Roy Cohen has the negro of the Birmingham, Ala., section.

Aiken will make the trip alone this year and will make a survey of the border natives from El Paso to Laredo, studying the Mexican, both on this side of the Rio Grande and across the river. He will make the trip on foot, excepting where motorists offer him a "lift".

Despite the whirl of modern industry and commerce the Texas ranger with his Winchester rifle still rides guard on the sluggish Rio Grande as in the early days of the state and the border country still is a land rich in color and romance. Into this inviting field Aiken will begin again his study of the Mexican with fiction and fame his ultimate goal.

Paris Making Strides As Temperance City

Closes Home For Inebriates For Lack Of Occupants; Other Evidence

Paris is one of the most sober capitals and is each year rapidly becoming more temperate.

A home for inebriates in much demand before the war, has now been closed for lack of occupants, and the number of cases traced to alcoholism in lunatic asylums which before the war was 25 per cent, has fallen to 10 per cent today. Each year fewer individuals are being arrested for intoxication, the figures for 1927 being just half of those for 1913.

It must, however, be remarked that cases of arrests for drunkenness decreased without a break from 1912 until 1918. After the war the number rose a little way to 1923, and has has since steadily dropped, so that it is now lower than it has ever been, with every prospect of decreasing continually. This is heartening to those backing prohibition, for there has seemed scarcely any popular support of their efforts. The statistics, nevertheless, prove that temperance is rapidly growing in this city, says the Paris correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor.

Youthful Benedicts Dipped In Fountain

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSTON, W. Va., July 13.—Youthful benedicts of the past year have received their traditional "ducking" in the court house fountain here. Pursuing an old custom youths of the town assembled the "just wedded" men and plunged them into the fountain at the foot of the Statue of Chief Mingo.

The 60-cent article is worth 10 cents. The other 50 cents represents the cost of making you want it.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR GATHER FOR TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE

Detroit has been preparing for between 200,000 and 225,000 visitors to the triennial conclave of the Knights Templar, July 15-20. Every available passenger vessel on the Great Lakes was put under charter weeks ago to transport the Knights and their wives to and from Detroit. One of the high spots of the meeting is the parade of 50,000 men, taking six hours to pass a given point. Above, the new Masonic temple in which sessions are scheduled. George W. Vallery, of Denver, Colo., is the retiring grand master, and William L. Sharp, of Chicago, succeeds him.

Ideal Flying Weather For Mexico Hop

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, July 13.—Ideal flying weather was reported by the local weather bureau today all along the Gulf coast, the route probably taken by Capt. Emilio Carranza on his non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City.

The Mexican flyer is expected to reach the vicinity of Galveston, Tex., around noon today. He was not seen by New Orleans observers.

New Version Of Malmgren's Fate

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 13.—One version of Prof. Finn Malmgren's fate, published here today, stated that he died of cold and exposure on or about June 15. According to this source, Malmgren, being helpless from a broken wrist and frozen legs, begged his two companions A. Mariano and F. Zappi—to leave him at Brock Island, and continue their search for aid. They reluctantly did so, and no indication is given as to how Malmgren's death was verified. Mariano and Zappi said Malmgren was alive when they left him.

Males are supposed to be braver, but imagine one with only a dime making a salesman show him a thousand dollars worth of clothes.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Eighty-Eight Attend O. R. C. Lodge Picnic

Picnic Is Held At Cascade Park; Other News Of The Seventh Ward

Eighty-eight persons were in attendance at the annual lodge picnic held by the Ladies' Auxiliary No. 236 to Order of Railroad Conductors at Cascade Park, Thursday evening.

The picnic was for the members of the lodge and families and friends. The supper was at 6 o'clock. The table was attractively decorated in red, green and white tones, the lodge colors. An elaborate menu was enjoyed. Following the picnic supper the evening was spent with the park amusements and dancing.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Potter and son Eugene of Orrville, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Dennison of Erie, Pa., the latter people are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frew of Cedar street.

Committee in charge of the arrangements for the picnic was comprised of Mrs. E. L. Foster, Mrs. Ralph Allen and Mrs. H. S. Gillespie.

Seventeen were present at the meeting of the S. C. W. Bible class in the Mahoning Presbyterian church parlor Thursday evening. During the business meeting plans were made for a breakfast to be held at the park on the second Thursday of August. Committee named in charge, Mrs. L. N. Wilkison, Mrs. E. W. Smith, Mrs. G. H. Cook, Mrs. A. A. Maud and Mrs. I. C. Bowman.

After the business meeting a social hour was spent in chat and later refreshments were served by the associate hostesses, Mrs. H. E. Rhodes, Mrs. R. W. Hamilton and Mrs. W. F. McClurg.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS?

Had rather thought this idea of a black cat crossing the street in front of you and bringing you bad luck was a thing of the past. But it wasn't with one man this morning.

It may have been because this is Friday the 13th, and he wasn't taking any chances, but any way, not mentioning any name, he came down Fourth street from Clayton street and started down Madison avenue but seeing a perfectly harmless black cat crossing from one side of the Madison avenue to the other a few feet in front of him, turned and walked back half a square and continued down Fourth street to Cherry street and then down Cherry to Liberty street.

He seemed to think I should do the same as he did, but not being superstitious, didn't suppose the street car would wait while I walked an extra square on account of a black cat. Since anyway this cat resides on this street and is liable to cross the street at any time of the day, it might cause many extra squares to be walked, if one was very superstitious.

HAVE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Oldaker of Lynchburg, O., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Mercer of West Madison avenue.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Kenneth Walter and children Vera Betty, Bobby and James of W. Clayton street and Miss Lucile McGuire of Cedar street have returned home after visiting with relatives for over two weeks at Marceline, Mo.

Four Opinions In Local Cases Are Handed Down

One Case Is Reversed And Three Offirmed By The Superior Court Decisions

Four opinions in cases taken to the Superior court from Lawrence county were handed down at Philadelphia yesterday. In the case of Mrs. Isabelle Burke McLure, against the New Castle Dry Goods company, which was tried before Judge Chambers, the lower court is reversed and judgment is directed to be entered for the defendant.

This was a case in which Mrs. McLure sued the New Castle Dry Goods Co. company for damages as a result of a fall on a stairway in the defendant's building. It was claimed that the stairway had been made slippery by washing. The jury awarded the plaintiff a verdict of $1100, and the defense to asked for a new trial. When this was refused an appeal was taken. The opinion means that the Dry Goods company will not pay the verdict.

In the case of Sebastian Conti against the New Castle Lime and Stone company, which was tried here before Judge Henninger of Butler the verdict was affirmed. This case was tried twice. The first verdict was in favor of the plaintiff for $1079.17 and the second, $1310. Plaintiff claimed damages to his property near Hillsville by reason of blasting and dust from the plant of defendant. Under the decision plaintiff gets the damages.

In the case of Delaware-Lackawanna Railroad company against Max Ludwig, tried before Judge Hildebrand, judgment was affirmed. Claim of plaintiffs allowed by the court and affirmed was for $490.45. It was carried up on questions of law raised by the affidavit of defense.

In the case of John and Frank Birodi against Isadore Yanosevich, tried before Judge Hildebrand, the decision of the lower court is affirmed. The case was a suit in equity, growing out of an injunction restraining defendant from making certain altercations about the Majestic theatre in Ellwood City.

Whose Rooster? Police Inquire!

At the police station, there is at present a very much alive rooster in a potato sack, which is awaiting a claimant as its owner. The rooster was found hanging in the sack in a shed at the back of the lot of Sam Tomasello, 113 West Washington street. It was turned over to and brought to the police station by Officer Robert Letera.

Under Sea Life Is Shown In Collection At Peabody Museum

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 13.—Life beneath the surface of the sea has been reproduced to an amazing degree in the vast Peabody museum of natural history at Yale and for two years at least will continue to attract attention. Harry Payne Bingham's oceanographic collection is the medium of showing to humans what life in the midst of the deep is like. More than 3,000 items collected by the New York explorer in the course of three expeditions that carried him through the Bay of Panama, the Gulf of California, and the Bahama and Bermuda Islands and produced a lot of things science hadn't even dreamed of.

A fourteen-foot sword fish is a chief feature in the exhibit but here are sharks up to eight feet long, a green moray that reminds the spectator of the sea serpent of tradition, a three-hundred pound jew fish, and a seven foot weak-fish there also. Then the barracuda is there, and so are the puffers, trigger-fish, surgeonfish, cow-fish, and trunk-fish, Amberjack, rooster-fish and lady-fish, wrasses, parrot-fish, angel-fish, dolphin, hound-fish, flying-fish and a great collection of groupers are on display.

Wilfrid S. Bronson's oil and water-color paintings of the sea life are shown with the Bingham collection and tell of more than one hundred species of fish.

Ohio Coal Fields Are Reopening As Strike Is Broken

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—With reports that many mines in eastern and southeastern Ohio coal fields are reopening, the coal strike, so far as this state is concerned, is practically broken, according to J. L. Good, secretary of the Ohio Coal bureau here in a statement. Operators are now turning their attention toward regaining their markets, now their biggest problem.

Re-opening of the mines is partly due, Good explained, to the attitude taken by former union miners in applying for work at their old jobs and partly by the stimulation of the trade by the new lake freight rates.

The Rail and River company is to start loading coal at its Stewart, Athens county, O., mine, where 200 former employes under the Jacksonville scale of wages have signified their intention of starting to work under a $5 scale, Good said.

Agreements between operators and miners at three other mines are expected to be completed shortly.

The Sauters Coal company, the Warner Collieries company, and the Wheeling and Lake Erie Coal company, all having main offices in Cleveland have started production again at Martins Ferry, Tiltonville and New Lafferty, respectively, the coal bureau reported.

Use Biggest Magnet To Draw Diamonds From Bed Of Ocean

SAINT NAZAIRE, July 13.—The world's biggest electro magnet will be used in the attempt to draw up ten million dollars worth of diamonds from the Congo, which were on the Belgian liner "Elisabethville" which went down in 1917.

The work of salvaging is being organized in this port. The Italian salvage-boat Artiglio has just left here to engage in operations on the liner which was torpedoed while returning from Africa. It carried a valuable cargo besides the diamonds.

The Artiglio carries four expert divers. As the currents are very strong in the spot where the wreck is supposed to lie, elaborate precautions are being made to attach safety lines to the objects which are to be hoisted by the magnet.

The divers will first attempt to reach the captain's cabin where the diamonds were placed and then blow a hole in the side with dynamite cartridges.

Berlin Shows Big Automobile Sales

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 13—Automobiles are steadily gaining ground in Germany.

There are now more than 75,000 automobiles and motorcycles in use in Berlin alone, and this number will probably be increased by about 5,000 every month during this season. In Berlin dealers sold no less than 3,523 new cars and more than 2,000 motorcycles. The police automobile department has just issued a statement showing that in the first half of June an average of 265 licenses per day were issued for new cars and motorcycles.

At the same time German automobile exports doubled during the last 12 months. While there were cars totalling five million marks exported during the first quarter of 1927, the export of automobiles during the same period of 1928 amounted to 10 million marks.

This was mainly due to an increased demand for German passenger cars. The export of trucks dropped from 3,600,000 to 2,200,000 marks during the last 12 months. But the import of foreign, especially American trucks, also dropped from 439 to 55 during that period.

In the passenger car line, however, foreign competition in the German automobile market made itself more felt than ever. While the value of imported cars for the first three months of 1927 amounted to 14,700,000 marks, the figure rose to 18,400,000 marks for the same period of this year, though the second quarter of 1927 had been put up a record with 23,600,000 marks of imported cars.

Three In Auto Taken By Officer

About 2:30 o'clock this morning Officer Crisswell arrested and brought to the police station Robert Kerr, Albelt Lucot and Tony Versece, whom he found riding around in the Kerr car in a manner that demanded attention.

On stopping the car he found a small quantity of liquor at the feet of the men. All disclaimed ownership of the bottle. They were coming out of an alley onto Moravia street when arrested. They were all fined on charges of disorderly conduct by Mayor William H. Gillespie this morning, Kerr paying $25 and the others $5 each.

ROAD NEAR COMPLETION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 13.—The Brownsville and Pittsburgh road which runs through Washington county will be completed on August 1, according to an announcement made by T. C. Herbert, superintendent of the local district of the state highway department.

Mr. Reed favors "impartial enforcement". Everybody will agree enforcement has been partial in one sense.

Here's a recipe for coolness: At breakfast, take a bowl and fill it full of crisp Kellogg's Corn Flakes.★ Pour in some nice cool milk and add some fruit for extra flavor. Next a spoon—then, just enjoy yourself!

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

★ Kellogg's are the original corn flakes! No imitations have ever equaled their wonderful flavor and crispness.

Serve Kellogg's for lunch and dinner as well as breakfast. Never tough-thick. Extra crisp. With milk or cream—with fruits or honey added.

Order at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias. On dining-cars. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Always oven-fresh!

Writes From Cairo, Seeking News Of Her Brother Here

A letter was received at the police station today for Henry Dysart, in his former capacity of chief of police, from Mrs. Jean S. T. Giovanni of Cairo, Egypt, in which she is seeking information concerning her brother John Theologos, said to have been a resident of this city at some time.

The letter was turned over to the police authorities and an investigation is underway in an effort to secure information concerning the man, whose sister desires to get in touch with.

The letter states that it is a long time since she has heard from her brother. She had written the War department at Washington, D. C., the letter states and she had a reply stating that he had been serving as a soldier of the United States in Ohio in 1924 and on July 23, 1927 had been honorably discharged. At that time he gave his address as New Castle, Pa.

The department had no further information concerning him. The local police are making every possible effort to get information concerning this man and will appreciate any information that may be given him.

PAY LAST ESTIMATE

Council in session at city hall ordered payment of a final estimate, $431.14 to Gilfillan Electrical company for wiring the South Jefferson street firehouse.

The Bible tells us the earth was created for man, and the average fellow thinks he is the man.

GRADE VOGAN AVENUE

Council has approved plans and specifications for the grading of Vogan avenue between East Washington and Cascade streets and instructed the city clerk to ask bids at a meeting of council today.

COW CLEARS GROUND BY FOOT

This purebred shorthorn cow is declared by its owner, Theodore J. Tegeler, stockman, near Battle Creek, Mich., to be the smallest of its kind in the world. The cow, seven years old, weighs 374 pounds and is 36 inches tall. She measures only three feet from the root of the tail to the forepart of her withers, and there is only a foot between the ground and her chest. Her owner is not tall, yet the cow does not reach to his waistline.

Old Main Tower Near Completion

Masonry Work Will Soon Be Completed; News Notes Of New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, July 13. — A few more feet of masonry work is all that is necessary for the completion of the Old Main Memorial tower of the new college administration in the process of construction here. The tower is so near complete now that it reaches above the highest points of the college village and may be seen from miles out in the country.

Other work on the college structure is now moving more rapidly, and it is expected that both the roof and the flooring will be finished soon.

New Wilmington's social light turns this afternoon to 341 Waugh avenue where Mrs. Filmore Campbell is entertaining at an informal bridge and tea.

Miss Isabel Bell who has been visiting for a few days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark returned to her home in Washington, D. C., yesterday.

T. O. Hogue took a short business trip to Youngstown yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. McConnell of Canonsburg is visiting relatives here.

The New Wilmington school board has announced that the college town public school will receive a coat of paint before the opening of the fall semester.

In the absence of Jack Hulme, who is now at Camp Philips with 12 of the local Boy Scouts, George Herriott is the lifesaver and caretaker of the local swimming pool. "Jack" is expected back the first part of next week.

Soviet Farm Co-Eds Go On Hunger Strike Against Men Rule

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, July 13.—Twenty-three co-eds in the Shchapovsky agricultural institute, near Moscow, went on a 10-day hunger strike as a protest against the "dictatorship of the males" and in defense of one of their number, Vola, who was disciplined by being starved for four days.

Vola earned her board as assistant manager of the dining room. The boys, who have been carrying on a systematic campaign against the girls "to keep them in their place," complained that she showed favoritism in seating the girls in the most advantageous positions so that they got the best and biggest helpings of food.

The principal has taken the side of the boys throughout their prosecution of the girls and on their complaint meted out the starvation punishment to Vola. When the girls protested the principal laughed and said, "She can stand it. In India they fast 30 days."

When Vola had to be taken to the hospital with a serious stomach disorder, the girls called a hunger strike. They were threatened with expulsion but they refused to eat. Several were taken ill before rumors of the hunger strike leaked out and Moscow authorities put an end to the disorders.

Many Bond Holders Fail To Turn Them In; Interest Ceases

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—American investors, chiefly through carelessness, are losing $1,800,000 annually, because they have failed to turn into the treasury department government securities which have ceased to draw interest.

A recapitulation of the public debt available today at the treasury, disclosed that there is outstanding $45,535,000 in bonds which draw no interest. If these bonds were presented for retirement the proceeds could be converted into the new 3 3-8 per cent 12-15 year bonds, recently issued, or other securities.

Typhoid Epidemic Feared By Moscow

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, July 13.—An epidemic of typhus in its most virulent form is threatening Moscow. The health department has issued a warning to that effect and is preparing to take all steps to check the spread of the disease.

There are now 20 cases registered in the city, where three are considered normal. This is the highest number of cases on record at any time since the epidemic in 1923 when thousands died.

The disease was spread to Moscow by jobless peasants from Riazan where there are 174 cases. The health department proposes a strict examination of all persons coming to Moscow from Riazan, and even contemplates allowing only those with special permits to enter the city.

More than a thousand cases of scarlet fever in the contagious hospitals are also causing some anxiety, although a serious epidemic is not feared. There are nearly a hundred cases of diphtheria and 169 of typhoid fever.

Auto Death Rate In New York State Is Below Average

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 12.—The automobile death rate among the industrial population of the Empire State's cities is not only below the average of the country at large but well below that of cities in New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania, according to a bulletin prepared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The survey points out that three out of every ten fatalities of all kinds occurring in industrial centers throughout the country last year resulted from the operation of motor vehicles.

The fatality rate for this state was 16.8 per 100,000, while the rate for the country at large was 19.1 per 100,000. The rates for the adjoining states were: New Jersey, 22.4; Pennsylvania, 20.4 and Connecticut, 17.8 per 100,000. Idaho with 62.4 per 100,000 had the highest rate of any state.

The automobile fatality rate for Canada, while at present a little more than half that for the United States, has been increasing rapidly in recent years. The increase in auto fatalities in this country have been increasing more rapidly among the negroes than among the whites.

Miss Jane Carroll To Sing Leading Roles In Opera

Former Reading Girl Is Given Important Parts In Metropolitan Grand Opera

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Miss Jane Carroll, formerly of Louisville, Ky., and Reading, Pa., whose engagement to sing important mezzo soprano roles at the world's leading opera house, The Metropolitan, has just been announced, today attributed her success not to hard work but to her ability to relax.

"That is relax almost to the point of sheer laziness," she smilingly remarked.

Chess is her favorite recreation. When she gets through a hard day practising she doesn't do what so many other opera stars do—take a vigorous walk or tramp over the golf links. She moves kings and queens around on the chess board, or reads a book.

"I don't care for athletics," she said.

She is taking her success quite casually.

"I'm being congratulated on my grand opera engagement," she said, "But my enjoyment has been somewhat marred by a toothache. But I'm very happy, just the same."

Miss Carroll is only 24. Born in Louisville she first faced a New York audience as one of the beauties in Ziegfeld's "Follies". She sang in a number of other musical productions. Her real name is Helen Howard, and she is the daughter of T. C. Howard, an efficiency expert of Reading. She is not married, although she was married once, and she admits she may marry again.

FORD IS LIKELY TO AID HOOVER IN HIS CAMPAIGN

sion from Ford by the time the campaign gets under way and to broadcast it to every corner of the country, as an antidote for the Raskob endorsement of Smith.

There appeared little doubt among Republican leaders that Ford would be a generous contributor to Hoover's campaign. Likewise there appeared little doubt but that Raskob would be a generous contributor to Smith's campaign.

If Ford should take no active part, other than to issue an endorsing statement for Hoover, his dollars, at least, would be fighting those of Raskob. The two men incidentally have been bitter business foes for many years, although recently Ford announced he did not contemplate a business war against Raskob's General Motors Corporation.

Hoover undoubtedly will confer with Ford during the campaign, and possibly the Republican nominee may receive some advice from the motor king on the subject of organizing his campaign. There meeting however will not be possible until after Hoover returns from California in late August.

To Leave For West

The nominee virtually closed up his affairs today as secretary of commerce. When he leaves tomorrow for the West, his desk will be clear and the departmental affairs in shape to turn over to his successor.

President Coolidge probably will announce the appointment of a successor within a few days after Hoover's visit to Brule, where they doubtless will confer on that subject.

Hoover will leave here with his campaign mapped out but with the details to be carried into effect. Hubert Work, the Republican national chairman, will follow Hoover westward for a series of conferences with party leaders clear across the continent.

On his way west, numerous leaders are expected to board his train for brief conferences with the nominee. Hoover also will make appearances from the rear platform of his train wherever crowds congregate at the stations. Otherwise, he is about to go into retirement until his notification August 11.

START MOVE TO BAN FIREWORKS

Ordinance Is Introduced Into Council At Session This Morning

Council in session today at the City building took steps to prohibit the exhibition of wares, merchandise and obstructions within the lines of public streets and the sale, possession or discharge of fireworks here

The ordinances were introduced by Councilman Reeves, father of the movement to clear the sidewalks and eliminate dangerous obstructions though Mayor Gillespie is the actual father of the movement to ban fireworks.

The bills were sent to committee but were not given consideration for the only reason that council did not meet in committee.

The ordinance to ban displays from sidewalks and also iron railings and photographers booths, which while not mentioned specifically in the bill are the target of Councilman Reeves, has grown from a desire to clear the streets of obstructions inasmuch as pedestrian traffic is heavy and some sidewalks have been narrowed.

Mayor Gillespie believes that the fireworks is injurious to persons, not to say anything of the annoyance and the fact that heavy detonations can be made equally as heavy in an inch and a half 'cracker' as a longer piece of fireworks.

Holy Name Society To Select Officers

Will Attend Mass In Body On Sunday Morning At St. Vitus Church

St. Vitus branch of the Holy Name Society will attend the 8:30 a. m. mass in St. Vitus church Sunday morning in a body. There will be special services and it is expected that the entire membership of the organization will be in attendance at this time.

After the services the members will meet in the basement of the church to elect officers to serve for one year. Considerable interest has been manifested in the society since its organization in St. Vitus parish and this branch is now one of the largest in this district.

This evening at eight o'clock the present officers of the branch will meet in St. Vitus parish home for the purpose of planning for a record attendence on Sunday and also other matters of importance to the members of the church.

NEW REPORT SAYS MALMGREN LEFT ON BARREN ISLE

Mystery in Malmgren Case

MOSCOW, July 13.—Fresh wireless advices from the Russian ice breaker Krassin today showed that the Soviet Nobile relief committee was in error when it formally announced yesterday that Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish scientist with the Nobile expedition, had died on a floe a month ago and that his body had been taken aboard the steamship.

All announcements concerning the alleged death of Prof. Malmgren had been given out by the Soviet relief committee as radiograms from the Krassin.

Capt. Samoyolovich, master of the Krassin, after proceeding to the floe where the little group of refugees under Lieut. A. Viglieri was marooned and picking them up, sent further radio reports throwing fresh light upon the fate of Prof. Malmgren.

According to the latest advices there is hope that Malmgren may still be alive. The story told by these messages follows:

Was Left Behind

Prof. Malmgren suffered a broken wrist and frozen legs. Realizing that he could not keep up with his companions, Alfred Mariano and Filippo Zappi, the disabled scientist begged to be left behind at Brock Island so that he would not jeopardize the others' chances of safety.

Malmgren, according to these dispatches, finally induced his comrades to leave him at the island and to proceed alone. After long argument they consented.

The mystery over the announcement of Malmgren's death was deepened by the detail which accompanied it. These details gave the announcement every appearance of authenticity.

Mariano and Zappi, according to the latest version, left the region of Brock Island, continuing their journey on the ice. Their food ran out and they found themselves trapped upon a block of ice about 25 feet wide. They wrapped themselves in heavy blankets in an effort to keep from freezing to death, lying down upon the ice to conserve their strength.

The ice crashed all about them, being described as a noise "like the grinding of a flour mill". At times masses of ice swept over the men's little refuge, compelling them to hang on for their lives.

The blankets became frozen bags. Suddenly land was sighted.

Zappi scrambled to his feet and prepared to jump. But Mariano could not follow. One of Mariano's legs had become frozen. Zappi refused to abandon his companion. He remained on the ice floe with Mariano and the floe was carried by wind and current away from the shore.

RESCUE GUESTS AS HOTEL BURNS

Volunteer Firemen Carry 25 Guests Out Of Burning Hotel

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13—Twenty-five socially prominent guests of the Green Hill Farm hotel on the outskirts of the city were rescued early today when flames swept the hostelry. The guests, dressed in night attire, were carried to safety by 12 Legionnaires who were attending a dance nearby.

Four women and two firemen and a Legionnaire were overcome by smoke but were revived by Dr. William McGinnis one of the veterans.

The blaze is believed to have started from a short-circuited wire in the storeroom. The fourth floor was badly damaged.

William C. Schriver a World War veteran and comrade of Sergeant York when he captured 225 German prisoners during the World War led the volunteer firemen.

Makes Bequest To Mission Work

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 13.—An estate of nearly $100,000 has been bequeathed to the United Christian church missionary society in the will of Dr. Sidney S. Stahl of Connellsville, it was learned today.

Mrs. Ella I. Stahl, the widow, and daughter, Bessie, are instructed in the will to convert the estate into cash and to turn two-thirds of the fund to the missionary society. The remaining one-third goes to the widow and the daughter.

Dr. Stahl also specified that $1,000 is to go to the Yotsuya mission in Japan, where Dr. W. D. Cunningham formerly of Connellsville, is stationed.

Prohibitionists Name Candidates

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 13.—William F. Varney of Rockville Center, L. I., N. Y., and James A. Edgerton, Alexandria, Va., are the standard bearers for the prohibition party in the Presidential race.

Varney, field secretary for the party in New Jersey from 1912 to 1919, was nominated for President, and Mr. Edgerton, a former populist and independent league worker, was nominated for vice president at the closing session late yesterday.

ALLEGED BREACH OF CONTRACT CLAIMED

Suit has been entered at the prothonotary's office by the Holland Furnace Company against C. E. Friday for $123.86, the bill growing out of an alleged breach of contract. The furnace company claims that Friday contracted for a hot air heater and other work amounting to $459, and that the contract for the heater was afterwards cancelled. The amount claimed by plaintiffs is for loss of profits, agents' commission and other expenses incurred in the case.

Hunters Allowed To Kill Doe Deer

Game Laws State Each Member Of Party May Shoot One Doe In Season

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 13.—Each member of a hunting party will be allowed to shoot one doe deer, a summary of the game laws made by the board of game commissioners today disclosed. The number of bucks allowed to each party, regardless of size, always has been limited to six.

Decision to open the state to the shooting of does and prohibit the killing of bucks was made at the May meeting of the board. At that time no announcement was made regarding the number limit for hunting parties. Any antlerless deer weighing more than 50 pounds may be shot from December 1 to 15.

Party limits for bear remain at four and elk one. In each case as in that of deer, a hunter is not permitted to shoot more than one. First year bear and elk, except those having at least four points to each antler, are protected.

Because of the drastic changes in the regulations governing the shooting of small game the board intends to make every effort to acquaint each individual hunter with the various schedules which will be permitted. Each applicant for a hunter's license will be given a copy of the new code and an educational campaign carried on through organizations of sportsmen.

Seasons for all small game have been lengthened, but killing will be permitted only on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week.

The entire state will be closed to the shooting of blackbirds, Hungarian partridges and reed birds. Westmoreland, Fayette and Somerset counties have been closed to the shooting of wild turkeys until 1931.

SIGHTS YACHT SEVEN HUNDRED MILES OFF COAST

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Clipping along with all sails set and a favoring wind astern, the yacht Zodiac, one of the competitors in the trans-Atlantic race for the Queen of Spain's cup, was sighter 700 miles off New York by the Lloyd Sabaudo liner Conte Biancamano the liner reported today.

"All's well" was the Zodiac's message to the liner when their courses crossed at dawn Wednesday. The Conte Biancamano docked today.

Get Card Index Of Customers In Liquor Raid

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—A prize list, containing the names of 1,000 prominent Philadelphians, fell into the hands of federal prohibition agents today as a result of a surprise raid on the Stenton Pharmacy, in the central section of the city.

Several quarts of alleged liquor were seized and the alleged proprietors, Leon A. Stillman and Louis Mays, were arrested. The liquor was discovered in a secret cache behind the soda fountain.

The card index file with its list of exclusive clients also contained the names of two prohibition agents who had managed to gain access to the pharmacy and secure the evidence which resulted in the Raid.

State Highways Badly Damaged By Many Storms

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 13.—Daily storms of unusual violence are causing more damage to the improved roads of the state than at any time in the history of the department of highways, officials said today.

Maintenance forces in all sections of the state have been called almost daily to remove blockades, repair sections damaged by high water and construck temporary bridges, it was said.

The storms also have kept new construction totals far below the usual average at this time of the year.

What will we do when birth control kills off the upper class? Probably get our great men from the other class as usual.

Lad Rivals Prince

Boy, Jockey, 13, Of Royal Lineage, Becomes Sensation Of European Turf; Could Teach Wales Something

By ALEXANDER C. HERMAN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

MARSEILLES, France, July 13.—A 13-year-old English jockey is the sensation of the European racing season.

His full name is Frederick Mulgrave Patrick Mainwaring-Taylor. But he is Pat to the crowds; and Taylor to the French Press (which is very dignified on its sports pages.)

He is of royal British blood, and could well give the Prince of Wales—to whom he must be related through some outer branch of the family tree—some good pointers on avoiding croppers.

His First Season Out

This is Pat's first season professionally. And he has already won the Prix de Mourepaine—an important, high-falutin' race here, where the boy wasn't even conceded an outsider's chance to show. He finished second in two other important races, and is fast becoming another Steve Donoghue, or a Sande. Some smart American enterprenuer might bring the three together and make some good pocket money.

For Pat is some drawing card. The French papers call him a "good little devil," "a precocious knight," "a gallant cavalier." He is all three combined when riding a horse. But above all else he is a perfect sportsman.

This sportiness is a family trait. His father, now commander of the Madras Guards, in India, distinguished himself in the war. He won numerous citations, the D. S. O. Military Cross and French Croix de Guerre.

Imposing Family Tree

He is a nephew of Captain J. M. Downes-Martin, Captain of Rugby School Fifteen; a cousin of R. A. Lloyd of the famous Irish Rugby International; and godson of Lord Frederick Fitzgerald (son of the late Duke of Leinster). Going farther back, the boy is a descendant of Queen Margaret of Scotland and heir of Harold of England(defeated by William the Conqueror). Through another quirk, he comes from the Irish branch of the family of Washington Irving.

All of which would be enough tough living down in any paddock. But Pat is such a good rider, and such a sportsman, he outclasses his antecedents.

He was nominated for the Guards at birth (which means that he could have wound up in comfort in the army). But the youngster turned to horses instead. And his mother was wise enough to let him follow his inclination.

He says he is going to stick to the track.

If he does—and Pat looks as if he always does what he says—chalk him down in your memory. He will keep popping up in the news again and again.

Watermelons Here For Everybody

Big Shipments Reach City In Past Few Days; Lemons Also In Demand

Sufficient watermelons have been brought into the city in the past week to furnish every family in New Castle with at least one.

The watermelon, peach and canteloupe are the big sellers this time of the year and will remain until the watermelon and picnicking season comes to a close.

The much famed and highly touted grape fruit of the past few months is now almost a thing of the past for a time.

After the passing of cold weather and hot breakfasts the grape fruit sales starts dropping off and by this time of the year they have almost completely departed.

The lemon has arrived and sales of this fruit in the summer are nearly double the winter output.

Potatoes are not selling at the average output but it is not because they are fattening. The crop down in the Carolinas was late this spring and the result has been an overproduction to that of other years. The swet potato though not out of season does not sell this time of the year.

The apples sell throughout the winter and into the early summer until the local crop is being plucked. Then the peach sale reaches its peak until fall when the local peach crop materializes.

Produce companies find no profit in handling fruits that are being raised locally. The winter season being the biggest season for selling and this time of the year one of the lowest. However the banana and watermelon sales mount up at their earliest arrival until the close of the season.

When you see a car of watermelons coming in by freight you will know that aboard that car are approximately 1,000 melons. Each car of cantelopes contains about 50 crates or about 2,000 melons.

TEXAS GUINAN IS STILL TALKING OF NIGHT CLUB ATTACK

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Texas Guinan does not care much for Mr. Worthington, the man who leaped into prominence by calling night clubs and their hostesses bad names.

"I'll say to him what they say in Texas," she said today. "Either use that gun or put it away. His gun didn't even smoke. He's yellow. Why don't he come out in the open and name the places he found immoral? His vice investigation was probably conducted in Sixth avenue soda fountains. That committee of 14 don't know vice when they see it. If they should see it they'd probably hug it to death."

RAIN HALTS GAME.

Olympic Teams Have Work-Out On Shipboard Enroute

(International News Service)

ON BOARD S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, VIA RADIO, July 13.—All the American athletic teams enroute for the Olympic games at Amsterdam except the track team had a light workout today on shipboard.

Lawson Robertson, of Pennsylvania, head track and field coach, says there will be very little running on board. The men will go through the motions on mats and through calesthenics instead.

The New York athletes raised a fund to pay the passage of Frank Hussey, one of the three stowaways found on board yesterday. Hussey was former national sprint champion. The Olympic committee has provided Hussey with the necessary credentials, although he will not compete in any events.

The other two stowaways—Hugo Leistner, San Francisco hurdler, and Clyde Blanchard, University of Arizona hurdler—are still under arrest and are confined to the ship's brig.

Hamilton Made Senate Secretary

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 13.—A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary to Governor John S. Fisher, today was appointed secretary of the senate effective August 1 and until such time as his successor shall be elected, according to an announcement by State Senator Horace W. Schantz of this city.

Hamilton succeeds the late W. Harry Baker, whose position had been left vacant since his death several months ago. The appointment was made by Senator Schantz by virtue of his office as president pro tempore of the senate.

Close State To Shooting Of Blackbirds In Effort To Check Law Violations

HARRISBURG, July 13.—In an effort to protect game of all kinds, the Board of Game Commissioners has decided to close the entire State to shooting of blackbirds during 1928, it was announced today. Formerly the season extended from August 1 to November 30.

Decision to stop shooting of blackbirds resulted from the many game law violations by hunters who claimed they were seeking that bird. Records in the commission show that at least 10 per cent of the annual game law violations were committed by hunters who claimed to be after blackbirds.

As small birds of all kinds are killed for food in a number of foreign countries, many of such violations were charged to foreign-born residents. Robins, flickers and doves also fell in large numbers to such hunters, who usually gave as an excuse that they "looked like blackbirds."

Members of the commission believe that closing the blackbird season not only will deprive illegal hunters of an excuse for being in the woods prior to the small game open season but also will save valuable birds of other kinds.

Charge Trio With Stripping Summer Home At Uniontown

(International News Service)

Sabbath Association Of Pittsburgh Will Keep Up Battle Despite Opinion

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—Refusing to be discouraged by the state superior court's quashing of their case against the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, the Sabbath Association of Pittsburgh is still determined today that it will not tolerate Sunday concerts.

Through their attorney, William H. Pratt, the association has made plain that the "very next breach of the law of 1794 will result in arrests and another case similar to this one."

The state superior court at Philadelphia quashed the Sabbath Association's case on technical grounds yesterday. The case began when nine members of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society were arrested for staging a Sunday concert.

The musicians were fined $25 each and appealed the case to the quarter sessions of Allegheny county which reversed the decision. The Sabbath Association then appealed the decision to the superior court.

In discussing the case Pratt said that the decision of the superior court has left the case in the same status and there are two things that can be done: Appeal to the state supreme court and the United States supreme court or to go through the same case again.

"Are you a wet or a dry?"

"I'm a dry," answered Senator Sorghum. "And all I ask is that the people who claim to be also dry will cut off relations with bootleggers." Washington Star.

Indian Village Is Opened By Second Group

The Indian village at Camp John M. Phillips was officially opened Thursday for the second camping period, under the direction of Ted Ropp. John Boston, who was first assigned to be in charge, has been transferred to his old job as camp clerk.

Ted Ropp, the present Indian chief, was the leader of patrols competing in the camporee for the last two years, and is a very proficient camper. A very able leader, he is well liked by the boys at the village, who are Clyde Shannon, Harry Shannon, Charles Criss, Jim Kanengeiser, Carl Kanengeiser, James Ullom, Tom Rogers, Hans Holm and Guff Moore.

Much to the delight of the Scouts, reville was blown one hour later Thursday morning. Inspection was won by Hut Rentz of the Kit Carson stockade with a score of 92 per cent. Many Scouts passed tests and received awards.

Most of the discord in this vale of tears is coming from the people who are singing their own praise.

Leaves New York On Projected Non-Stop Flight To Mexico City

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 13.—Captain Emilio Carranza, Mexican good-will flyer, who hopped off from here for Mexico City last night in his Ryan monoplane Excelsior, expects to complete the 2700-mile non-stop flight by 1 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Carranza's plane is powered by a single Wright whirlwind motor of 225 horsepower. The plane has a cruising speed of about 100 miles an hour, consuming about ten gallons of gasoline per hour. It has a cruising radius of about 4,000 miles, as 400 gallons of gasoline were carried.

Under normal conditions the plane had fuel sufficient to last about 40 hours.

Carranza started his return flight between thunderstorms. Only a few mechanics saw the take-off, although a huge crowd had assembled late in the afternoon. The Mexican ace had resigned himself to another postponement until a sudden break in the storm caused him to change his plans.

Carranza said he would head for Washington and then follow his compass home. The fact that his plane had not been sighted early today caused no alarm here, because it carried no lights.

Fake Cries For Help End In Real Drowning

COLUMBUS, O., July 13.—The old story of the boy who cried "wolf" was re-enacted in a different form here yesterday in the drowning of Mrs. Irene Rothwell aged 26 while swimming in Big Walnut creek.

Seeking to play a joke on her companions Mrs. Rothwell twice called for help and twice laughed at her friends who hastened to rescue her from supposed danger.

The third time she called they gave no heed and the young woman who had gotten beyond her depth drowned.

Golden Wedding Is Quietly Celebrated By Beaver Couple

BEAVER, Pa., July 13.—Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson, College avenue, lifelong residents of Beaver, quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. A family dinner was a feature. The guests included relatives. A reception followed. Dr. Wilson also celebrated the 50th anniversary in the practice of his profession. Both Dr. and Mrs. Wilson wer born in Beaver.

Mrs. Wilson was Miss Evelyn Weyand, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Weyand. Her father was a pioneer publisher and editor of Beaver county. They have two children Dr. Fred B. Wilson and Miss Juliet Wilson both of Beaver. Among the guests at the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsay, Ben Avon; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Carson, Pittsburgh and Florida; Mrs. A. P. Marshall, Cleveland, O. and Mrs. Clarence Eakin, of Prospect, Pa.

THREE INJURED IN MOTOR CRASH

AMBRIDGE, Pa., July 13.—Three persons, two men and a woman were slightly injured when an automobile collided headon with a street car in Merchant street.

Mrs. Mary Harding, 325 Thirteenth street a passenger in the street car and Alfred Paddock, Sewickley, driver of the automobile and a companion whose name was not learned were removed to the office of Dr. C. S. McGeorge where all three were treated for bruises and lacerations.

40 Million Dollar Loss!

HARRISBURG, July 13.—"Cut, dig out and destroy all weeds," says Secretary of Agriculture, C. G. Jordan. "Why? Because they cost the Pennsylvania farmers 40 millions of dollars annually. They are his worst foe. This is sufficient argument for their destruction.

"When should this work be done? 'Behold, now is the accepted time.' While in bloom, before the seeds form, grind your scythe, sharpen your hoes and get busy.

"Who should cut the weeds? All farmers; all owners or operators of uncultivated land (who are as a rule our worst offenders); the Highway Department; manufacturers; coal operators; railroad operators, both steam and electric; school directors; borough and city councils; and all other persons responsible for lands overgrown by weeds.

State Law Requires Weed Cutting

"The law of Pennsylvania gives public officials the authority to cut and destroy two of our worst weeds—Canada thistle and chicory, and charge the cost to the owner of the land. My suggestion is that you cut your own weeds, save officials the trouble, and keep the money for the work in your pocket.

"Canada thistle and chicory are not the only destructive weeds. The oxeye daisy is spreading very rapidly in Pennsylvania and should be cut or dug out before the seed forms. Wild mustard is practically taking thousands of acres of land in our Commonwealth. Get after it. The morning glory is a real pest in many localities. Turn your hogs in. They will dig out the large juicy roots as they seem to like them almost as well as corn. Quack grass should be hoed or mowed down before the seed forms. Destroy the devil's paint brush before it devils you to death.

"George A. Stuart, of the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, can tell you how to get rid of your wild garlic. Do you have wild carrots? Turn in your sheep and they will take care of them. Sheep are the best weed destroyers we have and also give the farmer his easiest money. They will clean up your farm and fill your pocketbook. Cows will take care of elder bushes and other brush and at the same time will furnish cream for your strawberries.

Free Weed Bulletin

"Send to the Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa., for our free weed bulletin, also get in touch with your county agent for additional information.

"Cut and destroy weeds and brush of every kind in order that your farm as well as your State may look beautiful and prosperous.

"My exhortation is, let all farmers and parties responsible for lands of any kind get busy immediately and make a complete clean-up prior to the 25th of July."

Parliamentary Union At Berlin Will Study World Betterment

By WILLIAM S. NEAL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 13.—An American plan for world betterment as conceived by elected representatives of the people will be presented at the Interparliamentary Union conference at Berlin August 23 to 28.

Emphasizing the fact that the "war is over" heads of the American unit are planning to send the largest delegation to Berlin that has ever attended sessions of the Union.

A wide range of subjects will be placed before the conference in which representatives of the highest legislative bodies of more than 40 nations will participate.

The American delegation according to Rep. Burton (R) of Ohio, chairman, will present resolutions designed to bring about better world relations and improvement of internal conditions in all nations.

International law, outlawry of war, emigration and immigration, decadence of influence of legislative bodies, rights of minorities, a declaration of the rights and duties af the narcotic problem.

Particular emphasis will be laid by the American delegation of 25 senators and congressmen on control of the international traffic in drugs and cure of addicts. Compulsory treatment of addicts is proposed by the American delegation.

Among those attending will be Sen. Tyson (D) of Hennessee, Rep. Porter (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee and Rep. Britten (R) of Illinois, chairman of naval affairs.

Sen. Borah (R) of Idaho, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee has been invited to join the American delegation.

Resignations Of Some Teachers Are Presented

Several New Teachers Are Named To Fill Vacancies By Board

Some resignations of teachers now employed by the New Castle school system were reported Thursday evening at the special meeting of the New Castle school board and several new teachers appointed.

The resignations of the following were accepted: Cynthia Blaine, Madaline Kelty and Maude Wetmore.

The following were elected: Alice Warner for kindergarten work in the West Side and Thaddeus Stevens school, Mildred Updegraff for elementary work in Lincoln and Garfield, vice Cynthia Blaine; Leona Hendrix, Lincoln and Garfield; Katherine Jones, vice Madaline Kelty. Ruth Geraldine Sample was elected for junior high school work in Mahoning school.

Coal Contract Is Let By Board

Seating Plan For New Junior High School Approved At Meeting

Meetings of the New Castle school board are becoming regular weekly functions. Another meeting of the board was held Thursday evening, July 12. Coal was ordered for the coming year, some teachers elected, some bills ordered paid and plans for the seating arrangements of the new George Washington junior high school approved. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

The coal contract this year goes to U. Z. Sweezy & Sons, their bid being considered the best best submitted Thursday evening. The price submitted by Sweezy was $4.35 per ton for 1¼-inch coal, $3.90 per ton for nut coal and $3.25 per ton for slack. The order will approximate 5300 tons of coal for the next school term.

Printing Equipment.

Printing equipment for the new George Washington junior high school was ordered bought, the American Type Foundry getting the contract at its bid of $2040.

The remaining portable building at the senior high school was ordered moved to the Mahoning junior high school property.

The seating plans submitted by the Haywood Wakefield Co. for the auditorium of the new George Washington junior high school were approved after a conference with Architect A. L. Thayer and the work of installing the seats will go forward promptly.

The objection to open air meetings is that the speaker can't distinguish between scattered applause and a general attack on insects.

French Village Takes Palm On Low Food Cost

(International News Service)

PARIS, July 13—The high cost living does not exist in the little town of Barfleur, a few kilometers east of Cherbourg. In any restaurant of Barfleur, a square meal is obtainable for five francs (20 cents).

Nor does a large appetite have to be accompanied by a heavy pocketbook. The best restaurants in town serves a 14-course dinner for 16 francs (54c)! Here is the composition of this extravagant menu:

Soup, oysters, lobtsers, fish, omelette, tongue, peas, mutton chop, salad, cheese, pudding and biscuits, stewed plums, fruit, cider.

The dishes are prepared by the chef who recently captured first prize in the nationwide competition for good home-cooking.

As luck has it, the village of Barfleur is on the main rail and auto lines between Cherbourg and Paris and catches a good supply of tourists. The natives would never spend as much as 16 francs for a meal, save for fete days and weddings.

After due and proper scientific investigation in Madrid it was found that cigarettes gave rats cancer of the lungs. It's sure something to choose between—cig smoking and cancer. The experiment was made to find the effect on life and it affects humans the same as animals.

Leonard Cross, of Hayesville, at 62 bananas at one sitting and defies anybody to skin that record.

It's just as cheap to smoke expensive cigarettes. Nobody has the nerve to ask for one.

Welsh Send Aid To Swansea Needy

Nearly $100 Is Forwarded To Homeland; Other News Of Welsh

By W. A. JOHNS
(Brython.)

Through the influence of Councilman D. O. Davies and other prominent Welshmen of the city, William E. Johns, treasurer of the Welsh reunion committee, was able this week to forward $97 to the Honorable T. W. Howells, mayor of the city of Swansea, South Wales, so that he could distribute them to the families of poor miners that are in need. This money amounted to some 15 pounds, 15 shillings and 11 pence in English money, which is a very nice sum to be divided among the needy over there.

The Emanuel Baptist church on last Sunday evening appointed the following committee: William E. Johns and Daniel Williams to work with the secretary of the church, John Evans to draw out a letter of recommendation for the pastor, Rev. Emrys Davis, when he will leave the church at the end of the month and depart from this country to take up a pastorate in South Wales. This committee will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. Evans on Mill street.

Mrs. William J. Griffiths of Sharon, widow of Mr. Griffith, who was buried recently, has left for her home after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans on Mill street.

Mrs. James Price is back in the city from New York where she came to attend the funeral of her son-in-law, William Griffiths. She is now visiting at the home of Mrs. John Evans on South Mill street.

The sacred concert which will be held at the Emanuel Baptist church on next Sunday evening, July 15, taking the place of the preaching service, is looked upon as a great event. Some of the best musical talent in the city will take part. The arrangements are in the hands of two of the leading musicians of New Castle. They are Charles Richards, the choir conductor of the Emanuel Baptist church, and Prof. Edwin Lewis, organist of the First U. P. church of Ellwood City. The church is looking forward to a large crowd attending the concert.

Reports are coming from our old friend Robert George, that his health is not so good these days. He is making his home with his eldest daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Loyd. Welsh people will remember these folks when they were making their home on South Mercer street and they hope for a speedy recovery of Mr. Loyd. He has one daughter still living in New Castle, Mrs. Katharine Smith.

Regains Hearing After Plane Ride

LORAIN, O., July 13.—Fred L. Tite, a Lorain steel worker, who has been deaf for fifteen years regained his hearing following an airplane ride over Cleveland yesterday.

Tite who had been deaf since having typhoid fever many years ago suddenly regained his hearing when the plane was at an altitude of 1,000 feet.

The flight was one of the regular few minute passenger rides and nothing spectacular occured. Upon returning to the airport the Tite family were astonished when he said he could hear.

There would be fewer wrecks on the matrimonial seas if the dear creatures would rock the cradle instead of rocking the boat.

Does Desert Fawns, Protectors Report

HARRISBURG, July 13.—Field officers of the Game Commission are finding many abandoned fawns throughout the State according to reports received by J. B. Truman, the executive secretary. In many cases it was at first thought that the does had left the young for a short time while searching for food. Fawns thus found were watched in a number of instances for as long as a day and a night and the mothers never returned to them.

It is thought that general food conditions have so weakened the deer that does are unable to properly nurse the young after birth. As a result they desert the fawns which are left to starve. Many of the fawns found weighed from only two and one-half to three pounds. Hundreds of last year's fawns have also been found dead and additional reports are coming in daily concerning many others. Many of these were probably born too late to warrant their reaching the proper physical development to carry them through the winter.

FOURTH CHURCH ANNUAL REUNION

About Eighty-Eight Former Members And Friends Attend Gathering

Fourth annual reunion of the former Fourth Presbyterian church of this city was an event of Thursday afternoon and evening at Gaston park.

The afternoon was featured with outdoor amusements and games arranged by the recreation committee and renewing old acquaintances. W. E. Ferry gave a most interesting talk on "Sacred Memories of the Fourth Presbyterian Church" and J. Lee Cooper spoke on "Memories of the Men's Club." "Memories of the Ladies Aid" was discussed by Mrs. Crill and A. E. Yoho spoke on "What the Fourth Presbyterian Church has Meant for Me." All of the talks were very interesting and recalled memories of the time when weekly services were held in the church.

Dinner was served at 6:30. About 88 former members and friends were present. Mrs. C. A. Buchanan, Mrs. Thomas Armstrong and W. D. Jones were the serving commitee.

During the business sesion W. E. Ferry was elected president of the organization and W. D. Jones secretary and treasurer. Committees named were:

Table committee—J. C. Lewis, Mrs. Clara Himbaugh, Mrs. Shuler.

Sport committee—John Ulrich, Charles Bright and William Barber.

Transportation—Jere Blucher.

Publicity—Miss Clara Blucher.

Moving Pictures Spread American Customs Abroad

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—American motion pictures are the subtlest and most effective form of advertising that yet has been discovered for the products, manners and economic progress of United States, Dr. Julius Klein of the commerce department declared today.

In virtually every activity of foreign life is the influence of the American movie felt.

They are affecting the fashions of even the style-setting capitals of Europe. The manners and modes of the foreigner gradually are being Americanized. The "baneful effects" of the Hollywood-made movie, inculcating into the older and settled society of the old world the restless American gospel of freedom of economic opportunity is becoming a matter of grave concern abroad.

SHOT IN SCUFFLE

Linotype Operator On City Newspaper Turns Aviatrix To Compete For Cash Offered For Pacific Flight

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

HOUSTON, Tex., July 13.—Operating a linotype machine and the controls of an airplane, are to most persons accomplishments in themselves, but to Dorothy Thompson, of Houston, either one is equally simple.

And Dorothy knows, for she has done both. The former to such an extent that she does "full time" with men workers, setting up type on a city newspaper. And the latter—well, that's the story.

Dorothy Thompson is planning a flight over the Pacific—from Dallas, Tex., to Hong Kong, China. She's after a prize of $25,000 offered for the first flyer to successfully navigate a three stop flight between the two points.

And Dorothy knows her airplanes. She has 100 hours of solo flying to her credit, and has completed an intensive course in aeronautics. Experts have declared that she's capable of making the hop.

Dorothy is 22. Ten years ago, as a school girl in a small town near Minneapolis, Minn., she sold her bicycle for her first airplane ride. Now she's on the brink of a flying career.

Boy Has Narrow Escape In Effort To Hang Onto Car

There is at least one boy in the city, who has probably learned his lesson as far as attempting to make Highland avenue street cars furnish upgrade locomotion for himself and bicycle.

Thursday afternoon, shortly after 3:30 o'clock, passengers on a northbound street car saw a boy on a bicycle grab hold of the rear part of the car for the purpose of getting an easy ride on his bicycle. This occurred at Highland avenue and Park avenue.

The boy had hardly grasped hold of the car, than the front wheel of his bicycle went up in the air and he was thrown backwards to the street pavement.

At the same time there was an automobile enroute north behind the street car and only the fact that the driver of the machine had perfect control prevented the boy from being run over. The boy was apparently none the worse of his experience.

Make Tests Of Huge Monoplane

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., July 13.—The Roma, huge Bellanca monoplane, which is being prepared for a flight to Rome, is undergoing tests at the Bellanca Aircraft Corporation plant here today.

The huge plane arrived here last evening from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., piloted by Cesare Sabelli and Roger Q. Williams. Others accompanying them were: Dr. Leon Pisculli, W. O. Fisk and Frank Stasthaka.

The monoplane will be tuned up here and then possibly will fly back to New York for the take-off on the hop to Rome.

Motorcycle Officer Seizes Booze Car

Finds Liquor In Car Enroute Through City From Pittsburgh To Youngstown

Motorcycle Officer Criswell had his machine parked at Long avenue and Moravia street about 1:30 o'clock this morning, where he was keeping watch for an Ohio license car believed to be running liquor into this city, when he saw a car with an Ohio license coming down Moravia street hill and going north on Moravia street.

His suspicions aroused, he gave chase and overtook the car at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing on Moravia street and stopped it. There were two colored men and a colored woman in the machine and they claimed to be en route home to Youngstown from Pittsburgh.

Officer Criswell examined the rear of the car and found three five-gallon containers filled with moonshine there. He placed the occupants of the car, Robert Grandson, Matthew Johnson and Frankie Sharitt, under arrest and brought them to the police station.

There Grandson, driver of the car, took the blame for the presence of the liquor on himself. All three were taken before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton this morning, where a charge of violating the Snyder act was made against them by the police authorities.

Grandson entered a plea of guilty and was held for the September term of court. Matthew Johnson and Frankie Sharitt entered pleas of not guilty and were held for a hearing Saturday. In default of baill all three were placed in the county jail.

New Scout Troop Is Formed By Kiwanis Club

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—At the regular weekly dinner-meeting of the Kiwanis club which took place last evening in the dining room of the Lutheran church, a new Boy Scout troop was born, with 12 underprivileged boys forming the nucleus. The details were handled by Dr. H. S. Gold, chairman of the scout committee for the club.

Special guests in addition to the boys were Assistant County Executive C. R. Knally and Scout Commissioner J. A. Pierson, both of this city.

E. C. McNelly, field worker for the A. A. A., was also present and gave a ten-minute talk on motor clubs and their various advantageous uses.

Rotary Club Has Varied Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Members of the Rotary club enjoyed an open meeting Thursday evening, the occasion being their weekly dinner session at the Presbyterian church.

One of the speakers, E. C. McNelly, field worker for the A.A.A. federation of Pennsylvania, gave an interesting account of his work and experiences and told several reasons why people should affiliate themselves with a motor club. He mentioned the service, reciprocal between the states, insurance, routing and several other important features of the organization.

Dr. Charles Bell then gave a short talk on club work and then introduced Andy Kerr, coach of W. & J., who is spending the summer in Dick Victor's camp. Mr. Kerr gave a brief report of the international convention he recently attended in Minneapolis, Minn.

Ladies Enjoy An Afternoon Bridge

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Forty-eight ladies enjoyed an afternoon bridge party at the Ellwood Country club Thursday afternoon. During the play delicious punch and salted nuts were served by the committee in charge. At the conclusion of play Mrs. Harry Harris was awarded the club high score honor and Miss Marguerite Kegel of New York won the guest favor. Other special guests were Miss Margaret Long of Marshall, Mich.; Mrs. W. E. McConnell of Bakersfield, Cal., and Mrs. Roy Butler of Cleveland.

Mrs. W. L. Dean headed the committee in charge. On next Thursday there will be a bridge-luncheon at 1 o'clock with Mrs. Frank Gardner heading the committee of the day. Reservations must be in with Mrs. Gardner not later than Wednesday noon.

STORK NEWS

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Evans of Park Gate a daughter yesterday in the local hospital.

WHAT DID YOU BID, PARTNER?

Informal Bridge Honors Visitors

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Mrs. Bruce Hunter of West Short street entertained informally Thursday evening at two tables of bridge. The honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Findlater of San Angelo, Texas, who paused here en route to the coast to visit their son, Stevenson Findlater.

A series of interesting bridge games were enjoyed, concluding wtih light refreshments served by the hostess. Score favors were received by Mr. and Mrs. William Findlater and Mrs. Burton Bell.

Other guests were Stevenson Findlater, Mrs. Henry Passemore and Miss Doris Slocum.

Knox Ladies Put On Clever Play

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—A neat sum was cleared for the Knox Missionary society and the Slippery Rock ladies when the former put on the comedy farce "The Strike of the Ladies Aid" at the Slippery Rock church Thursday evening before a well-filled auditorium. The character parts were portrayed wtih real feeling and a pleasant evening of fun and education was enjoyed.

W. C. T. U.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—The regular monthly meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will take place this evening at the home of Mrs. J. E. Van Gorder on Line avenue. This will be an interesting session with delegates from the Inter-County Institute giving their impressions.

One Hundred Local Orangemen At Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Approximately 100 members from the Ellwood lodge attended the state picnic of Orange lodges which took place Thursday in Westview park.

A program of sports and speaking was included in the day's activities with picnic dinners at noon and in the evening. Principal speakers were William Hollman and Rev. Dr. Dempster of Pittsburgh. Music was furnished by the famous Kiltie Band.

Carl Stevenson of this city who participated in several sporting events came home with two prizes one being literally "the bacon."

Aid Members Have Pleasant Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church enjoyed a pleasant picnic dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. C. E. Witherow of Celia Stop.

Preceding the menu a monthly business meeting was conducted at which time Mrs. James McKim was admitted as a new member and Mrs. S. Y. Douds invited the ladies to have tea with her next Thursday at her home on Spring avenue.

A delicious dinner was served on the spacious lawn after which an informal social period was enjoyed.

ORANGE LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, July 13.—Members of the Orange Ladies lodge will meet this evening for the first time in their new quarters in the Schweiger building at 7:30 o'clock.

Ritticisms

BY BILL RITT

The smartest man in the world is Commander Byrd. He'll spend his vacation at the South Pole.

The sun never shines down there, but the nightlife is negligible. The lighting system is very bad.

The South Pole was dicovered by Amundsen in 1911. But since then no one has done anything about it.

Birds called penguins are found at the Pole. They can't fly, but that dosen't make any difference as there is no place to go, anyway.

Byrd likes to fly over wide open spaces. He's flown over the Atlantic ocean, the North Pole and New York City.

It's a dangerous flight, but Byrd is sure of one thing. No matter what happens he and the crew will keep cool.

It looks like a swell trip except for one thing. The nearest filling station is 5,000 miles away.

PAYS SPEEDING FINE

Paul Holfelder, ordered into police station by Motorcycle Officer Richards, paid a fine of $10 on the charge of speeding.

TED BLANKENSHIP

Teddy Blankenship, Chicago White Sox pitcher, came to the Windy City out of torrid Texas where, at Bonham, he was born May 10, 1901.

Blankenship broke into baseball as a member of his home town team in the Texas-Oklahoma league. His twirling was of such a stellar order during that season, 1921, that he was grabbed by the Sox.

Blankenship has proven somewhat of a disappointment to the Chicago fans. He has not been of much worth to the team save in 1925 when he won 17 games and lost but eight.

Loughran-Latzo Battle Monday

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 13.—Certified checks were posted Thursday by Morgan Bird, promoter of the Loughran-Latzo light heavyweight championship battle to be held here next Monday night.

The forfeits, representing the guarantee of the champion, said to be $35,000, were given to Boxing Commissioner Harry T. Farrell in accordance with the contracts filed with the commission.

Loughran continues to draw large crowds at his daily workout. Farrell today ordered Latzo to move his camp from Pompton Lakes to Scranton.

Pennsy Railroad Men Have Successful Outing At Park On Thursday

Nearly two thousand persons, including employes of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad and their families, were in attendance at the division's annual outing at Cascade Park Thursday afternoon and evening.

Visitors commenced arriving at the Pennsylvania station about noon and continued to arrive throughout the afternoon.

About 600 of the celebrators came to New Castle on the picnic special, which came from Ashtabula, making stops at most every station along the way.

Hundreds, in fact most all of the employes brought their own baskets and enjoyed their contents at noon. Coffee and punch were provided free for the railroad's throng.

Through the arrangements of the men in charge, the employes were allowed to dance at a small cost thruout the afternoon.

Contributing immensely to the enjoyment of the day was the E. and A. division band, which played at different sections of the park throughout the day. H. M. Culbertson of this city was the leader.

The athletic events were started about three o'clock with W. M. Johns, local train dispatcher and W. A. Glasser in charge. All sorts of events, plain dashes, sack races, fat men's races and others were drawing cards for many a person, and the handsome prizes awarded the winners were worth striving for. The events were conducted in the mid-way of the park and brought a enormous crowd of onlookers spectators to the scene.

A list of the different events with the winners of each, is presented as follows:—

25 yard dash for boys, under 6—William Hallber and Billie Fessler.

25 yard dash for girls, under 6—Maxine Probst and Letha May.

50 yard dash for boys, 6 to 8—Robert Raney and Delmar Probst.

50 yard dash for girls, 6 to 8—Shirley Fessler and Genevieve Evans.

50 yard dash for boys, 8 to 10—Willard Martin and Clyde Uber.

50 yard dash for girls, 8 to 10—Helen Turkowitz and Edrye Kerr.

50 yard dash for boys, 10 to 12—William Withers and Willard Martin.

50 yard dash for girls, 10 to 12—Beulah Filban and Virginia Cameron.

50 yard dash for boys, 12 to 14—William Withers and Jack Brogan.

50 yard dash for girls, 12 to 14—Marguerite Thomas and Bernice Probst.

75 yard dash for boys, 14 to 16—Sherwood Johns and Henry Mortimer.

75 yard dash for girls, 14 to 16—Madeline Bunnell and Viola Raney.

At the conclusion of the athletic events in the mid-way, the crowd journeyed to the National Radiator Company's athletic field, where a team composed of single men of the division, captained by S. E. "Lefty" Parks met the married aggregation, captained by E. M. Fisher. Five innings of real baseball were played by the teams, with an array of fans sitting in the bleachers.

When the final score was docketed it showed that the married men were still full of their old-time pep, for they deefated the younger boys to the tune of 7-2.

During the afternoon, the P. and L. E. railroad band provided music for those who did not care to see the game. The music was broadcasted throughout the park on the new amplifying system and hundreds scattered about the amusement center enjoyed it immensely.

D. D. Potter of the New Castle office is to be congratulated and deserves all the credit for the successful outing, for he it was who lead the committee, which saw to it that everyone had a good time. Working directly under him were O. A. Ishler, supervisor of telegraph and signals; M. T. Stone, J. M. Frew, T. W. Thomas, conductors; A. F. Genger, yardmaster; S. B. Johns, lead clerk, trainmaster's office; W. T. Weschler, assistant chief clerk, master mechanic's office; F. L. Doerr, clerk, master mechanic's office; C. L. Rose, boiler inspector; John Unger, freight car repairman; W. A. Glasser, L. G. Schrank, F. M. Dennison, engineers; J. E. Dye, station agent and W. M. Johns, train dispatcher.

ANYTHING FOR VARIETY

"What makes you think this younger generation will be exceptionally good when it grows up?"

"Because it will be fed up on the present freedom it is enjoying it will have to go to the other extreme to keep from dying of ennui."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

20,000 Persons Killed Yearly By Industries

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., June 27.—According to a recent survey by The United States Employees' Compensation commission, more than 20,000 persons are killed in industrial accidents each year.

The mishaps that result in that great toll of human life from our "industrial wars" and the lesser injuries that also occur cost the people of the United States approximately ten billion dollars annually.

Just as preventative measures are being advocated constantly to outlaw war and thus save a tremendous loss in life, so can preventative measures be taken to reduce industrial accidents, the survey pointed out. A research by The Travelers Insurance company into more than 70,000 industrial accident cases disclosed that 98 per cent of the total were preventable.

Prevention Principles

"The recognition and application of sound accident prevention principles would make possible within a few years a 50 per cent reduction in the industrial-accident frequency in this country and an estimated saving of five billion dollars annually," the research report said.

Eighty-eight per cent of the causes of industrial accidents are said to be supervisory and 10 per cent physicial, both within the power of the employer and employees to correct. This analysis shows that unavoidable accidents constitute only 2 per cent of the industry's wasteful toll.

In addition to the 20,000 killed yearly, there are 1,627 permanently disabled, 100,000 with permanent partial disability and 2,500,000 temporarily disabled, the research revealed.

The total days lost have been estimated as 246,846,000, which means that the whole country has to share the enormous losses in life, limb, time and money because of industrial accidents.

That industrial accidents can and will be controlled to a large degree by employers is proved by the experience of many concerns. Only a few months ago the shops of the Chicago and Great Western Railroad at Oelwein, Iowa, established a record of 468 days without an accident occurring to 1,130 men employed in the repair department of the shops. One of the works of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation only recently completed 60 days operation without a single disabling accident to any of its employees.

Loss In Wages

In one widely-known manufacturing plant in this country where an analysis was made into the accidents, it was discovered that in one years there were 14,191 mishaps, involving 47,004 lost hours of the employees injured, and that the total loss by the company in unearned paid wages was $61,839.

Blindness resulting from industrial accidents is costing the country ten million dollars a year and is responsible for 15 per cent of the blind population, according to the National Research Society for the Prevention of Blindness. This is despite the fact that experience of many plants proves that most industrial eye accidents are preventable.

The seven basic causes of accidents under the heading of "supervision" have been listed as faulty instruction, inability of employee, poor discipline, lack of concentration, unsafe practices on the part of employee, mentally unfit and physically unfit employees.

Prince Youssoupoff Frankly Admits He Was Rasputin Slayer

By GEORGE AXELSSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 12.—"Yes, I killed Rasputin. What of it? A purely political act!" Thus, with a shrug of his aristocratic shoulders, did Prince Felix Youssonpoff dismiss the $1,000,000 damage suit brought against him in a local court by Madame Solovieff, daughter of the late "Black Monk" of Russia.

"By killing Rasputin we just satisfied our conscience by doing our duty toward the country, our sovereign and our allies.

"When I killed Rasputin, in December, 1916, I only had one opinion about him. I have not changed my idea since. He was the evil man of Russia. He was the sworn enemy of the imperial family, a tool in the hands of the Germans.

"What made me publish my book, 'How I Killed Rasputin'? The fact that several books appearing in print on the subject of Rasputin's death distorted the real facts. Moreover, these books presented the Czar and Czarina in a false light. I wanted to put the public right on all matters regarding Rasputin's death and his relations to the imperial family.

"The daughter's law suit is not causing me worry in the least. I depend on the fairness of the French courts to see me through this incident.

"As for Madame Solovieff, she did not start this thing herself. She was inspired by someone else. By whom? I do not know.

"I never lose any sleep over lawsuits, moreover. I have won three in London, and I will win one in Paris pretty soon," said the prince prophetically.

Shooting Judge Wins Law Suit For Frenchman

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 13.—Shoot the judge and win your case. At least that is what Robert Alexandre Noel did and he won.

Noel was a former adjutant of aviation and was badly wounded in July, 1916. Since then he has become an undertaker's helper.

The French Government pensioned Noel out of the Army on a 25 per cent basis. Noel was not satisfied with the amount of his pension and brought suit against the Government claiming 60 per cent disability.

The case came up before the Eighth Chamber at the Palais de Justice.

Noel's lawyer, Mlle. Raymonde Lefevre, pleaded for her client. Mlle. Lafevre claimed that her client was mentally unbalanced since his wound and thus unable to earn a satisfactory living.

After the lawyer's pleading Judge Beaufils called the plaintiff.

Noel stood up. Wild eyed he strode to the bar. Without warning he cried:

"I'm a badly wounded man and you don't pay me enough."

With this he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired twice toward the judge.

The clerk of the court and another lawyer, Alfred Godard, seized the soldier and disarmed him.

The bullets passed within two inches of the judge's head and embedded themselves in the wall.

Mlle, Lafevre then calmly stood up before the judge and said:

"You see, Your Honor, my client is not responsible."

"No," responded Judge Beaufils, "I can see that. We'll give him 60 per cent."

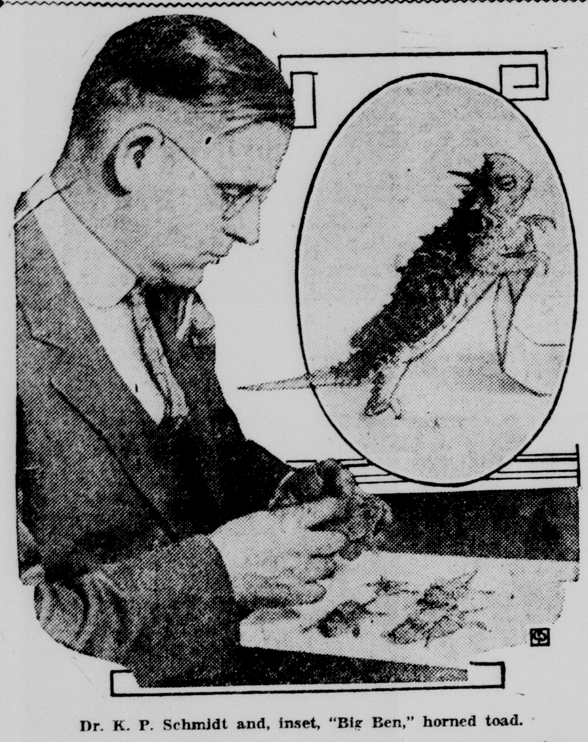
Facts About Toads

Scientist Strips Romance From Stories About Hibernating Reptiles By Opinion That They Cheat



Dr. K. P. Schmidt and, inset, "Big Ben," horned toad.

By IONE QUINBY
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

CHICAGO, Ill., July 13—Science has all but ripped to pieces that fairylike myth of the hiberating toads and their twenty year naps in airtight cornerstones.

Notwithstanding the fame of the horned reptile that got an entree to the White House after it was chipped out of a cornerstone nineteen years old, Dr. K. P. Schmidt of the Zoology department, Field Museum, says he's inclined to doubt the authenticity of these "Rip" Van Winkles.

Dr. Schmidt has asked to meet the fourth horned toad that recently woke up to a changed world after a nap of several decades. This toad, brought to Chicago from Anson, Tex., where he went to sleep, to 'tis said, before airplanes or ever automobiles had become common, was found by a member of a wrecking crew when a bank building of Anson was torn down.

Put Through Tricks

The toad, which is called "Big Ben" to identify him from other reptiles with a penchant for sleeping in cornerstones, has been put through a number of tricks to show the scientist just how happy he could be without air or food. For instance, he was put in a tumbler of ice water, and submerged with a card on top to keep the horny reptile under water. He lay there, to all appearances, quite happy without any air.

"I'm inclined to believe, however, that he would stay only a short time without air at all.," the scientist says. "There used to be a myth that toads were found in solid rock formations, before the cornerstone tales came to light. The tale was found to be utrue. It was found on authentic examination that the toads had crawled down through crevices until the rock had more or less grown around them. But there was always a small crack of some sort through which ants could get into be snapped up for food, and which would let in a certain amount of air. Both toads and snakes can live for long periods without food, but I'm doubtful whether they could live without air.

"It is more than likely," the scientist continues, "that the masons who built the cornerstones were not as careful as they should have been to have them completely sealed up. There may have been a crack in each of these cornerstones for ants and air to creep in. While it is not scientific to say 'impossible,' to anything, I should want better proof than has been supplied to show the toads were actually in the cornerstones all that time, and that there were no cracks in the stones."

Funeral Plans For A. R. Peacock

Eccentric Millionaire, Former Partner Of Andrew Carnegie, Dies In New York

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—Funeral arrangements for Alexander R. Peacock, former partner of Andrew Carnegie, were announced here today. He will be buried in Homewood cemetery only a short distance from the site of the former Peacock mansion.

Peacock, who with Charles Schwab and other associates of Carnegie in the 90's made their millions, died yesterday in New York at the age of 65 years.

The body of the millionaire, who was known as one of the most eccentric millionaires of Pittsburgh, was brought to Pittsburgh last night.

Many fanciful stories have been woven about the life of this millionaire. One of them tells how he became connected with Carnegie. Peacock was a clerk in a New York department store when Mrs. Carnegie, attracted by his Scotch accent, learned that his birthplace, Dunfermline, Scotland, was also the birthplace of Carnegie.

Shortly afterward Peacock became connected with the Carnegie interests and amassed a fortune which was estimated to be somewhere in the 10 or 20 millions.

Peacock's early business history dates back to the time when he was employed in the credit department of the Homestead Steel works. By placing a large order for the firm, he was transferred to the sales department where he began his sensational rise.

With his wealth, Peacock built Peacock mansion in Pittsburgh which was once one of the showplaces of the city. For the last 15 years he had been living in New York.

The Story Of Our War With Spain
The Cuban Insurrection Of 1895

THE WAR THAT BROKE OUT IN CUBA IN 1895 THREATENED TO COMPLETE THE RUIN OF THE ISLAND. GEN. GOMEZ, THE INSURGENT LEADER, FORBADE ALL CUBANS TO FURNISH SUPPLIES TO THE ENEMY OR GRIND SUGAR CANE ON PAIN OF DEATH.

THE WAR FELL HEAVIEST UPON THE POOR PEASANT FARMERS WHO TOOK NO PART IN THE BITTER STRUGGLE. SUSPECTED BY BOTH THE SPANIARDS AND THE INSURGENTS, THEY SAW THEIR HOMES BURNED AND FIELDS LAID WASTE BY THE OPPOSING FORCES.

SPAIN CONCENTRATED AN ARMY OF 200,000 MEN IN CUBA IN A VAIN ATTEMPT TO SUPPRESS THE UPRISING. THE CUBANS AVOIDED PITCHED BATTLES AND SCATTERED IN THE BUSH WHENEVER A LARGE FORCE WAS SENT AGAINST THEM.

GOMEZ'S MEN KEPT UP THE RELENTLESS GUERILLA WARFARE. THEY PREYED ON SMALL, EXPOSED PARTIES OF THE ENEMY, ATTACKED ISOLATED SPANISH BLOCKHOUSES, AND BURNED ALL CROPS AND SUPPLIES THAT MIGHT BE USED BY THE SPANIARDS.

Tunney To Make Their Loss Good

Is Showing Different Attitude Toward Scribes In Camp

GENE'S BOXING IS OFF COLOR

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 13.—It began to dawn upon the writer today that possibly some one has been making a big mistake about Gene Tunney and it isn't the guy who said he was all right. One, as a matter of fact, could hardly go wrong any longer on this point after what happened in the champion's camp this morning. Just as he proved himself a fighter when he got up off the nape of his neck in the seventh round at Chicago, he did another creditable thing this morning and proved himself a man.

Without suggestion or solicitation of any kind, he informed his sparring partners that the purses they were to have received for appearing on the Tunney-Heeney card on the night of the twenty-sixth—a program now destined for extinction by the boxing commission would be paid by him in full. It isn't publicity prattle, either, Tunney, to this moment, is unaware that anyone knows of the proposition, beyond his official family.

Tunney Acts

The matter came to front and centre when a wire from Rickard informed the camp of the commission's intentions and Tunney immediately took charge.

"I want you fellows to know that you are going to lose nothing by this decision," was the purport of his opening remarks. "I will make plenty of money out of this fight and naturally am in a better position than you to stand a loss. So forget about the money you think you are going to lose. I'll make it good to you and gladly."

He had no comment on the commission's expressed desire to bar the sparring partners of both camps from the program, beyond saying that, if this was to be the procedure in the future, a champion will have his troubles lining up good men to take his daily abuse.

A situation such as this once was good for a notable blast from the champion but Tunney either is getting smart in this respect or is receiving sounder advice or both. In regard to the advice matter, I suspect Steve Hannagan, the official buffer, who buffs neatly and quickly while you wait. Anyhow, there is no doubt that Tunney and the newspapermen are far from the mutually distrustful specimens they were at Stroudsburg and later at Lake Villa.

Friendship Ripens

Unless they are putting on a second rate act, there are signs here of a budding intimacy that might even ripen into something better and finer. They really seem to have become aware of each other as human beings for the first time.

Indirectly, this state of affairs has sought an outlet in laudatory comment. Of cource, even a blind man riding horseback would sense the fact that the physical Gene Tunney today is all that anyone could ask. He is as "right," in a physical sense, at this moment as he ever will be in his life again. So, the boys, looking at this perfection of health and feeling strangely mellow in their altered relationship with him, appear to be seeing his daily performances through the rose tints of portiality.

Tunney isn't boxing as well as he might. But few of his enamored observers appear to realize this. Once they saw him as worse than he could possibly be; now they see him as better than he actually thinks he is himself. But that is life.

Beaver Falls In Role Of Visitor

Beaver Falls, leaders of the second half of the O & P will play New Castle in a twilight ball game at Centennial field this evening. The game will commence at 6:15 p. m. Pearson may hurl for Beaver Falls and Ketchum may take to the hill for the Centennials. New Castle is last in the loop though the team took the first half bunting.

Central Christians Trim Epworth M. E.

Moser, shortstop for the Epworth M. E. team, was responsible for the two runs scored by his aggregation when they were defeated by the Central Christians by a score of 9 to 2 Thursday evening at the Lehigh field.

Both pitchers, Shiek of the Central Christians and Leslie of the Epworths, struck out seven men. Leslie gave bases on balls. Moffatt officiated.

New Castle Y Boys Defeat Campbell Y. M. C. A. Boys 8-6

In a hotly contested game, the New Castle Y. M. C. A. camp baseball team defeated the Campbell, Ohio, Y on the Campbell grounds to the tune of 8 to 6. George Muse pitched for the winners and was given air tight support by his team mates. Jaseson, Fritz and Dunlap were also brilliant in the victory.

A game has been scheduled with the Butler Y. M. C. A. camp for Saturday afternoon.

In the first half of the volley ball league, the Pirates finished victorious. A basketball league is now under way. Following are the scores of the basketball league:

Expect Lots Of Action At Bowl

Ring Officials Are Commissioned By State Boxing Solons

FIVE GOOD BOUTS ARE BEING ARRANGED

By ED. FRITZ

HOLD your seats, ladies and gentlemen—the battlers are coming back to Jolly Bowl to settle the quarrel they started last Monday and which will be settled, probably, for once and all Monday night.

They are Frankie Rio, the clever Clevelander, and Billy Wallace, the socker, of Youngstown. They have clashed twice, and if prediction doesn't go awry there'll be a knockout next Monday.

They are two of the most evenly matched junior lightweights who ever laced gloves about their wrists, and feeling as chipper as two-year-old colts, they're ready for the "rubber".

To be frank, the writer has witnessed many boxing bouts between good, bad and indifferent pugilists, and truthfully terms the Rio-Wallace bout one of the best he has witnessed.

They started with the bell, and at the end of the second round the multitude cheered lustily. When the fourth ended they "forgot" to hear the bell and fought until parted by the referee.

The fifth found them cautiously trying to feint each other into a lead so that they could beat each other to the punch and in the sixth Rio tried to rush and slug Wallace down.

The announcer, a substitute for Bugs Walther, got the slips and gave them to the commission, but our ears plainly told us that the decision while honestly given, was not acceptable to the fans.

And now to explain something which is not generally known: the attaches of Jolly Bowl have nothing to do with the bout after the commissioner's deputy arrives in the city.

He is empowered by state law to designate the referee, judges, timekeeper and announcer. The ring officials are responsible only to the state boxing commission—not the promoter.

While the decision was an error of judgment, we believe it would be a gross injustice to connect dishonesty with the decision. Feeling fans' disapproval of the decision, the boys were rematched.

And now something about the trio—Tommy Blake, Tommy Jones and George Chip are on the level. They are human and apt to make a mistake. It was hard on Wallace, but it brought him another bout.

And again, don't forget that any person of good character with experience (one who has good judgment) can get a license for any ring position from the deputy when he comes here.

Personally the writer would like to see about 10 local judges, a couple of timekeepers and four or five referees here. This would keep everybody guessing as to who would officiate on fight nights.

Joe O'Malley is training like a trojan at Columbus, according to Harry Sully's telegram to The News. O'Malley is one of the sweetest 150-pounders who has appeared around Ohio and Illinois.

Young Firpo has been going good and is tuning up for a real hard fight. He knows that the Irishman can fight and not wishing to lose out in the affection of local fans is getting prepped up.

There is one thing about Firpo that fans must like. Red Jadabird was called a "world beater" when he flattened Jack Herman. Firpo didn't waste any time accepting an engagement with him.

He whipped Red Jadabird and drove the redhead around the ring. He took all of Jada's lefts without whimpering and finally drove him to cover with a good right and won the fight.

O'Malley, however, is a different type than Jadabird. According to those who have witnessed him fight he is prone to stand up and slug it out, from bell to bell. That is the fans' delight.

The O'Malley-Firpo bout will go 10 rounds because they are rated higher on the pugilistic calendar than Rio and Wallace, but there'll be keen battling in each bout.

Romeo Pacelli, the clever lad from the South Side, will be on the bill if a good opponent can be located. Many of the boys in the tri-state district are turning him down.

Willie Falk and George Lauder, the former of Ohio and the latter of Pittsburgh, 152 pounds, will slug in a four-round bout, and Terry McManus will oppose Tony Canzoni, Lorain, in the opener.

Tennis fans are noted for their strict decorum, but there was a fist fight at Wimbledon yesterday. This is what comes, we think, of the public attending parliamentary sessions. —Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, Spectator.

A Diving Mother — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

On the passenger list of the President Roosevelt you will find the name of Mrs. Clarence Pinkston, present wife of the swimming coach of the Detroit Athletic Club, and formerly Betty Becker, of Atlantic City and Philadelphia. The fact that she is leaving behind her 22-month-old twins, and returning to Europe to try to retain her title as Olympic diving champion, makes Mrs. Pinkston quite an interesting person. Add to that the fact that she is married to a former Olympic champion, whom she met aboard ship en route to the games in Paris in 1924, and she becomes all the more interesting.

The engagement and marriage of Betty and "Pinky", resulting from their trip to France four years ago (one might say "they dove into the sea of matrimony together"), rivaled that of Dick Landon, Olympic high-jump champion in 1920, and Alice Lord, a member of the girls' diving team. Clarence Pinkston won the fancy high diving in the Paris games and placed second in fancy spring-board diving. In 1924 he placed third in both events. Betty won the spring-board diving and lost to Caroline Smith by ¼ of a point in the plain high diving. Betty had tried out for the 1920 Olympic team, but failed to make it.

In the recent tryouts for the Olympic team, Mrs. Pinkston did not place in the fancy spring-board diving, in which she held the title, but qualified in the plain high diving event, in which her husband had previously told me that she had much the best chance at Amsterdam.

Petite and graceful, Betty Pinkston got her start in a public swimming pool in Philadelphia, and advanced rapidly under the able tutorage of Olga Dorfner and Charley Braun. She has won more than 350 prizes in swimming and diving, not counting "Pinky," whom she considers the greatest prize of all.

Here And There In Sports' Land

By ED. FRITZ

George Stallings, owner of the Montreal club of the International league is seriously ill in a private hospital at Macon, Ga., with a heart ailment.

The Tod Morgan-Eddie Martin boxing bout which was billed for Gotham has been postponed five times which shows that J. Pluv' plays his hand everywhere.

A standing rule adopted at the Jolly bowl is that whenever it rains on Monday the boxing show will be held on Tuesday or on the first day after the original date that it doesn't rain hard.

Earl Smith, the former Pirate is now in the fold of the Cardinals as he affixed his E. S. to a contract yesterday. It was necessary to cut the squad in order to sign Smith who will help the Cards.

Terry McGovern, a fast boxer and good hitter of Warren, O., has been signed to box Romeo Pacelli in a six round bout here Monday night. McGovern has been going good.

Figaro, carrying the colors of Norway captured the gold cup for sailing vessels by defeating the Saleeme, American entry in the fifth and deciding race at Sandham, Sweden.

Frank Hussey, former National sprint champ, was discovered on the President Roosevelt, carrying Olympic athletes to Amsterdam. Hugo Leistner and Clyde Blanchard, hurdlers, also aboard the ship.

The card for Monday at Jolly bowl follows: Young Firpo vs. Joe O'Malley, 10; Billy Wallace vs. Frankie Rio, 6; Romeo Pacelli vs. Terry McGovern, 6; Willie Falk vs. George Louder, 4; Terry McManus vs. Tony Canzoni, 4.

Heeney Must Place Forfeit

Has Been Requested To Post $10,000 As Appearance Money

SOCIETY FOLK WATCH CONTENDER

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 13.—The news has just leaked out here at Rumson Farm that Thomas Heeney has been selected to fight Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship of the world at the Yankee Stadium on the night of July 26. For the last month there have been strong rumors to this effect and Heeney has been getting himself into shape to meet any emergency but the nomination was not confirmed until late yesterday evening when a wire was received from Bert Stand, secretary of the New York boxing commission.

"You really must come over some day before next Monday," advised Stand, "and deposit $10,000 as a forfeit for appearance against Tunney on July 26."

"Stroike Me Pink!"

"Stroike me pink," ejaculated Squire John Mortimer, Heeney's manager, "if that isn't a bit of a poser. Who would have thought that good old Tom 'Eeny is going to get the big chance after all? But why do they want two thousands pounds? of course 'Eeny will show up. He's be a bit of a fool not to, wouldn't he?"

On top of the summons issued by the boxing commission come word that Tex Rickard will run down next Tuesday to formally notify Heeney of the nomination and submit the official contract.

Spurred on by his sudden stroke of fortune, Heeney set about the task of getting ready for the fight. As it is to be an outdoor struggle he boxed in an outdoor ring last night and drew a great gathering of society folks and giant Jersey mosquitoes under the glare of a cluster of powerful lamps suspended from the canopy of the ring.

The lightning and thunder sparred overhead while Tom climbed into the ring and faced Big Ralph Smith, of Philadelphia. Smith weighs 240 pounds and towered over Heeney but Tom bashed the giant with thunderous left hooks to the jaw and made him retreat unsteadily. It wasn't much of a sparring exhibition as Smith was slow and Heeney easily evaded his cumbersome leads. Big Ralph was glad to escape at the end of two rounds. Paul Swiderski then gave Heeney a chance to speed up.

There will be no boxing today as Heeney is to make a personal appearance at Long Beach, where his sparring partners are boxing tonight. He went on the road this morning but will do no more boxing until tomorrow night.

Bootery Girls Beat Buckeyes

Bootery Girls yesterday chalked up a 7 to 5 victory over the Buckeye Girls on the South Lee avenue grounds. Carbone pitched against Neiser and each was touched for four hits. Six errors were made behind Neiser and three behind Carbone. Bootery won in the ninth.

Textor Explains Player's Action To O. & P. President

Beaver Falls To Play "Cents"

HOPE seems to be written across the diamond at Centennial field, where Beaver Falls and New Castle clash at 6:15 p. m., D. S., today—their second clash of the second part of the O. & P. League season.

Last Sunday Beaver Falls defeated New Castle and Johnny Pearson, hurler for the Harvey controlled baseball machine, hopes to set back the Textorites a second time, while said George hopes to see his Centennials defeat Beaver Falls.

During the first half New Castle had no difficulty turning thumbs down on Ed. Harvey and his outfit, and with Ketchum, Mosley and Coen in real condition there's no particular reason why Beaver Falls should be picked to win.

There are two salient points which add color to the teams. Beaver Falls has a mighty good pitcher in Pearson and an aggregation of good hitters. The team is composed of a fighting crew of players and they scrap for hits and runs.

When they take the field fans will see an old, familiar face in right field. He is Raymond Buzzard, who cavorted with the Centennials some time ago. He has been playing with Fairmont, Mid-Atlantic, but is now a fixture with Beaver Falls.

Relating to the knockout of Umpire Stetzer by Third Baseman Bosco of Akron, Manager George Textor has informed President Strang that as long as Textor is manager here he does not want Bosco to appear on the local field.

Textor believes that the action of Bosco in landing flush on Stetzer's "button" was uncalled for. Serious consequences could have occurred had the fans not been held in check. The fans want fair play and the club officials want lots of spirit but no blows.

The league statistics show that New Castle has fallen from the top of the circuit to the cellar position, having had two defeats, one by Akron and the second by Beaver Falls. At present Harvey's team is tied with Akron for first place.

Yanks Fail To Maintain Pace

Cardinals Increase Lead Over Giants To 5 1-2 Games

ROOT BREAKS HIS LONG LOSING STREAK

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 13.—While the St. Louis Cardinals have increased their lead over the New York Giants to 5½ games the world's champion Yankees are no longer setting the dizzy pace which they maintained for almost half the season. The Yanks haven't been playing better than .550 ball for the past month and apparently will not be able to equal the record of 116 victories established by the old Chicago Cubs.

Pipgras has been knocked out in his last two starts, Pennock is just pulling out of a slump and the other New York pitchers are no mystery to rival batsmen these days. Fortunately for Miller Huggins the Athletics aren't burning up the league either and are still 10½ games behind.

The tail-end Tigers gave Young Henhy Johnson the works in the ninth inning yesterday, scoring three runs and winning 4 to 2. They have trimmed the Yanks in their last three starts against them.

Ted Lyons of the White Sox stopped the Athletics 4 to 3 but Ed Rommel subdued the Sox by a 5 to 2 score in the nightcap.

One of the best pitched games of the season ended in a scoreless tie in the ninth when rain stopped the Reds and the Dodgers. Cincinnati got only three hits off Ray Moss and Luque held Brooklyn to six bingles .The Reds tied the Giants for second place.

The Giants couldn't hit Haines while St. Louis handed Fitzsimmons and Kewpie Buckeye a royal shellacking. Jupiter Pluvius mercifully stopped the proceedings in the sixth with New York trailing by an 11 to 1 sore.

Charley Root who had won nearly 20 games for the Cubs at this time last year but has been almost a total flop this season, ended his losing streak of seven staight games by beating Boston 4 to 1.

George Uhle of Cleveland also staged a comeback by scoring a 2 to 1 victory over Washington when Burns singled in the tenth.

General Alvin Crowder registered his tenth win of the season when the Browns trimmed the Red Sox 3 to 1.

Ready To Risk $10,000 On Tom

(International News Service)

FAIR HAVEN, N. J., July 13.—If any of the Tunney admirers think the champion is a 3 to 1 shot to defeat Tom Heeney they can get action for at least $10,000 down here. Raymond Hoagland on whose estate Heeney trains, isn't a boxing expert, has seen only one professional fight, in fact, but he is completely sold on the challenger. He offered to lay $10,000 against $30,000 that the title changes hands. Hoagland has purchased close to $5,000 worth of tickets for the big fight and is ordering more.

Play Three Games In Twilight League

Although this is Friday, the 13th, still Louis "Pick" Glitch, who is unafraid, has scheduled three games for the American section of the Twilight League this evening.

The Mahonings will play at Clifton Flats with Price and Brooks as officials. West Pittsburg will try to overcome Wampum at Wampum, and Diana and Nolte will be the umpires. South Hills will come to the Slovak A. C., where Foster and Zidow will officiate.

Ryantown Beats Hillsville Club

Ryantown defeated Hillsville in a National section Twilight League game played Thursday evening at Ryantown by a 3 to 1 score.

Pepe the Hillsville pitcher disproved the theory that a pitcher is invariably a bad batter when he sored a home run for his team. Pepe gave three bases on balls and struck out one man. Lintz, his twirling opponent gave two bases on balls and struck out two men.

The box score:

Ryantown.	R.	H.	E.
Bogden, 3b	1	1	0

Tunney-Heeney Fight Comparisons Impossible

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
Sports Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

There used to be just two sure things in life—death and taxes. Now we have three—death, taxes and heavyweight championship fights.

Whether or not the great American public wants one of the latter right now they're going to get it—July 26.

Bowing to the inevitable, what's going to happen when Tom Heeney and Gene Tunney meet, then?

What chance has Tunney of losing the title he won from Jack Dempsey? What, if any, are the chances of Tom Heeney, British subject, giving the Empire the title held in America since the days of John L. Sullivan?

Well, it may be said without fear of contradiction, in starting a discussion of the above, that there is not one single tangible item on which to base a prophesy.

There is no chance of comparing, with any logic, the careers of the two, to defend any such prophesy.

Consider Tunney first.

Accept for a minute the fact that Tunney won the championship by beating the best men in his class, including the champion then in power. The "best men" were three veterans, past their prime and on the down grade.

They were Georges Carpentier, Tom Gibbons and Jack Dempsey.

Dempsey, in the heyday of his career, and made short shift of Georges Carpentier in the first Battle of the Century. Taken on three years later by Tunney, Carpentier, slow of foot and seeking only the purse, matched Tunney in wits and punches for better than 14 rounds. Tunney won a technical knockout in the fifteenth.

Gibbons, too, was on the down grade when Tunney met him. There had been a mystery about Gibbons' battle with Dempsey. He had stayed 15 rounds with the Mannassa Mauler. Tom stayed 12 rounds with Tunney—a year later.

Now the point is, Tunney proved his superiority over both Gibbons and Carpentier. But so had Dempsey.

Tunney—it's an old, old, story of course—took the title from Dempsey. Regardless of the cause Dempsey was not the Jack Dempsey then that anyone had ever seen in the ring the night he took the first lacing. And yet Tunney didn't knock him out—or even come close to it.

A second fight with Dempsey found the dethroned champ still on his feet—at the end of what totalled 20 rounds for the two fights.

That one return fight with Dempsey is the sum total of Tunney's activities as champion. What then, is there, on which to establish Tunney's status as a fighter? Nothing but one's personal opinion of Dempsey's form—as against his best—and the results Tunney obtained.

Dempsey, before meeting Tunney the second time, met and knocked out Jack Sharkey, then the outstanding challenger aside from Dempsey. It turned out later that Sharkey was a bloomer—as far as being an outstanding fighter among the younger set. He has since been mauled all over the ring by Johnny Risko, Heeney and others.

On the other hand Tunney has met none of these "aspirants" so there is no real chance for a comparison there.

On a cold analytical study of Tunney the average lay fan and expert is ready to give Tunney credit for being a clever, heady, courageous fighter, with a fair punch. To date he has produced a defense that has foiled no less a killer then Dempsey, no less skilful boxers than Tommy Gibbons and Carpentier.

But his career in itself, as compared to that of other champions, has been so short, and so restricted that his exact status is still in doubt. This is said without a desire to detract from whatever greatness he may be entitled to.

To sum it up, the heavyweight champion goes into his next battle an uncertain quantity.

What about Heeney himself?

Olds Club Issues Challenge To Boro

The Olds baseball club challenges the Boro A. C. to a game to be played on the East Side diamond, it is announced this morning by Kilbreath, the manager of the Olds.

Earlier in the season the Boro team defeated the Olds on the Boro field, but when a return game was scheduled on the Buckeye field it is alleged that they failed to appear. Either the Lehigh, Radiator or the Cascade fields are suitable for the Olds.

The manager of the Boro A. C. is asked to call 9005 before six o'clock in the evening and ask for Kilbreath. The Olds would like to schedule the game Saturday.

Twilight League Umps Are Assigned

Louis "Pick" Glitch, commissioner of the Lawrence County Twilight league, today assigned the following umpires to games to be played during the week of July 16:

Monday, July 16—National.
Edenburg vs Company B, Hudson and Zidow.
Ryantown at Italian A. C., McCann and Bryson.
Radiator A. C. at Hillsville, Price and Brooks.

Tuesday, July 17—American.
Slovak A. C. at Mahonington, Foster and Parks.
Wampum at South Hills, Diana.
Clifton Flats at West Pittsburg, Hudson and Zidow.

Thursday, July 19—National.
Edenburg at Radiator A. C., no assignment.
Ryantown at Company B, Hudson and Bryson.
Italian A. C. at Hillsville, Brooks and Price.

Friday, July 20—American.
Slovak A. C. at Clifton Flats, McCann and Foster.
Wampum at Mahonings, Nolte and Parks.
South Hills at West Pittsburg, Price and Brooks.

A game which was postponed May 18 between the South Hills and the Mahoning teams, will be played Wednesday, July 18, at the Mahoning field, Mr. Glitch announces. Diana and Nolte will be the officials.

He doesn't peer in the mirror to discover whether the barber did a good job, just to revel in his newly revealed beauty.

Auto Repairs

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT—In 1½ years of tire repairing I have torn down and rebuilt thousands of tires including every tire on the American market, except one. That one was Mohawk. Naturally, I became curious as to why no Mohawks came my way. And when the inevitable happened and an enthusiastic Mohawk user brought a worn Mohawk into my shop for repair, I discovered the reason. Careful workmanship and the finest cord fabrics and pure rubber available were combined in that Mohawk tire. It was not the makeshift product of a volume production. It contained none of the cost-cutting and mileage reducing compounds and substitutes that I had found in most of the other tires I had repaired. It was a quality tire through and through, built of the strongest fabrics and finest rubber available. My search for the best tire ended when I repaired that Mohawk. I applied for the Mohawk franchise. And I am pleased to announce that I have been appointed distributor for Mohawk quality tires and tubes in New Castle and vicinity. Mohawk's fifteen year reputation for manufacturing nothing but the highest quality products and my own tests of Mohawk construction are your bond of satisfaction. You will find in Mohawk Tires a greater money's worth than you have ever experienced before, no matter what tires you may have used. Try them next time. Pearsall's Tire Service, 324 S. N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—The $64,000,000 decrease in brokers' loans reported after the close of Thursday's market offset in some degree the advance in the New York Reserve bank rediscount rate to 5 per cent, and speculative stocks received good support in the early trading today. After declining 4 points General Motors won back the bulk of its early losses, and rallies were recorded in this period for Radio, Steel Common and other well known stocks.

Another slight improvement in money market conditions was seen in the reduction of rediscounts at the New York bank, permitting a rise in the reserve ratio, that of the whole system increasing from 65.4 per cent to 67.9 per cent of total resources.

Short selling of the market leaders had been in considerable volume since the turn of the week. Good buying turned the trend of prices upward in the second hour, with the popular motor stocks in the lead. Nash Motors, Studebaker, Hudson and General Motors recovered their lost ground in a buoyant movement, in which a number of the automobile accessory stocks participated.

United States Rubber was well bought above 31, up 2 points from the previous close. Railroad stocks were irregular, with New York Central under selling pressure. Stock sales in the first hour aggregated only 540,000 shares, against 700,000 in the first hour on Thursday.

SORDS POINTS

Taylor Douthit Of Cards Returns To Form

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

Young Dingbat, the rookie, often looks like George Oldtimer, the sensation of the Baltimore Orioles, to enthusiastic home town fans and writers, and then goes blooey.

But when a young ball player reminds such a canny old diamondeer as Grover Cleveland Alexander of Tris Speaker in his balmier days, it's something different. Especially if Alex permtis himself to be quoted along those lines.

The young player is Taylor Douthit of the St. Louis Cardinals. Douthit looked like a big shot when he bounded into the big league, but last year fell down in hitting and fielding. Today he is one of the leading gardeners in the National league.

Last winter the St. Louis club almost sent Taylor back to the minors for more seasoning, but it's a good thing they didn't. He has proven a tower of strength in the 1928 campaign and is slamming the sphere at a gait somewhere around .360, which isn't bad at all, at all.

Douthit is leadoff man for the Cards, and a good one, too. He has the happy faculty of being able to get on base, just where the manager wants him when the big bat boys come up for a socking bee.

If the Cards win the pennant it will be in a great measure due to this young man who came to the Cards from the University of California. Douthit was born in in Little Rock, Ark., 27 years ago. After a preliminary training with Fort Smith and St. Joseph, the Cards took him on for keeps.

Accuse Pair Of Highway Robbery

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 13.—Two men were being held for grand jury action here today on highway robbery charges.

The men, Jack Hart, 28, and Harry White, 35, both of Massillon, are accused of holding up Charles Steltz, 46, at Richmond Wednesday and robbing him of $10.

Steltz told police that after the men robbed him they forced him into their automobile and carried him a mile out of Richmond. He phoned police and the two men were traced to Weirton, W. Va., where they were arrested and returned here.

America Turns To Vegetables, Food Men Show

(International News Service)

CHICAFO, July 13.—America is turning vegetarian.

The few he-men, who eat raw meat and others who have not succumbed to the lure of the juicy vegetable, do not go to restaurants for their steaks and chops:

Food fashions are as changeable as clothes fashions:

American husbands have won their war against delicatessen meals:

These are a few facts which may be of interest to epicureans and others and which were revealed at the recent convention of the National Restaurant Association, held at Hotel Sherman.

"Meat eaters constitute less than 25 per cent of restaurant patrons," Myron Green, owner of a chain of cafeterias, said in an address before the convention. "We don't know why, and we don't know how long it will last, but fashions in food are as subject to change as waistlines."

Mr. Green admitted that the temporary state of the nation might influence public appetite.

The public craved sweets when prohibition went into effect and liquor was alleged to be difficult to obtain, he explained. Now, however, Mr. Green declared, the dessert counters at the cafeterias are practically deserted.

Salads with rich dressings came in during the oil scandals and are still popular.

Mr. Green did not suggest that the uncertainty of presidential year might create an appetite for hash and stew, but admitted smilingly that it might be so.

It also appears, according to the testimony of restaurant men, that husbands who complained against delicatessen diet a few years back have won the fight for regulation meals.

They are now taking the wives out to dinner!

First Photograph Together

It was "hello, Joe," "glad to see you, Al," when Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic nominee for the vice-presidency, arrived in Albany and was greeted at the station by Governor Alfred E. Smith, the candidate for President. The above photo was posed while they still chatted on the platform.

This Dog Catcher Is Making Money

CHESTER, Pa., July 13—Harry Milford until recently was a trifle despondent. Last year he was "fired" as city dog catcher, but listen to him now. He was reappointed after thirty-four children and adults had been bitten in recent weeks. By an agreement with the State Bureau of Animal Industry, Milford will get $1 an ear of each dog killed in Chester territory. All canines, either licensed or unlicensed, caught wandering are to be killed.

Milford one night checked up and found he had averaged twenty-two dogs a day, which is $44 or $13,200 a year for 300 working days, considerable more than Mayor S. E. Turner gets, his salary being $3,500.

"I couldn't be elected Mayor of Chester, but who cares?" said he. Milford is afraid of two things—the income tax man and the possible exhauston of dogs. Police, however, report at least 5,000 of all shade, types, breeds and disposition in Chester.

Side Skirmish In Vare-Wilson Election Contest

Wilson Witness Is Arrested On Charge Of Breach Of The Peace

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Although the main engagement in the contest between Senator-elect William S. Vare and his Democratic opponent, William B. Wilson, will not get under way again until next Wednesday when the Waterman Senate committee resumes its hearing here, a fiercely contested side skirmish was being fought out today.

Frederick J. Schadt, a Wilson witness, was arrested yesterday and released under $300 bail after spending several hours in the county prison. Magistrate Edward Conner had Schadt arrested for a breach of the peace. Schadt had circulated a petition for appointment as a registrar and the man with whom he became involved in an altercation first signed the petition and then asked that his name be stricken off, it is reported.

The arrest followed a few hours after Schadt had appeared at the Senate hearing and testified Magistrate Conner had paid the poll-tax receipts of a number of voters who voted in the 1926 senatorial election.

David Wallerstein, chief of counsel for Wilson, characterized the arrest as "an outrage" and an attempt to intimidate witnesses who are to testify at the hearing. He announced he would ask Quarter Sessions court for a writ of certiorari, which would give the court an opportunity to review the charge against Schadt.

Oaths Bring Fines Under Blue Laws

Lewistown Man And Wife Pay 67 Cents Per Oath For Vocabulary

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., July 13.—A law enacted April 22, 1794, was invoked in the office of Justice of the Peace George F. Stackpole here recently when S. W. Stine and his wife were fined on a charge of profanity and taking the Lord's name in vain.

Stine paid a fine of 67 cents per oath for five oaths. His wife paid the same rate for seven oaths. The charges were brought against the couple by William W. Bloom, a neighbor.

In retaliation, the Stines cooperated and had Bloom arrested and brought before Andrew S. Wagner, another justice of the peace. Wagner fined Bloom the same amount for five oaths!

Now both justices are wondering where to turn in the fines.

Leeds Saves Dancer

Adele Astaire, dancer (above), was seriously burned about the body and arms when gasoline seepage in the hull of William B. Leed's speedboat Fan Tail became ignited by backfire and flamed about her. Leeds (below), although himself severely burned, carried Miss Astaire ashore from the boat's berth and rushed her to a physician for treatment.

Crawford County Man Will Buy Old Reservoir To Be Used As Farm

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., July 13.—Crawford county's newest industry is something along the novelty line for this district. A muskrat farm will be opened soon at Bartetown.

E. R. Wasser of Cambridge Springs has purchased an old reservoir there and is now building a dam to form an artificial pond which will be stocked with the animals. Furs will not be taken for three years he said.

CHILD SEEKS TO PROTECT DOGS

Aroused by a series of cruel canine poisonings, little Patricia Houlahan, 8-year-old Seattle, Wash., girl, has organized a junior humane society for the protection of dogs. She has laid down a number of rules for those joining the society, which she believes will make children more kind to animals. Her father's dog, Arnold Von Minkelried, is known throughout the northwest for his many rescues of hunters and hikers lost in the mountain wildernesses.

Hungary Is Sued For Late Telegram Blamed For Death

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, July 13—Because the Hungarian postal authorities delayed for several days a telegram that would have saved his daughter from suicide, Peter Korb, well-known wholesale carpet merchant of Dresden, has sued the Hungarian government for 3,000 marks damages.

Kathe Korb, the daughter, committed suicide before the altar of the church at Baja on Good Friday.

She had been studying in Budapest but her parents had cut off her allowance because, friends say, she had fallen in love with someone the parents disapproved of. Thereupon she wrote her parents that she would kill herself.

Korb immediately telegraphed the pastor of Baja to take care of his daughter, announcing at the same time that he was coming on the next train to take her home. This telegram took several days in transmission. When it arrived, Kathe Korb was dead.

Korb blames the Hungarian government and demands the 3,000 marks to cover funeral expenses and cost of a monument.

This monster plane, exhibited at a Croydon airport, England, air pageant, is said to be the largest in the world. It is all-metal, weighs 14 tons and has a wing span of 150 feet, and is 75 feet long. Inset, one of the plane's giant landing wheels, eight feet high.

Blacksmith Priest Of Gretna Green Facing New Rush

(International News Service)

GRETNA GREEN, England, July 13—Romance still lives, according to R. Rennison, Gretna Green's blacksmith priest. Once the mecca of eloping couples, Gretna Green is regaining popularity.

Mr. Rennison performed five marriage ceremonies at Whitsuntide and three more in the first three days of June.

"The reviving popularity of Gretna Green is due in a great measure to the growth of motor traffic," said Mr. Rennison is discussing his recent activity. "Runaway marriages still take place.

"Since May I have had scores of letters asking for particulars and the fee. The irate guardian still survives. Last week an eloping girl's guardian came in great haste and insisted on seeing the marriage register, which apparently satisfied him.

"Many of the thousands Whitsun visitors saw one of the short marriage services over the anvil. One of the five weddings which took place was that of a Kilmarnock blacksmith. He was the first blacksmith to be married at the forge since the passing of the Marriage Act of 1856."

Mr. "Pussyfoot" Johnson has married, and now he'll know how it feels to have somebody telling you how to live.
